

*Translations out of
On a pretty Virgins Virginall Posie.*

Musica mentis, Musicke is a sad minds Physicion, Medicina mortis. If a faire maide be the Musicion.

Blind Ignorance.

Ignoti nulla cupi- Blinder then Cupid is he in desire,
do. In whom blind ignorance puts out the fire.

Womens Credit.

Mulieri ne credas A woman is not to be credited :
ne mortuus qui- If you will credit me, though shee be dead.
dem.

That women be not angry with me, nor my Author.

Mine Author makes a man speake this in snuffe :
Himselfe was wise, he knew you well enough.

Teares Vanity.

Gemitus dolores Our outward Teares may show our inward woes :
indicat, non vindi- They are a poore reuenge against our foes.
cat.

Fortunes Flowers.

Dum fuens felix, Whil't wealth doth last, great store of friends thou hast:
multos numera If thou it waste ; thou soone may't tell the last.
bis amicos:

Nullus ad amiss-
ibit amicos opes.

Armour against lust.

Ora si collas, pe-riete Cupidinis
arcus.

If thou from idle thoughts canst guard thy heart :
Thou mak'st it Musket-prooffe 'gainst Cupids dart.

Anger.

Habet & Musca splenem, & For-micæ sua bilis inest.

The sting-taild small Muscheeto hath his spleene :
The busie Ant sometimes is angry scene.

A Builders Humor.

Diruit, ædificat,
mutat quadrata
rotundis.

He buildeth vp what he threw to the ground ;
And changeth former foure-squares into round.

Truths and flatteries effects.

Obsequium ami-
cor, veritas odium parit.

Flattery gets Friends, and Truth gets Enemies:
Soft and proud fooles this Adage verifies.

Exemplified.

Flatter an easie foole, on you he'll doate :
Tell a proud foole his faults, hee'll cut your throat.

Refractory nature.

Optæ Ephippia
bos piger arare cuballus.

Dull Oxen long for saddles and the dorses ;
Whil't chaines and yoakes, desires hot stomackt hofes.

Addi-