CREAM OF BRITISH SPORTSMEN KILLED ON FRENCH FRONT

Latest Casualty List Contains Names of Many Well Known Athletes.

CAMBRIDGE CLUB SECRETARY FALLS

Rugby Footballer, who Fought in Gallipoli, Missing for More Than a Year.

London, Sept. 14.—The cream of British sportsmen continue to appear in the casualties resulting from the advance on the Western front, the latest casualty list containing the names of many well known public school men who have made their mark in every branch of sport. Captain J. Vivian Byrne-Johnson, who has been killed in action, was secretary of the Cambridge University Athletic Club and was a fine long distance runner, obtaining his "Blue" for the three miles, which he won in 1914, his time for the distance—14m. 54 4/5s.—being the best accomplished at Cambridge for years. G. F. Marsden-Smedley, killed, was captain of both the cricket and football eleven at Harrow. The death in action of Lieutenant Frederick Godfrey ends the career of a conspicuous athlete on the football and cricket fields as well as on the track. In 1907 he captained the Grenadier Guards team that won the Army Football Cup at Aldershot. In both brigade and battalion sports he held the record for the greatest number of prizes won, and he established new figures for the army in both the 100 yards sprint and long jump. He was the only member of the bearer party drawn from the Grenadier Guards which bore King Edward to his tomb who was spared to go into action.

RED SOX AND BROOKLYN FOR WORLD SERIES

Yesterday's Victory for Boston Practically Clinches Championship, Putting Detroit Three Games Behind.

New York, Sept. 21.—Results today practically assure baseball fans that the world's championship series will be fought out this fall between the Brooklyn Nationals and the Boston Americans. The former won today, while its nearest rivals, Philadelphia and Boston, lost. The Philadelphia's are now two and a half games behind, and Boston four and a half in the rear of the leaders. Brooklyn still has fourteen games to play, one against St. Louis, six against Chicago, three against Philadelphia and four against New York. Philadelphia has remaining one game against Pittsburgh, four against Cincinnati and three against Brooklyn and six against Boston, a total of fourteen. The standings:

Team	Won	Lost	P.C.
Boston	84	59	.587
Chicago	83	63	.569
Detroit	83	64	.566

In making it three straight over Detroit Boston pushed Jennings' men

PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE TO THOROUGHBRED IN WAR

Captain R. Timmis, writing from British headquarters at the front, pays this tribute to the thoroughbred in war: "After nearly a year's experience in France and although mostly in the front line, I can but agree with most of your writers re the high value of the thoroughbred for cavalry, and even for artillery work. The thoroughbred is always game, while the coarse bred, when cold, is almost as bad as a mule. The heavier breeds of horses are often no better. I refer to times when guns and wagons become quarried. How often have I not seen even an officer's charger temporarily put into harness to save the situation! The British thoroughbred is a wonder. But if the unsporting radicals who cry down racing and hunting do not soon realize that they are endangering our future existence we shall have no thoroughbreds left to breed from. I would like them to hear what Thomas Atkins has to say about them even in Flanders. It was a lucky day for our army when the tide turned in the hunting field in favor of the thoroughbred. The Hunters' Improvement society. The premium system will require to be reduced, and suitable mares only should be served. Successful horse breeding can only be assured by scientific mating and rearing.

Tomb of Abraham Target For Turks

Grand Sheriff of Mecca in Proclamation to "All Our Muslim Brothers" Denounces Turkey and Enver Pasha.

Cairo, Sept. 18.—The Grand Sheriff of Mecca has issued a proclamation addressed to "all our Muslim brothers." He says:—
 We were one with the Government until the Committee of Union and Progress rose up. Since then ruin has overtaken the State until now we are drawn into this fatal war.
 The proclamation goes on to declare that the heaviest share of calamities has fallen on the Holy Land. It describes how—
 The Committee of Union and Progress have departed from the precepts of religion till it has clearly become our duty to separate ourselves from them and renounce them. Yet we would not believe their wickedness, and tried to think it was the imaginings of evil-doers. We bore with them until it was apparent that the rulers of Turkey were Enver Pasha, Djemal Pasha, and Talat Bey, who were doing "whatever" they pleased. They made their guilt manifest when they hanged in one day twenty-one of the most honorable and enlightened Moslems. Children, old men, and delicate women, bereaved of their natural protectors, were subjected to foul usage and even tortured.
 The Sheriff enumerates numerous instances of cruelty and tyranny, and adds:—
 What stronger proof have we of their faithfulness to religion than the bombardment of the ancient house which God has chosen for His house? From Jyad Fort they shelled it, set

ON THE ART OF WRITING.

Sir Arthur Quiller-Couch has done a fine thing in his recent book, On the Art of Writing, (Putnam's, New York, net $1.50.) So much bombast has been written on the subject, so much that even charitably regarded is nothing but driven, that Sir Arthur's book is particularly noteworthy. Here is no beating about the bush, no fine crystalline, but some honest thinking straightforwardly put. Shaw's epigram about "Those who can do do: those who can't do teach," cannot be said to apply to Sir Arthur, for he has done much in the way of writing and still does much, and at the same time sits in the chair of King Edward VII professor of English literature in Cambridge. It was in this capacity that he delivered the 12 lectures, each of which is a chapter of the present volume.—Bangor Daily Commercial.
