Capt. Walbran Locates a Dangerous Rock An Interesting Chief and His Unique Monument - Loyalty and Religion -Superintendent Hussey and Twelve Constables Arrive Back.

From the short account that appeared in yesterday's paper the readers of the Times would know the Dominion steamer Quadra arrived at Nanaimo yesrday afternoon from the successful exlition northwards with the provincial The steamer arrived in Victoria at noon to-day. The police party, in charge of Superintendent Hussey, numbered 12 constables, several being specials, and Dr. Duncan was in medical

The voyage north occupied four days,

Captain Walbran reporting the weather bad as he had ever seen it in the thern waters. Snow fell thick and fast for two days, at times completely obscuring the land, necessitating the greatest caution in proceeding. Tolmic Channel, Graham Reach and Grenville Channel were mere names to the travel-Channel were mere names to the travelers northwards, as the snow in these channels fell so thick that very little else than the loom of the land could be seen. The Quadra anchored off Kitkatlah at 9 a.m. on the 3rd inst. firing a big gun as she did so, which was immediately answered by two guns from the village. Mr. Todd, Indian agent for the district, who was in the harbor on his little steamer Viligant, and the Rev. F. Stephenson, Church of England missionary, residing here, came off to the ship at once and reported that all was then ary, residing here, came off to the ship at once and reported that all was then quiet, no strange Indians having been seen near the village for five days. Previous to this it appears the place had been somewhat in a state of siege by supposed Bella Coolas, Oweekaynos and members of other tribes, who having we do not wish to fight; we are Christians and the composition of the supposed murdered ones as we have done? members of other tribes, who having meen told the Kitkatlahs was respon-ible for the death of their friends who left Rivers Inlet last autumn in a canoe, ere desirous of avenging themselves on e supposed murderers. Kitkatlah vilage had been for weeks in a state of error, all work at a standstill, as the dians dare not leave the village to blow their usual occupations, seal huntng and fishing, as armed strangers had been seen prowling around. A watch was kept all night and armed scouts surrounded the village continually on the lookout for the attacking party whose forms were seen now and again in the oush. Shots were fired on both sides, he Kitkatlahs using an old Hudson's Bay cannon, which, loaded with 40 musket balls, was fired one night at the belegers seen to be prowling around. Shortly after anchoring, Mr. Hussey his armed followers landed in the Quadra's boats and a long consultation was held in the house of the chief of the tribe named Shakes, when evidence was taken by Mr. Hussey, Mr. Stephenson being the interpreter, from several of the Kitkatlahs, who reported what has eral armed parties guided by Indians went out into the bush to ascertain if any of the attacking Indians had left traces behind. Footsteps were seen in many places, but nothing else, though the bush was carefully searched for some distance around the village. The result of the conference was that Mr. en stated. During the afternoon sevresult of the conference was that Mr. Todd, Mr. Stephenson and 15 Indians should be taken in the Quadra to the Kimsquit, Bella Coola and Oweekayno villages and there under the protection of the law "have it out" with these aggrieved Indians and thus prove that the Kitkatlahs were not only innocent, but injured people. Kitkatlah was found to be an interesting village; one of the most con-spicuous objects is the granite monu-ment which old Shakes has erected to his own memory. It consists of a square pedestal, upon this is carved a clutching the top of this column is another small bear looking down on the beholder. The eyes of the larger bear are made of glass let into the stone. The front of the pedestal has this inscription, Mr. Shakes, great chief of the Kitkatlahs. Right side, Whackvite, second brother. Negroomsayin third second brother Neas-comservin, third brother. Left side, Qunnocknock, oldest brother of the chief Mouse Sister. The monument is surrounded with an iron railing; stretched between two wooden posts supported by the front railing was a large piece of calico with the followng loyal inscription in large Roman characters: "God save the Queen and the government. God bless our bishop and pre-serve his people who trust in him. Praise God for his help. Welcome to deliverers!

It was largely a matter of surmise amongst the members of the expedition whether this last sentence alluded to Superintendent Hussey and his gallant band or not! Kitkatlah has its totem poles like other villages in the north; these heraldic symbols are scattered all over the place. Two poles attracted the most attention, one of these had on the top two human figures clasped close together, with tall hats on. This was at once named the twins. The other had an old jack tar seated on the top dressed in the garb of 100 years ago. Mr. Shakes on being questioned about this latter totem said it was very old and indeed from its gray lichen-grown appearance fully warranted the age assigned to it 100 years. appearance fully warranted the age assigned to it, 100 years.

On the 4th the Quadra left Kitkatlah with the little Vigilant in tow as arranged, and that night anchored in Carer Bay. This bay was so named by Vancouver, from a seaman of the Discovery named John Carter, whose death burial took place here in June,
He died from eating poisonous mussels gathered at Poison Cove. The mussels, however, were said to have been gathered on the sand and not on he rocks. The next morning the voyage was resumed under most satisfactory conditions as regards the weather, and the anchor was let go off Bella Bella at noon. Here the Vigilant was left and Mr. Todd and Rev. G. Hopkins joined the Ouadra when the proceedings. the Quadra, when she proceeded on her way for Kimsquit at 2 p.m. Having some hours to spare, Port John being the next intended stopping place for the hight, Captain Walbran anchored the Quadra near Turn Point, Lama passg for Lama passage from the south. he report and position of the rock will once be sent to the department of arine at Ottawa and it will be placed on the chart as soon as possible. The Quadra anchored at Port John about 6 o'clock. At noon of the 6th the ship arrived at Kimsquit village at the head of Dean canal. The water here is very deep and it was not until the shore

THE QUADRA IN PORT AGAIN had been approached very close and after repeated soundings that the anchor was let go in 45 fathoms of water. This was one of the finest days of the trip, the sun shining bright, clear and warm, and the stupendous mountaints around their supendous mountaints. warm, and the stupendous mountains around, their summits glistening with snow, were seen in all their rugged majesty. In the afternoon Mr. Hussey and party landed at Kimsquit village in three boats, and the Kitkatlahs, brought by the Quadra, had a most satisfactory conference with the villagers, when they proved to the letter there were invested. proved to the latter they were innocent of the charges laid against them regarding the lost ones, and a general hand-shaking closed the proceedings. Capt. John, one of the Kimsquit chiefs, placed his house at the disposal of the police party for the "pow-wow," and here one of the Kitkatlahs showed himself a first-class orator. The chief points of his speech are worth recording as a specimen of what an Indian can do in that way after being brought to think for himself and put those thoughts into speech. When the last speaker, who was a Kimsquit, had finished, this man arose and said in Chinook, which was ably interpreted by the Rev. G. Hop-

"I am sorry to see the evident distrust with which the last speaker has closed his remarks and hope the explanation given of how some members of our tribe was in the neighborhood of where is friends were lost will show that we had nothing to do with their untimely

After making comments on various matters which the Indians had discussed and which remarks were dealt upon in a lucid manner the speaker closed

We do not wish to fight; we are Christians and know it is wrong to do so, though we are well armed when at home and able to defend ourselves and families. All we want is that this unfortunate affair should be brought to a satisfactory understanding and that we may go about our work without suspecting a foe to be lurking in every bush. We are just as anxious to know the real cause of the death of the lost ones as any of their greatest friends."

The village of Kimsquit is situated at the head of Dean Channel, one of the the head of Dean Channel, one of the many channels first examined by Vancouver or his officers and has not, like several others in the neighborhood, been further surveyed. The greatest cau-tion was exercised by Captain Walbran on approaching this anchorage. The village is on the side of a small river and should certainly not be visited by persons at all susceptible to odors of a very unsavory kind, the inhabitants having apparently never given the slightest thought to sanitary arrangements of any kind.

The next morning, April 7th, the Quadra soon travelled the distance from here to Bella Coola, the next stopping the river to the village, which is situated at a distance of about a mile from the mouth. It was down this river that Alexander Mackenzie and his party travelled the last stage of their long overland journey from the Canada of those days, and at 8 o'clock on the morning of the 20th of July, 1793, nearly 100 years ago, found themselves afloat on the tide waters of the Pacific. Their object was attained at last. Shortly after landing a meeting was arranged between the Kitkatlahs and the Bella Coolas, when the same satisfactory and amicable understanding was arrived at between the two tribes as at Kimsquit. between the two tribes as at Kimsquit bear seated upon its hind quarters, supporting a column about 12 feet high; low the village, is erected a marble monument to the memory of one of the Indistance and has the appearance of being a very rich, loamy soil. Large quantities of potatoes and of a capital quality are grown here by the natives. Mr. Clayton of Bella Bella has a small ranch here with horses and cows upon it giving the place quite an agricultural it, giving the place quite an agricultural

On Sunday, April 9th, the steamer left Safety Cove for Lanz island, one of the Cape Scott group, but a gale setting in from the southeast soon after entering Queen Charlotte Sound and a heavy sea rising, the Indians reported no landing on the island to-day, so the course was altered for Sorrow Island, where in Grief Bay the Quadra anchored about 9 a. m. The course for Port Alexander, so as to be ready to make an early start in the morning for Lanz island, should wind and sea be favorable for landing there. Divine service was held in the saloon this evening, both clergymen officiating. The congregation was a large one, there being a total number on board of 57

Monday morning was fine and clear, and after a smart run of 40 miles the ship anchored off Lanz Is:and at 10 a.m. Landing here was effected with great difficulty on account of the surf, but enough of the party did so sufficient to inspect the different spots pointed out by the Kitkatlahs as where they had camped when here about the time the cance was lost. Their story as told canoe was lost. Their story as told from the first was corroborated by the remains of the fires, being as they had stated, and evidently lit for camping purposes and not signal fires as the Oweekaynos and others said they were. At 1 p.m. the Quadra sailed and cross-ing Queen Charlotte Sound with a fresh gale from S SE, anchored in Namu har-bor for the night. Whilst lying in Quadra near Turn Point, Lama passage, to search for the dangerous rock reported to be off there. In a short time the rock was found and its position exactly ascertained. The rock is a mere pinnacle, being of very small extent, and at low water spring tides has not more than 12 feet of water over it. The rock bears from Turn Point NW by W 1-2 W 42-3 cables distant, and is directly in the fairway for vessels making for Lama passage from the south. The report and position of the rock will such a short time and much amusement was occasioned by the acting, especially where the medicine doctor draws the conclusion arrived at was that the charge of disaster and murder by the Kitkatlahs was a false and malicious Kitkatlahs was a false and malicious rumor, spread around amongst the Indian tribes hereabouts by evil disposed persons. The canoe and its occupants have been lost most probably through the perils of the sea combined with bad management caused by intoxication as, when leaving Rivers Inlet on this fatal expedition to hunt sea lions on the Sea Otter Rocks many of the occupants were known to have not only been indulging in fire water, but had a quantity of it with them in the canoe. In the address to the Indians at Bella Bella both Superintendent Hussey and Mr. Todd strongly warned them that, if any more of these rumors that nad no truth in them were spread around respecting this disaster enquired into, respecting this disaster enquired into, or any other that might occur, the Government would deal most severely with the offenders. The Kitkatlahs were unfortunate enough to be in or near the spot when the canoe was lost, and on that slender basis the rumors were founded and like all rumors increased in proportion as they circulated.

A furious gale from SE and very high sea was encountered yesterday in the Gulf of Georgia, the weather was so bad that with the object of escaping the gale and also landing Chief of Police O'Connell of Nanaimo and others of the party taken on at that place the Quadra anchored there yesterday afternoon.

The distance made by the Quadra on her cruise has been 1512 miles, Queen Charlotte Sound being crossed seven times. The largest number of people times. The largest number of people on the Quadra at any one time, crew, police party and Indians, being 57 per-

A Terrible Warning. The possibility of the hoop skirt coming again in vogue causes the Electrical Review to sound forth the following terrible warning: "It is a well known fact that any metallic wire if brought near another wire carrying a current of electricity will have a current induced in it. In a crinoline there is a considerable amount of wire, and it naturally follows that if the wearer comes near an electric light circuit a charge will be induced around her and the hoop-skirt will become a living, seething mass of wriggling, sparkling electricity, and no one dare imagine what might become of the poor unfortunate within. If she has the sangfroid to come in the neighborhood of an electric light there is no telling the frightful consequences that might arise. The reason why the ancient dames who donned the crinolines were not ruthlessly slaughtered by the thousands is because there was no electricity lying around loose in those days.'

They will remember how in January, 1892, Mr. Knox was stricken down with la grippe, how from a man of about 185 pounds he fell away in flesh in a few short weeks until he was a more skelashort weeks until he was a mere skeleton of his former self, weighing only 120 pounds; how he was racked with the most excruciating pain; how he longed for death to relieve him of his surrering; how he consulted doctors near and far, and how they failed to successfully diagnose his case. In fact they confessed their ignorance of his malady and said he could not recover. But so much for the profession. Mr. Knox is alive to-day. He has recovered his wonted vigor and weighs 180 pounds, wonted vigor and weighs 180 pounds, and his many friends in Norwood look upon him in wonder. Of course Mr. Knox is questioned on every hand about his recovery, as to what magic influence he owes his increase in itesh, and his answer to each interrogation is "Dr. William's Pink Pills did it," and he is never too busy to extol the merits of his now world famous remedy. This is what he said to a reporter of the Norwood Register the other day when asked about his illness and wonderful cure:—"I will tell you all about it. In January, 1892, I had la grippe, which cure:—"I will tell you all about it. In January, 1892, I had la grippe, which was prevalent at that time. It settled into pains in the calves of my legs. I was drawing lumber at the time and thought it was caused by sitting on the load and allowing my legs to hang down. I consulted a doctor in the matter, who told me it was rheumatism. He treated me, but did me no good but I kept getting worse daily. Altogether I have had seven doctors in attendance but none of them seemed to know what my ailment was. Some said it was

I will just say this: at the end of that time some narcotic administered made me doze for a couple of hours, and that was all the relief I received from the disciples of Esculapius. They said that I could not recover, and really I had given up hope myself. My pain was so intense I wanted to die to be relieved of my suffering. From a weight of 184 pounds I had dropped to 120. They remained in the house perhaps a couple of weeks before I commenced taking them, and then I must confess I had not much faith in their efficacy. Before I had finished taking the first box I felt a little better, and when I had taken two boxes I was convinced that the Pink Pills were doing me good; in fact that they were doing for me what seven doc-tors had failed to do—they were effecta cure. I felt so much better after having taken three boxes of Pink Pills that I ceased taking them, but I had not fully recovered and had to resume, and I then continued taking them until now I am as hale a man as you will not prove the continued taking them until now I am as hale a man as you will not prove the dealers translated to the continued taking them until now I am as hale a man as you will not prove the continued taking them. meet in a day's travel. I am positive that this happy result has been brought about by the use of Dr. William's Pink Pills. I recommend them to my neighbors and my friends as I am thoroughly convinced of their great curative properties. There is a case a short distance from my place of a man, who has been a cripple for some time, recovering after taking 8 boxes of Pink Pills. In December last I could only manage to lift a bag of oats, now I can toss a bag of peas unto a load with ease. Isn't that gaining strength? At one period since I began taking Pink Pills I gained 30 pounds in six weeks. Today I feel as well as ever I did in my life. I have been skidding logs in the bush all winter and can do a day's work with any of them. I believe it my duty to say a good word for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills whenever I can." THE BELGIAN RIOTERS.

Fierce Conflict Between the Mob and the Gendarmerie.

Bryssels, April 13.—There was a large and excited mob around the chamber of representatives to-day when the session was resumed. Many of the more turbulent of the mob were arrested. While ex-Minister Woeste was eturning home from the chamber a man attacked him, striking him violently on the chin with his fist. The man tried to escape but was soon caught, after trying to draw a revolver on his pursuers. There was a savage encounter between the strikers and the gendarmes this evening in the town of Quaregdon, four miles from Mons. Three thousand strikers had raised a barricade in the Rue Monsyille to prevent the gendarmes Rue Monsville to prevent the gendarmes from patrolling their beats. The gen-darmes promptly charged the mob, and one gendarme, who was knocked off his one gendarme, who was knocked off his horse, was savagely treated by the mob. Several other gendarmes were seriously injured. The rioters afterwards sacked the shop of a butcher who had supplied the gendarmes with ropes with which to bind the rioters who had been arrested. The town of Paturage, near Mons, was also the scene of an encounter between the strikers and the gendarmes. darmes.

Among the persons arrested in Brussels this evening are the Socialist leaders Volders, Vanderveld and Mase Maes. They were arrested while inciting the rioters to further violence. It is reported that Anarchists distributed eart-ridges among the growd. The civil

The Corean Troubles.

Washington City, April 13.—Secretary Gresham said yesterday afternoon that the action of this government in directing Admiral Harmon to send a war vessel to Corea had been taken simply as a precautionary measure. No trouble had occurred, he said, but the Christians in Corea had been threatened, and it was to avert possible bloodshed that the United States had sent an armed ship to that country. It is believed at the State Department that the trouble originated through the ma-The Corean Troubles. the trouble originated through the ma-chinations of native priests. Trouble of a similar nature has been frequent in China and the outbreaks there against missionaries have made the adinistration see the necessity for quick action in preventing any semblance of an uprising against the whites. While the information furnished the state department by its representatives in Seoul did not represent that any outbreak had occurred, but merely stated that an uprising was feared, Secretary Gresham lost no time in seeing that the protection asked for should be furnished. He applied to Secretary Harbert for a chiral state of the secretary Harbert for a chiral secretary secretary Harbert for a chiral secretary se

WONDERFUL CAICEDO.

He Wears High Boot Heels and Spurs on the Tight Wire. The one especial thing in its line that seems to be most pleasing vaudeville audiences in London just now is the performance of Caicedo, the tight-wire dancer. Tight-rope walkers there are galore, and clever enough and their achievements are great, but of tight-wire performers there are none save Caicedo. Even on the tight rope and slack wire, which Caicedo smiles at as well enough for amateurs, his feats are hardly duplicated. His wire is a mere thread, invisible when stationary, except from very near the stage, and wholly so even :0 Caicedo when vibrating, as it is most of the time. It is stretched tightly as a fiddlestring some ten feet above the stage. On this he performs all the ordinary nary feats of the ordinary performer. Dressed in tights and carrying a balancing pole he walks backward and forward dances, leaps and turns somersquits. But all this is preliminary. Later he dons a military uniform and heavy riding boots, with high heels and immense spurs, does all the feats over again, and over again, and adds others that are sim.

He marches across the wire with giant strides, bounding in the air three cr force feet at a step. He jumps away up in the air, coming down first on one foot and then on the other. Then he makes prodigious leaps—seven, eight feet and more—into the air, and lands lightly with both feet on the wire. A peculiar thing is that as soon as he lands on the wire it stops dead, and he stands as if he knew of Mr. Knox's case, and that that gentleman ascribed his cure to the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

"Yes," replied the doctor, "I have been talking to Mr. Knox and his is certainly a most remarkable cure. But speaking of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills reminds me of the wonderful sale they are having in and about Norwood. I buy a hundred dollars' worth at a time and my orders are not few. I sell more Pink Pills than any other medicine and always hear good reports of them." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a perfect blood builder and nerve restorer, curing such diseases as rheumatism, neuralgia, soled, high-hèeled, spur's riding boots soled, high-heeled, spur ed riding boots on his feet. The boots have been inves tigated and found to be just the ordinary kind.

Caicedo is a South American, born in Popayan, Colombia. He has spent all his life in the circus ring, and was an expert fancy rider and aerobat before he tried the tight wire. He practised four hours a day for nine years before he could do his feats, and all the time folks said he would never succeed. After three years' practice he continually fell from the wire, and after five he could just walk and dance with a balancing pole. He does not know now how he preserves his balance, or manages to come down just where the wire is. He does so unconsciously. He says, is. He does so unconsciously. He says, and truly, he cannot see the wire. No one can, for it vibrates like a harp string. He says he sees with his feet. Just now he is making $200 a week and a reputation that will be worth very much more soon-unless every one's expectations are realized and he breaks his neck.
