Canada's Resources

The Toronto Globe points out that "from Winnipeg to Edmonton is about ern railway between these two points, grain-shipping station at all but two of will approximate 150,000.

"The size of the region lying north of the Saskatchewan river is still less comprehended. From the international boundary to Edmonton is 312 miles, but from Edmonton to the mouth of the Mackenzie river in an air line is over 1,300 miles, about four times the distance from Toronto to Montreal. "North from Edmonton about 400 miles as one travels by the rivers is years successfully. North from here down the Peace river to the Slave river and then down the Mackenzie river (which in this part might be navigated by large ocean steamships), is Fort Good Hope, which is just outside the Arctic circle. At this place-1,200 miles farther north than Winnipeg-excellent potatoes, cabbages and onions are grown.

"From Prince Albert on the North Saskatchewan (which is about 300 miles north of the international boundary), north 150 miles is Lac la Rouge, where there has been a Hudson Bay post and a Church of England mission for many years. Wheat has been grown success fully there for a number of years in succession, as well as all the ordinary garden vegetables. In the country 100 miles north of Lake Winnipeg and the North Saskatchewan, which the proposed railroad to Hudson Bay traverse, there is a great clay belt like that through which the Grand Trunk to contain at least 10,000 square miles where all ordinary vegetables and har-

The gas came in such force as to stop the operations and this gas well, the largest known in the world, has been burning continuously ever since. Up and down the Athabasca, above and below this point are remarkable deposits of tar sands would furnish paving material in abun dance. annos, Englishmen are beginning to take in that great Dominion of ours which stretches from the Atlantic to the Pacific. He goes not only as the representative of King Edward, but as the visible embediment of the deer binds the Mother Country to her daughter-land. Only since the dawn of this century have we at all adequately realized the immense importance stupendous possibilities of the which Canada must play in the future history of the Empire. With her huge area, thirty times as large as that of among other trifles, the biggest wheat sand square miles in size her boundless rich soil and her magnificent and tembrighter than those of any other country in the world. All that she wants is men, and above all, Englishmen. And there is plenty of room. She has three controls about thirteen thousand miles of railroad tracks, and is adding every year the length of iron road between London and Edinburgh, so that it is continually becoming easier for the manufacturer and farmer to send their goods to market. The thousands of Englishmen who will be attracted Quebec by the celebrations, there to French and English Canadians which is one of the brightest features of our rule in the Dominion, will be able to travel in real comfort from Liverpo
