

HAYES, CLAUDE,

Member of the Royal Institute of Painters in Water Colors and the Institute of Painters in Oil Colors.

This artist's work is very strong and rich in color, and his pictures are always welcomed at the London Exhibitions, where he regularly exhibits. He was awarded the Silver Medal at the Crystal Palace, 1891, for his large oil entitled, "Near Arundel."

HAYES, EDWIN.

Academician of the Royal Hibernian Academy of Arts, Dublin.

International Fishery Exhibition, 1883; Royal Diploma from the Queen, 1884; Adelaide Exhibition, 1887; Crystal Palace Exhibition, 1888; Paris International Exhibition, Diploma for Water Color, 1889; World's Fair, Chicago, Medal and Diploma, 1893; Crystal Palace Exhibition, 1893; Crystal Palace Exhibition, 1896.

"Than whom a finer open-sea painter does not exist at the present day."—"Magazine of Art," Dec., 1892.

G. D. HISCOX, (Painter-in-Ordinary to the Queen.)

Mr. G. D. Hiscox has been a constant exhibitor for many years at the Royal Academy, Royal Institute, Royal Hibernian Academy, Royal Society of British Artists and other large art centres. For ten years in succession he has had large and important pictures in oil and water colors on the line in the Royal Academy, and has had the honor to exhibit his pictures on three occasions to the "Queen," and has sold some of his works to Her Majesty. Several of his paintings are at Windsor Castle and St. James Palace.

HOLMES, E. (deceased.)

The late Mr. E. Holmes' pictures are admirable in technique, fine in color, and finished in detail. His landscapes with figure subjects are highly prized for that natural delicacy in the form of the figures and the coloring, which is equally carried out.
