Tomorrow is St. Valentine's Day but interest in the love-fest occasion has seemingly died out greatly; at least in St. John. ## CHURCH DOOR FORCED.

The Door Leading to Trinity Church Vestry

Found Broken Open on Saturday Night.

Lemont Thorne, the sexton of Trinity church, was considerably surprised on Saturday night when, about nine o'clock, he found the door leading from the driveway on the south side of the church to the vestry open. He at once notified the rector and Deputy Chief Jenkins. The rector said that nothing had been disturbed, no one was found in the church, but still the door was open and had undoubtedly been forced from the outside as the catch that holds the bolt of the spring lock was found to be out of place. There were also some boot marks on the heavy door.

The fact that the door had been forced by kicking, no tools being used, and that nothing had been disturbed, leads the police to believe that the party who forced the door was intent on finding some warm place to sleep in and was probably frightened away by the unexpected arrival of the sexton.

Seven years ago the vestry was entered, the safe cracked and considerable articles of value stolen. Some days ago St. John (Stone) church vestry was entered and a cash box containing bonds to a considerable value and some $40 stolen. The box and bonds were found later on Pond street and returned to the owner.

U. S. CONSUL MYERS.

Can Do Nothing for Munro as He is Not an American Citizen.

George Munro, a bright respectable young man of 19 years, was forced to call at the central police station last night for protection and food.

Munro is an Islander by birth, but lives with his people at New Rochelle, N. Y. While working on a ship at St. Andrews he had the misfortune to break his arm. He was sent to the hospital in this city from which he was discharged a few days ago. The doctor cautioned him not to use his arm for some time. Munro had but little money and he sent to his people from whom he expects to hear in a few days. He went to the Salvation Army Home, where he stayed till his money was all gone, and left there yesterday morning after breakfast. He had nothing to eat all day yesterday and was compelled to go to the police station.

Munro has not been accustomed to such hard times, and should be assisted in some way, he thinks he would be able to get to Boston. If he could get there he thinks he would be all right. The Star saw U. S. Consul Myers this morning and he said he could do nothing for Munro, as he was not an American seaman. He had heard nothing about the matter officially, but according to the Sun's report Munro is an Islander by birth and he can do nothing for him.

NEWMAN'S BROOK BRIDGE

Has Collapsed. Due to Heavy Teams Taking it at a Gallop.

The iron bridge over Newman's Brook, Adelaide street, has collapsed. It has not as yet fallen into the gully, but is unsurpassable. The girders are bent and broken, one of the arches has snapped, and the bridge is a bad wreck. The bridge first gave indications of weakness yesterday morning, when it was noticed that the central arch was twisted. Then one side sagged so that the central arch broke.

By four o'clock the passage of teams was highly dangerous and the police were notified. They immediately closed the bridge.

The people in the vicinity of the bridge say the danger is not over. For nearly a decade it has been raved over by loaded carry-alls, buckboards, milk wagons, private conveyances.

Some of the tons and tons of lime-laden slovens, requiring two and three horses to haul them. Both going and coming, these teams "broke" the bridge.

The opening of the door of the Newman's Brook bridge, despite the warning to "walk your horse." The bridge was a strong, modern structure, but has doubtless given way under ten years of terrible strain.

A meeting of the board of works will be held this afternoon to decide what action is to be taken to accommodate the public.

A BIT OF THE 24 INCH MAIN.

The Star has a good sized fragment of the twenty-four inch main which burst last week near Fernhill cemetery. Judging from the fragment the main is in a remarkable state of preservation. It was placed underground forty-seven years ago, and has not lost a thirty-second of an inch of its thickness, which was originally seven-eighths of an inch. The corrosion on the interior is only about a quarter of an inch. The pipe connections are also well preserved and there is not an appearance of decay on them.

BOY BITTEN BY A DOG.

Young Lad On An Errand Entered a House and Was Attacked.

Mrs. Gilbert, of Harding street, has a pet dog that sometimes looks like three dogs and sometimes like a bull dog. At least that was about the only inference that could be drawn from some of the evidence given in the police court this morning when a lad named Roy Carvell complained that he had been bitten by a dog while on an errand to Mrs. Gilbert's house. He had been employed by George Dick, coal merchant. Mrs. Gilbert had purchased a load of coal from Mr. Dick, the driver could not make the change and the lad was sent with the change from the office. Upon entering the house he says he was attacked by three large dogs, he believed they were bull dogs. The little fellow limped considerably and has been using a cane to assist him in getting around.

A man who boards with Mrs. Gilbert says that lady is too ill to appear in court. He explained that the animal in question was a pet house dog eleven years old. The opening of the door by the lad without knocking made a noise that caused the dog to attack him. Mrs. Gilbert and he at once removed the dog.

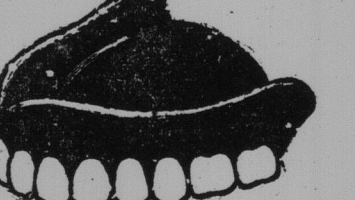

His honor said that if the dog was a fierce one and Mrs. Gilbert allowed it to go unmuzzled she would be liable to a fine of twenty dollars. And here the case stands for further developments.

THE WATER MAIN.

Polly Morprian will take the big car "Nival" at Victoria Hink on Friday evening next and go for a two hour and a half spin around the ice to the music of the Vic's own band. They will attend the ball as they are, no doubt, in the push and bent on pleasure. If you are not in the push you can take in the car "Nival" and watch the others pushing the ball. Round trip tickets will be sold at the rink and the principal drug stores.

The Y. M. A. of St. Mary's church, in connection with the Boys' Brigade band will give what promises to be a very interesting concert in the church school house tomorrow night.
