SENTENCED TO JAIL FOR THREE MONTHS

Editor of Le Nationaliste Convicted of Contempt of Court.

QUEBEC, June 12.—Three months in jail for contempt of court was the sentence meted out today by Judge Langier to Henri Fournier, editor of Le Nationaliste of Montreal. The paper some weeks ago published an article somewhat scathingly denouncing the administration of justice in the district of Montreal in connection with a number of cases, mentioning the judges by name whom it considered had not done their duty. Fournier was cited to appear before Judge Langier on the above sentence. Le Nationaliste is the organ of the Bourassa party and has been in hot water before.

DIRECTOR MURDOCH WILL BE ON HAND

It is said He has something to say to the Aldermen Today

Director Murdoch will in all likelihood be present at this afternoon's meeting of the Water and Sewerage Board. It was stated last night that the city engineer will be able to return to his duties today, as his presence at the meeting is somewhat urgently required.

WHERE THERE IS NO DEFICIT.
 LIVERPOOL, June 12.—The preliminary budget statement of the Isle of Man shows that last year's surplus of revenue over expenditure was $22,535.

ALBERT COUNTY HAS BIG DOCKET

Doubtful if Business Can be Finished in Time for Supreme Court

HOPEWELL HILL, N. B., June 12.—The June session of the Albert County court opens at Hopewell Hill on Tuesday with Judge Wedderburn presiding. There is an unusually large docket, it being doubtful should all the cases come to trial if the business can be finished before the date of the supreme court in the following week. Besides the civil docket, there are two criminal cases which will probably occupy considerable time, and which are expected to excite a good deal of interest. These are that of ex-Police Magistrate B. W. Stewart, who as road superintendent is charged with the wrongful use of public money, and the case against Superintendent Magistrate B. F. Peck for retaining arrest in the Stuart case a true bill was found at the last session of the county court, the case going over until the June term.

It is claimed that the defendant when rule superintendent used road money in assisting in building an abode on the S. and H. Railway, contrary to law, the defence claiming that the building was done to assist in protecting the highway and was fully authorized. Stuart was sent up for trial by Stipendiary Peck, and the latter reserved his committal from Mr. Stuart, who is still a justice of the peace. The appeal in the case of Stipendiary Peck, who was sentenced to jail for two months for assault, also comes up before Judge Wedderburn.

BACKWOODS DENTISTRY.

When a prospector has a bad toothache in the north country his plight is serious indeed. F. A. MacIntosh, one of the discoverers of the celebrated Bartlett mine at Gowanda, tells of a man he encountered with a bad toothache in a tent at Lost Lake portage. The poor fellow was howling with pain and had his partner to try and shove the tooth out of its socket with the handle of a knife. MacIntosh set himself to work and in a few minutes he had plunged it down upon the nerve. There was the "smell of roasting flesh," but the prospector never gave a sign of the pain he was suffering. The nerve was killed and the prospector secured relief, though it was accomplished in the crude and heroic manner described.

DROWNED IN A SWIMMING BATH

CONVOYS WITNESS A GREAT SPECTACLE

PORTSMOUTH, June 12.—The delegates to the Imperial Press Conference, who are spending the day here as the guests of the admiralty, have witnessed a naval spectacle that represents a concentration of sea power unparalleled in the history of the world. Stretched out in seven lines in far-reaching roadstead and extending from Gosport Road to the sea forts guarding the entrance to Spithead, the visitors saw the "war head" of the British navy, that is to say that section of the fleet which always is fully manned and equipped in readiness for instant action. Of the 144 ships estimated to be worth all told something like $4,500,000,000 that had assembled for today's manoeuvres not a single one had been especially commissioned for the occasion. Among the 24 battleships were seven Dreadnoughts, while supporting these lines of capital ships lay 24 cruisers, thirteen scouts and auxiliaries, forty-eight torpedo boat destroyers and thirty-five submarines. Had they been placed end to end they would have formed a double line eight miles long. All the vessels were dressed with thousands of flags and with the crews on deck manning ship and the bands playing, the scene was full of animation and color.

I. R. C. WILL BOOM LOCAL INDUSTRIES ALONG ITS LINE

M. J. Butler, Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals, is in the city for the purpose of presiding at the meeting of the Intercolonial commission to be held here today.

In discussing the railway Mr. Butler announced the formation of a new branch to the traffic department in the known as that of "business opportunities." This branch of the service is to be under the direct control of Mr. Tiffin and will be operated for the purpose of increasing the sources of better class of freight.

The several cities and towns touched by the road will be asked through the Boards of Trade and Municipal Councils to furnish the department with a statement of the resources of each. These will be edited at Ottawa and circulated among the various resources. The result can only tend to hasten the development of countless centres that only await at the present time the attention of capitalists.

Mr. Butler believes that extension of the road is to be worked out in bettering the class of freight carried and so adding enormously to the returns to the company. He thinks that the department is in a position to publish to most advantage and with better hope of immediate return the results of the Maritime Provinces than purely local organizations. He intends to put his creed to the test and in the practice he is receiving the hearty support of all concerned in the scheme.

Referring to the running of Sunday trains, Mr. Butler stated that the provinces were evidently not ripe yet for the seven day service. He believed, however, that the time would come in their development when a radical change in present schedules will have to be made. In the meantime, said Mr. Butler, the C. P. R. will not be allowed to run its Sunday trains further than this city.

In the matter of the double tracking to proceed with the work at present. Mr. Butler mentioned two important changes in the railroad schedule, which will take effect on June 27. The maritime express will leave St. John three hours and forty-five minutes earlier than at present, consequently the express will arrive in the city at 11 a. m.

An extension will also be granted on the train service for the convenience of passengers. The night express from Halifax to New Glasgow will be continued to Sydney, St. John and Montreal will thus secure direct communication with Sydney, everyday, while the local mails will arrive in Cape Breton twelve hours earlier than at present.

Mr. Butler said that in general throughout their trip of inspection, the commissioners found the roadways and rolling stock in good condition. On all sections work was being pushed forward as rapidly as possible.

FIRE SITUATION IS VASTLY IMPROVED

Heavy Rains Help to Extinguish Flames in Several Districts.

The heavy rains Saturday night completely drenched the woods near Westfield and put out the fire.

About 5.30 Saturday afternoon a blast belonging to G. R. Willet, near Englewood, in which was stored farm machinery, etc., was burned to the ground. The loss is estimated at $200, with no insurance, and the origin of the flames unknown.

At Fredericton Junction there were only a few scattered showers, but they helped subdue the flames.

The storm seems to have been universal along the line of the N. E. Southern Railway and all fires in that direction are reported out.

Around Hartland the looked-for rain has not come, and while the fires are dormant on account of the calm atmosphere they still demand attention from scores of men who work in shifts of 8 hours each.

Reports state that the flames are pretty well under control and there is likelihood of getting them stamped out, unless the wind springs up again today. Charles is the centre of the fire and it was only after hard fighting that Shaw's saw mill was saved.

The fire has not yet reached the New River limits of P. E. Sayre and Co., but it is said that should the wind shift to the west these limits will probably suffer.

Dutch Caps for American Kidlets.

IN HONOR OF WILHELMINA'S BABY MOTHERS ARE MAKING STARCHED AND FLARING HEADGEAR FOR THEIR CHILDREN

A dainty Dutch cap has just reached the United States and our small little crown princess. It is a charming compromise between the cap worn by the royal baby and the Volendam cap worn by Dutch matrons.

The Dutch cap is fashioned of strips of linen spun and embroidered by the thrifty mothers and joined with exquisite lace knitted or crocheted by the same loving hands.

Before it is worn it is starched very stiffly with Mrs. Pike's Starch. It is the sweetest frame you ever saw for the little faces.

Would you like to make a Dutch cap for your little girl? This is how it may be done. The strips of linen and insertion are 18 inches long, with 20 inches of lace to edge the front. When 1 1/2 inches of the back, place a nine-inch drawstring across the center back and your little cap is complete.

E. J. DE NIVERNAIS' BRIDE TROD ROSES

Versatile Capitalist, Who Was Liversmash, Became the Fourth Husband of Mrs. Zilla Dumouriez.

NEW YORK, June 12.—Edward James de Nivernais, 47, married his fourth wife, Mrs. Zilla Dumouriez, at the St. John's Hotel, Jersey City, N. J., today. The bride was born in California, the groom in France. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. John I. Scudder, pastor, and the Japanese valet of the bride, who was dressed in a tuxedo, took part in the ceremony. Mr. de Nivernais sent a string orchestra from New York and commissioned a florist to give the ceremony decorations which would adorn a fashionable wedding in Fifth avenue.

Mrs. Dumouriez is thirty-five years old and gave as her address Saline Maxime, Department of War, France. She was born in California, the daughter of Stephen Dumouriez, and was married previously three times. She was not questioned as to whether divorce or death had rendered her eligible to a fourth marriage. Mr. de Nivernais, in uniform of blue and gold, held the bride's cloak during the ceremony.

Early in the day of the wedding Mr. de Nivernais commissioned Bonnot, a Jersey City florist, to see that the bride should not tread upon anything but rose petals from the time she entered until she left the little church.

One of the wedding presents from her husband to the bride was a talking machine which reproduces the singing of the great artists of grand opera. Sol Bloom, proprietor of a Fifth avenue establishment, where this purchase was made, was surrounded by demands for decoration made by Mr. de Nivernais, who ordered that all the metal mountings be gold plated and the carved wood case for records be decorated with gold leaf and golden designs. This had to be made to order at an expense of nearly $1,000.

PREACHES SERMON TO COLLEGE BOYS

Yesterday afternoon at 3.15 the annual sermon was preached to the Rotherham College students by Rev. Canon Nettles of Sussex.

Many city people took advantage of the fine day and drove to Rotherham to attend the church, which was filled to the doors and the college boys, who marched to the church in uniform, made a splendid appearance. The music furnished by the choir was under the direction of Miss Davidson and reflects great credit upon her. Mrs. W. Harrison sang the hymn, "Jesus Lover of My Soul," during the service, in an excellent manner.

MODJESKA LEFT

ROLE TO AGTRESS Virtually Bequeathed the Part of Rosalind to Miss Gilda Veresi

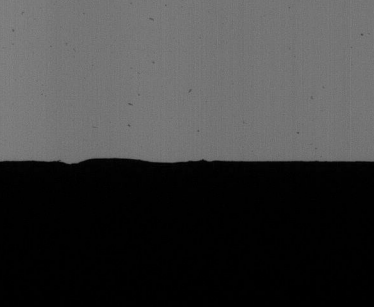

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 12.—Mme. Helena Modjeska's theatrical momentoes were disposed of by gift this week. One article only, the promoters copy of "As You Like It," from which Mme. Modjeska's greatest part, Rosalind, was created, was sold. It was purchased for Robinson Locke, owner and editor of the Toledo Blade.

The most interesting bequest of the tragedienne was to an actress now playing with Mrs. Pike, Miss Gilda Veresi. To her was virtually bequeathed the role of Rosalind. Miss Veresi was a great favorite of Mme. Modjeska. She had played in her company, and had been her understudy in several roles. Modjeska's Rosalind costumes and many other interesting articles were given to her.

One of the Polish actress' finest Macbeth costumes was left to Margaret Illington. Souvenirs were given to many great stars of the stage. Two very valuable paintings by Chaimoniski and two paintings by Witkiewicz were given to the Modjeskas of Chicago.

All the lace went to Mme. Felicie Modjeska. They included a magnificent piece of black chandilly and a handkerchief more than three hundred years old. To the Chicago Modjeskas were entrusted ten golden crowns that had been presented to the Polish actress by different countries. One of the most gorgeous of these was the gift of the Polish people. It is a chapel of laurel leaves, the name of one of Mme. Modjeska's famous characters being engraved on each leaf. These crowns are to be presented eventually to public institutions, such as museums or art.

Mme. Modjeska's diamonds, which were valued at $10,000; the gorgeous headdress of sappires and diamonds, which was made for the Chicago World's Fair, and her other jewels go to the Chicago relatives, a few her Turkish and Indian shawls, which are of great interest and value.

MOTORMAN HAS EXCITING TIME

Stunned by Lightning Saturday—Rig Collides With Car Sunday

INJURIES FOLLOW

The electrical storm on Saturday night was responsible for Motorman Thomas Mitchell of a Fairville car receiving a severe shock. Lightning entered the front of the car and danced about the vestibule for a moment. Simultaneously there was a terrific clap of thunder. Mitchell felt a sharp pain in his head and staggered back into the car. For some time he was completely stunned, but later on was able to resume his duties.

AMUSEMENTS.

PRINCESS TODAY.

Today starts a banner week at the Princess. The vaudeville is probably the strongest we have ever had. Reading the list is McKee and Richmond, a lady and gentleman who present "After Music Master," a good clever comedy sketch. Next on the bill is Verno, a high class juggler who has been making a hit right along the line. Last, but by no means least, comes a sister team, the Langford Sisters, who have a refined singing and dancing act. This usual programme of music pictures and catchy music afternoon and evening.

HOLMES AND BUCHANAN AT NICKEL.

The return of Gertrude Bennett-Holmes and Robert C. Buchanan to the Nickel Theatre will be welcomed by music lovers, for no dust of vocalists heard in this large picture since its opening over two years ago pleased the people as much as did Holmes and Buchanan. Indeed since it has been announced that they were to return to day the Nickel people have been recipients of numerous kindly words and written commendations. Both Miss Holmes and Mr. Buchanan are favorably known for their singing ability, and their versatility adds to the charm of their work. Their first appearance this afternoon at 2.15, then again at 4.15, and three times at night. The number with which they will open is the now-famous $10,000 competitive song success, "I Wish I Had a Girl," which is irresistibly tuneful and extremely witty. The stage is to be prettily set and Miss Holmes has some costume surprises. The Nickel's programme is good from start to finish. Miss Prins is to sing that rollicking western song, "Fride of the Prairie," the Orchestra is to give something specially good and the picture bill includes, "In the Bad Lands," a western military story, three comedies, etc. The return of Holmes and Buchanan will undoubtedly cause a rush for seats, which fact should admonish intending patrons to attend the matinee or be early at night.

HAPPY HALF HOUR HAS A MAGNIFICENT PROGRAMME TODAY.

Every day the programme at the Happy Half Hour improves. Today what is by far the best show yet given is promised patrons. Miss Bernini will sing "Bal My Little Lamb" from the musical comedy hit Marcelline. Bernini was a member of this company last year playing the part of the pre-essence of the ladies' Seminary and alternating with Louise Grenet in the title role. The N. Y. Dynamite Mirror of last November promised Marcelline "to be the best singing and most musical show in New York," and the N. Y. Clipper said it poses what so many others lack—good singing and good music. Signor Bernini will sing Meyer Heilmund's famous "Magic Song." Lovers of good songs and good singing should not miss either of these selections. In the Bad Lands is a 100 foot picture of life on the Frontier. It is founded on the famous western play Northern Lights and is full of good scenery, action and a powerful story. Magic Eggs is a beautiful traced colored trick picture, full of laugh, and is considered to be the best picture of its kind ever shown. From Doreging to the Himalayas Mountains will take the audience through a beautiful trip through beautiful valleys, jungles, and up the highest mountain ranges in the world. The camera was stationed on the front of the engine and a handsome scenic picture has never been seen here. New music just received Saturday will be played by the Ladies' Orchestra. Altogether a splendid programme can be looked forward to by patrons.

"STAR" STARTS WEEK VERY STRONG.

The Star Theatre, North End, which has been making a name for itself through its great service of up-to-date pictures, commences another week in the limelight of another unsurpassed show. Just scan the list of pictures and see if it don't look good to you: "Henry VIII," historical drama; "An Apostle of Gaul," ancient history; "Found on the Rock," a sea drama; and "What the Big Drum Did," a howling farce-comedy. Here's fun, education and tingling excitement all in a 46 minute show. Al Weston, the gleaming balladist, will render another new song. The Star's patronage increases nightly now that the open cars are on the routes and the seaside Park rush has started. Most evening merry-makers include this new theatre in their list of enjoyments.
