THURSDAY, JUNE 3, 1915.

Whether you make money or lose it, never sell your divine heritage, your good name, for a mess'ol' postage. Whatever you do, be larger than your vocation; never let it be said of you that you succeeded in your vocation but failed as a man.

Householders who take pride in improving their property and maintaining good lawns are frequently annoyed by delivery boys and others who take short cuts from one house to another until they have a path worn in the grass, or drive rigs on the boulevard, destroying by wheel tracks a beauty spot that has cost much time and trouble to make.

Many of the party political papers are giving their readers the nightmare by publishing the campaign cartoons and canned editorial dope that was handed out by their bosses when a general election was all but decided upon. And it matters not which party may be in power the country will have to pay for this "public opinion" in the way of subsidies to these party papers amounting to millions of dollars.

On a Grand Trunk train, a few days ago, a German-American, traveller for a Cincinnati firm of manufacturers, surprised his seat companion by the vehemence with which he declared that he hoped Germany would be beaten in the conflict. "It sounds strange to hear such sentiments expressed by a man of German origin?" was remarked. "Perhaps it does," was the reply, "and in all probability if I had never been in Germany, I should not feel the way I do, but I have had an opportunity of witnessing the effects of Prussian officialdom—have been a victim of the system in fact—and I say the sooner Prussia is crushed the sooner will the people of Germany enjoy real freedom as we understand the term in America." He went on to say that he had three sons and that he hoped, in the event of the United States being drawn into the war, they all would fight against Germany.

A baseball club in a neighboring village has been making profuse apologies to patrons of a recent entertainment given under its auspices by a concert company from the city. The concert did not measure up to its recommendations by a long way. Some day local organizations will wake up to the fact that they are being badly bunked when they undertake for the small end of the probable profits to boost and finance a show that has not confidence in its own merits to succeed.

The world is getting used to the miracles of wireless telegraphy, and will soon be learning much more about the wireless telephone. Officials of the Lackawanna Railroad last month sent messages by wireless telephone sixty-three miles through a mountainous region; not a mere exchange of greetings, but definite orders for the movement of trains. Signor Marconi says that the British warships in the North Sea can keep in telephonic communication with the shore as long as they are within a radius of a hundred miles.

The Detroit Free Press says:—"All partisanship aside, it is impossible to read of the exploits of Canadian troops in Belgium without experiencing a glow of pride, not because the men of the Dominion were fighting on this side or that in the battle but because they were representing the valor and gallantry of the New World and because they upheld the reputation of American bravery and nerve and intelligence in a way which brought out expressions of admiration from everyone who observed them. The sons of our neighbors across the border bore themselves well and manfully; they even taught Europe something about alertness and resourcefulness in time of emergency."

Frenchman—"You are a funny people, you English. You take strong whiskey; you put water in to make it weak; you put sugar in to make it sweet; you put lemon in to make it sour; then you say 'here's to you,' and drink it yourself."

Miller's Worm Powders are not surpassed by any other preparation as a vermifuge or worm destroyer. Indeed, there are few preparations that have the merit that it has to recommend it. Mothers, aware of its excellence, seek its aid at the first indication of the presence of worms in their children, knowing that it is a perfectly trustworthy medicine that will give immediate and lasting relief.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT this SPRING?

Does your house look shabby alongside of your neighbors? Does it look neglected? Is this the way you are going to leave it for another year? Your house may be larger and better than your neighbors' but it does not look so well nor will it stand the weather and test of time so well without the necessary coat of paint.
