

10 per cent salary increase

By KEN CUTHBERTSON
Staff Writer

It was decided Monday night at the regular SRC meeting that a 10 per cent increase be given to full-time employees of the SRC office staff. The increase is a result of a 10.5 per cent increase in the University Administration. SRC Comptroller Scott Cronshaw said he thought the increase was best for moral purposes.

There are now three full-time office staff: a bookkeeper, an administrator and a secretary. The president's salary is not included in the increase. The motion was passed 8/1/0.

In other business, the honorium of $600 was reduced to $500 for the vice-president. Last year, $300 was paid to each vice-president. The motion was carried 8/0/0.

A motion was also passed to grant $500 towards the operation of the Woodshed. It was debated that extra money would reduce the $1,500 contribution from the Social Club. On the other side of the debate, it was noted that talent is promoted in the Woodshed and it serves as a place for students under 19 to go. The motion was carried 4/3. As a result of this motion a further motion was passed to provide a $500 increase in the SRC budget. The motion carried 6/1/1.

In the president's report, Bartlett spoke about the upcoming SRC elections. He said computer cards are to be used to give quicker results. Bartlett said that if, at Wednesday's deadline, there was one or no candidate for president the closing date would be extended into election week. He further stated that there was a lack of support for the positions of councillors, and that would also be extended if necessary.

Nominations by Tim Gorman of Dave Farnham and Ken Cuthbertson as assistant returning officers for the upcoming elections were carried 8/0/1.

Tweeddale speaks on committee

By CINDY CAMERON
Staff Writer

R.E. Tweeddale has been elected chairman of the new presidential search committee.

He refused to speculate as to why the others quit the committee, saying, "I can't speak on behalf of them." He wouldn't comment of why they resigned, but when asked if the committee had any different ideas this time, Tweeddale replied that "We will report to the board of governors and the senate first. If there are any necessary changes in the procedure, it will be reported to them and then to the public."

He said he certainly didn't feel the previous committee was a failure. In fact, "they did a good job" he said. "A tremendous effort was put into it, and the present committee will benefit greatly." He also pointed out that it's nobody's fault UNB is still without a president. "It's not up to the committee to comment on, and it's not part of their job," he said.

New Frisbee born?

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (CH) - The scholars can't agree on how it works, but a device born in a Rutgers University physics class may someday give the Frisbee stiff competition.

Inside the lab, the device is known as a "cylindrical wing." Outside, it's a "toy" that flies, spins and veers uncannily. And it's a whole lot cheaper than even the cheapest Frisbee.

The "cylindrical wing" is made from a single 8-by-11 1/2 inch sheet of paper. Half-inch folds are made across the narrow edge of the paper until the sheet is about 2 1/2 by 8 1/2 inches (with a folded-up bottom edge). The ends of the paper are then joined and taped to form a cylinder approximately three inches in diameter and 2 1/2 inches deep with the folds on the inside.

When pitched underhand, the toy flies for a surprising distance, veering either left or right depending on the spin imparted to it.

Gary Login, one of the "fathers" of the toy, now a Rutgers graduate, had a paper on the device published in a national physics publication. The scientists, it seems, are more interested in trying to explain the aerodynamic forces that make the device fly than they are in seeing it become another Frisbee.

Varty submits resignation

By JOEY KILFOIL
News Editor

Doug Varty has resigned as station director of College Hill Student Radio. The move comes in the wake of his decision to run for president of the SRC.

While he said he knows of no official rule to the effect that he couldn't hold both positions at once, Varty said he felt it was not feasible to do so.

Varty handed in his resignation to CHSR station manager John Geary last Friday, and it becomes effective "at such time as a new station director is chosen". This will probably happen in a few weeks, said Varty. Until that time Geary will act as station director.

If he loses the election, Varty said there is still a possibility he could become station director again. But he's not sure he wants to.

He said he is really more interested in getting into the journalistic end of it, i.e. news reporting.

Liberals to meet

By GORDON MacKENZIE

With the threat of fuel shortages in the Maritimes this winter, Prime Minister Joe Clark is planning to tear down governmentally owned Petro-Can. A group of Liberal youths from the UNB & the STU campuses are presently circulating a petition against this dismantling.

A meeting to discuss this petition, as well as elect a new executive, will be held Thursday November 8 at 7:30 p.m. in room 102 of the SUB.

The Campus Liberal organization will be sponsoring a representative from Marc Lalonde's energy committee, sometime in mid-November, to talk to the Petro-Can issue. Don't be left out in the cold. The Liberal Party is offering students a chance to speak out and be heard.

Debbie Aguinaga and Janice Ketchum are shown taking blood from Stephanie Anderson, a first-year science student.
