

short witness and he could be taken before the speeches and I didn't anticipate that you would go on with the speeches to-night and personally, so far as I am concerned, I would be grateful for an adjournment before addressing you, and I don't think it would inconvenience you if he were taken first thing to-morrow.

PRESIDENT:

We can have General Lloyd's evidence to-night in case he wishes to proceed back.

MR. GAGE:

No, sir. He is quite ready to fall in with those arrangements. That is what we arranged with him and that is why he is not here at the moment.

PRESIDENT:

And you don't think he is in the immediate vicinity?

MR. GAGE:

No, sir, I don't think he is.

PROSECUTOR:

I might say at this stage, inasmuch as my friend has, I take it, just one more witness to call, that the question of rebuttal arises and it appears to me at this time that it is going to be necessary to call General Simonds in rebuttal, and General Simonds is not in this country and cannot be here until Friday and for that reason it may be necessary perhaps I should advise you of that now, and I think make some difference in the plans which you propose to make.

PRESIDENT:

That is just a notice you are giving?

PROSECUTOR:

Yes, sir.

PRESIDENT:

The Court is adjourned until 0930 hours tomorrow morning.

At 1710 hours on the 8th day of May, 1946, the Court adjourn until 0930 hours on the 9th day of May, 1946.
