IMPRESSED WITH THE COURTENAY BAY WORKS

C. C. Ballantyne Delighted with Development Under Way in the Eastern Harbor—All will be Needed.

C. C. Ballantyne, formerly of the Montreal Harbor Commission, in company with J. B. M. Baxter, M.L.A., visited the works at Courtenay Bay yesterday and was greatly pleased with the progress there. To The Standard, last evening, Mr. Ballantyne stated that he had been over the entire area and was much impressed with the magnitude of the undertaking and its necessity.

"St. John cannot develop its harbor facilities too fast," he said, "and I think in Courtenay Bay there is an ideal opportunity to construct a fine large modern harbor equipped with all the necessary machinery."

Accompanied by the Norton Griffiths engineers, Mr. Ballantyne and Mr. Baxter walked out to the end of the breakwater and investigated all the workings and later examined the plan which shows Courtenay Bay after the construction has been finished. The accommodations impressed Mr. Ballantyne as being complete and efficient in every particular.

Mr. Ballantyne left last evening for Halifax where he will spend the next few days. He will visit his family at St. Andrews on Saturday and on Sunday will leave New Brunswick for Montreal.

LONGSHOREMEN AT BOSTON CONVENTION

Workers in Practically Every Port in Canada and U. S. now Organized—The Panama Canal.

Boston, July 15.—At the opening of the International Longshoremen's general convention, President O'Connor told of the great gains in membership, of 42 unions being formed during the year, and that the longshoremen of practically every port of the United States and Canada are now organized under the union banner.

He declared that every one of the locals must belong to the central body in its vicinity, as the best results for all unions can be secured only through live Central Labor Unions.

His most interesting reference was to the Panama Canal, regarding which he said in part:

"In 1912 the Panama Canal was completed. This is the greatest achievement ever undertaken by man, and will change the geographical position of every country on the globe. The right to discriminate against any particular class of immigrants who desire to come to our country is as fundamental as the right to refuse permission to a person to enter our home."

ST. JOHN PARTICIPATE IN GREAT PEACE CELEBRATION

Century of Peace Between Great Britain and United States to be Marked by Fitting Observances—E. H. Scammell in City to Organize Local Committee to Co-operate in General Plan.

E. H. Scammell, organizing secretary of the Canadian Peace Centenary Association, who is making a tour of Canada for the purpose of forming provincial committees to make arrangements for the celebration of one hundred years of peace between the British Empire and the United States, arrived in the city yesterday.

Lieut. Governor Wood, Chief Justice Sir Frederic Barker, Dr. W. S. Carter, Bishop Richardson, E. W. McCready, P. M. Tweedie, and W. B. Snowball have already agreed to serve on the committee for New Brunswick, and today Mr. Scammell will interview a number of prominent St. John citizens with a view to getting them to assist in the work of organizing the celebration.

On Thursday he will go to Fredericton to meet Premier Fleming and other members of the government who have expressed their willingness to join in making the celebration a memorable affair in this part of Canada.

P. E. Island Organized.

Mr. Scammell has just returned from Prince Edward Island where he organized a large committee, and after completing his work in New Brunswick will go to Nova Scotia and from there to Quebec and Ontario and the western provinces. When the provincial committees which will be composed of representative men all over the province holds its first meeting to consider plans for the celebration Mr. Scammell hopes to be present.

The movement for the celebration of one hundred years of peace, he says, is creating great interest, not only in Canada, but in Great Britain, Newfoundland and the British West Indies. Earl Grey is chairman of the committee in Great Britain, Sir Edmund Walker chairman of the Canadian committee, and Andrew Carnegie of the American committee.

The Plan of Celebration.

In addition to public demonstrations in all important centers it is proposed to commemorate the peace centenary by the erection of monuments. Mr. Scammell said that it would be a good idea to erect a permanent arch with suitable inscriptions on the main highway between New Brunswick and Maine, the site to be on the boundary line.

COMES TO ST. JOHN AFTER MANY YEARS

Rev. Ellis D. Barnes, of Richmond, Kentucky, in City to Attend Funeral of Brother this Afternoon.

Rev. Ellis D. Barnes, of Richmond, Kentucky, arrived in the city yesterday to attend the funeral of his brother, Andrew Barnes, which takes place this afternoon. Rev. Mr. Barnes, who is a St. John boy, has been away for nearly twenty years, and is pastor of a large congregation in Richmond, which is now building a new church to cost about $60,000.

It is expected that the funeral of Andrew Barnes this afternoon will be largely attended, as he has been prominent in the work of the church in the Maritime Provinces, having been editor of the denominational paper and secretary of the annual conventions for many years.

ARTILLERY MADE A FINE SHOWING

Inspection Continued Last Evening—Col. Burstall Entertained by Officers at Union Club.

The annual inspection of the 3rd Regiment of Canadian Cavalry and Artillery was continued at the Barrack Square last evening by Colonel Burstall, commander-in-chief of the Canadian Artillery force. The regiment went through infantry and gun drill in a most satisfactory manner, and Colonel Burstall expressed himself as pleased with the showing made by the men. A feature of the drill last evening was the presence of the horses for the gun teams. The drivers acquitted themselves in a highly satisfactory manner. It is understood that these horses will be taken to Petawawa.

Yesterday Colonel Armstrong and several of his officers entertained Colonel Burstall at the Coxy Lake Fishing Club, where good sport was had. The visiting officer proved himself a most expert fisherman. Last evening he was the guest of Colonel Armstrong and the officers of the regiment at a luncheon at the Union Club. The officers of the 62nd St. John Fusiliers were among the guests.

DRESSMAKERS TO ACTION IN POLICE COURT

Mrs. Jones' Hobble did not Please Her, but Dressmaker Refused to Take it Back—Amusing Case.

The dreary routine in the police court was banished for a short time at the session yesterday afternoon when Magistrate Ritchie and the court officials listened with keen interest to lengthy explanations as to the proper manner to make a skirt and attendant fixings "a la Paris."

The case before the court was that of a well known city dressmaker who was charged by a certain Mrs. Jones with an unlawful fitting of hands when the aforesaid dressmaker assisted her to leave the establishment after refusing to take back a costume which she said she had repeatedly worn to style. To overcome the difficulty the dress was returned and more fixings put on, and all concerned thought the matter was ended.

Later the costume came to the notice of Mrs. Jones' husband and he expressed the opinion that the dress was not correctly made up. Mrs. Jones accordingly returned it and requested the modiste to take it back. The mother of the dressmaker at this point took a hand in the affair and pointed out that her daughter had done all the work on that particular skirt, she was going to and, having her hand on Mrs. Jones' arm, indicated the general direction of the door. Mrs. Jones left and later brought the matter into court. The grounds that the dressmaker's mother had laid hands on her in a decidedly unlawful manner were not supported with great attention to the different points brought up, but, being a mere man and without suffragette pretensions, dismissed the case with a few brief remarks and after giving his careful attention to the somewhat complicated evidence.

The court officials last evening were reported to be somewhat recovered and able to sit up and take notice of things in general, but it is safe to say that the different parts, additions and appendages to black skirts with black voile coverings and waists will haunt their formerly peaceful slumbers for some time. Request in pace.

PROSPERITY IN BEACONSFIELD

Ratepayers there May Find it Necessary to Erect New School Building—Surplus on Year's Work.

At the annual meeting of the rate payers of the Beaconfield School district, held at Beaconfield on Monday evening, encouraging reports were received from all departments and a banner year is looked forward to. G. Earle Logan, the chairman of the board, presided, with W. O. Dunham as secretary.

An important feature of the meeting was the pleasing announcement that for the first time in the history of the district a surplus in cash was on hand after the completion of the year's work. The bond issue was retired.

The sum of $2000 was voted for the purpose of opening an additional room at the school and hiring another teacher. This is $600 more than is usually voted.

Trustee H. W. Henderson, who had retired from the board, was re-elected for another term. James W. Carleton and George W. Ballie were re-elected auditors.

The encouraging growth of the Beaconfield district was the cause of much favorable comment at the meeting. Besides extending in other ways the number of children attending the district school has greatly increased and a primary class of sixty has been enrolled. Owing to this there was some talk of erecting a new school building, and if the number of children attending continues to increase it is thought that such a step will be carried out.

If the building is erected it will be a modern brick structure. Owing to the boom and general favorable conditions, the value of real estate in the vicinity has gone up over $100,000.
