

REAL ASSISTANCE
AT AMERICAN RESIDY

AYS READY RELIEF

REAT EXTERNAL AND IN-TERNAL REMEDY

THE MOST EFFECTIVE IN A FEW MINUTES

ADJUDICATED BY THE PATENT

AYS READY RELIEF

apertly to all other Remedies

ITS FIRST INVENTION

the subject of PATENT, no matter from any origin, or where it may be found in the Head, Face, or Throat

in the Back, Side, or Shoulder

in the Arm, Hand, or Wrist

in the Joint, Limb, or Muscle in the Nerve, Tendon, or Sinus

in the Vein, Artery, or Capillary in the Skin, or any other part of the human system

It is the only remedy

which will cure all the

above named affections

in a few minutes

and is the only one

which will cure all the

above named affections

in a few minutes

and is the only one

which will cure all the

above named affections

in a few minutes

and is the only one

which will cure all the

above named affections

in a few minutes

and is the only one

which will cure all the

above named affections

in a few minutes

and is the only one

which will cure all the

above named affections

in a few minutes

and is the only one

which will cure all the

above named affections

in a few minutes

and is the only one

which will cure all the

above named affections

in a few minutes

and is the only one

which will cure all the

above named affections

in a few minutes

and is the only one

which will cure all the

above named affections

in a few minutes

and is the only one

which will cure all the

above named affections

in a few minutes

and is the only one

which will cure all the

above named affections

in a few minutes

and is the only one

which will cure all the

above named affections

in a few minutes

and is the only one

The St. Andrews Standard.

PUBLISHED BY A. W. SMITH.

V. 132. SAINT ANDREWS, N. B. WEDNESDAY, JAN. 13, 1865.

No 3

MORNING NEWS

FOR 1865

The Publishers of the Morning News have determined to extend the already large circulation of this paper, and to make it as acceptable to the public as possible, by increasing the number of copies to be printed, and by publishing it at a reduced price.

The Weekly Edition for ONE DOLLAR

A YEAR to Single Subscribers, as well as to Clubs.

Desiring also to emphasize the get-up of the paper, we have determined to publish it in a new and improved form, and to make it as acceptable to the public as possible, by increasing the number of copies to be printed, and by publishing it at a reduced price.

To any person sending us a Club of FIFTY subscribers, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

To any person sending us a Club of TWENTY subscribers, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

To any person sending us a Club of TEN subscribers, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

To any person sending us a Club of FIVE subscribers, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

To any person sending us a Club of TWO subscribers, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

To any person sending us a Club of ONE subscriber, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

To any person sending us a Club of FIFTY subscribers, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

To any person sending us a Club of TWENTY subscribers, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

To any person sending us a Club of TEN subscribers, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

To any person sending us a Club of FIVE subscribers, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

To any person sending us a Club of TWO subscribers, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

To any person sending us a Club of ONE subscriber, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

To any person sending us a Club of FIFTY subscribers, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

To any person sending us a Club of TWENTY subscribers, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

To any person sending us a Club of TEN subscribers, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

To any person sending us a Club of FIVE subscribers, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

To any person sending us a Club of TWO subscribers, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

To any person sending us a Club of ONE subscriber, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

To any person sending us a Club of FIFTY subscribers, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

To any person sending us a Club of TWENTY subscribers, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

To any person sending us a Club of TEN subscribers, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

To any person sending us a Club of FIVE subscribers, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

To any person sending us a Club of TWO subscribers, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

To any person sending us a Club of ONE subscriber, we will give an extra copy of the paper to the Club.

Miscellany.

ESTHER MALCOM'S STORY

My father returned home one afternoon, earlier than usual. I was sitting at the window at work, and looked up when I heard the little garden gate opened and then shut with a sharp click.

There was a strange mingling of pleasure and pain in my father's looks; and though he seemed to hurry up the garden path he lingered. I could not make it out.

"You have succeeded better to-day, my dear," said my mother, when he entered the room.

"Yes, Lucy, perhaps," he answered, hesitatingly. "I don't know what to say about that. No; I do not know what I have," he added hastily.

My father was a mercantile clerk in search of employment. A few months before he had been ill, and he feared he would die; but God spared him. When sufficiently recovered to return to business, he found his situation fitted up, and he was cast on his own resources.

His income had been diminished, and the prospects of a dreary winter approaching filled him with natural concern.

Our family was not large. I had been larger; but death had once and again entered it. One brother only and myself were left. Harry was younger than I. He was about sixteen, and had left school just as my father's illness commenced; and he was another victim to our father's anxiety. Harry had been educated for counting-house life; but we had few friends, and he was unemployed.

Let this paper for an explanation; for shall I not further that as a teacher of music to the little girl, I was doing the best I could; and I was as little towards my self-support, further than that, I had no power.

I had not understood you, William," said my mother in rejoinder to my father's comment on my father's information. "But I have you have been with disappointed," he said.

My father did not immediately reply; and we again returned to our usual conversation.

I have had a liberal offer, Lucy," said my father presently. "What appears to be such?" he must ask with you whether I can accept it or not? There was a moment's pause, and then he said, "I am sorry to hear of this, for generally he is cheerful and hopeful."

How can it depend on me? my mother asked. "For how long would you agree to part with me?" said my father.

"To part, William?" and my mother's countenance was filled with anxiety.

"You do not mean, by your going abroad?"

"Even so, my dear. I can, if I please, stay next month for India on business which, as the 'Standard' will take three years, or more, as I said, are liberal; but I shall not go without your consent."

My mother heard in silence she only asked, "Which must you decide, William?" and was told that my father must give his answer to-morrow.

That was a sorrowful evening to all. Before we separated for the night, and when we were by ourselves, I said to my mother, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

Miscellany.

ESTHER MALCOM'S STORY

My father returned home one afternoon, earlier than usual. I was sitting at the window at work, and looked up when I heard the little garden gate opened and then shut with a sharp click.

There was a strange mingling of pleasure and pain in my father's looks; and though he seemed to hurry up the garden path he lingered. I could not make it out.

"You have succeeded better to-day, my dear," said my mother, when he entered the room.

"Yes, Lucy, perhaps," he answered, hesitatingly. "I don't know what to say about that. No; I do not know what I have," he added hastily.

My father was a mercantile clerk in search of employment. A few months before he had been ill, and he feared he would die; but God spared him. When sufficiently recovered to return to business, he found his situation fitted up, and he was cast on his own resources.

His income had been diminished, and the prospects of a dreary winter approaching filled him with natural concern.

Our family was not large. I had been larger; but death had once and again entered it. One brother only and myself were left. Harry was younger than I. He was about sixteen, and had left school just as my father's illness commenced; and he was another victim to our father's anxiety. Harry had been educated for counting-house life; but we had few friends, and he was unemployed.

Let this paper for an explanation; for shall I not further that as a teacher of music to the little girl, I was doing the best I could; and I was as little towards my self-support, further than that, I had no power.

I had not understood you, William," said my mother in rejoinder to my father's comment on my father's information. "But I have you have been with disappointed," he said.

My father did not immediately reply; and we again returned to our usual conversation.

I have had a liberal offer, Lucy," said my father presently. "What appears to be such?" he must ask with you whether I can accept it or not? There was a moment's pause, and then he said, "I am sorry to hear of this, for generally he is cheerful and hopeful."

How can it depend on me? my mother asked. "For how long would you agree to part with me?" said my father.

"To part, William?" and my mother's countenance was filled with anxiety.

"You do not mean, by your going abroad?"

"Even so, my dear. I can, if I please, stay next month for India on business which, as the 'Standard' will take three years, or more, as I said, are liberal; but I shall not go without your consent."

My mother heard in silence she only asked, "Which must you decide, William?" and was told that my father must give his answer to-morrow.

That was a sorrowful evening to all. Before we separated for the night, and when we were by ourselves, I said to my mother, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she said, "I will not let father go, will you?"

"I will not," said my mother, and then she