Dress Goods Rare.

We have just passed the customs here a most brilliant array of Freach and British Black and Colored Dress Goods. Then last week we had passed through the customs at Toronto by the agent of the British shippers, one of the richest showing of novelites in skirt lengths and suitings that ever graced our counters.

Our position in Dress Goods was never stronger and you are extended a most cordial welcome to visit this store at any time from now until the season is over and come expecting to see fresh novelties from the new and old world. We said "the season is over," of course we are entering a period when your wants are more frequent, and you expect to see new things, but here you'll find new fabrics the year round.

Decision of Speyer & Co.-Mr. Clergue Says All Will be Right-Straining Every Nerve to Interest European Capital in the Venture.

New York, Sept. 23 .- Notice of the ntention of the syndicate which underwrote the loan of $5,050,000 to the Consolidated Lake Superior Company to sell at auction the assets of the company held by them as collateral for the loan was sent by Speyer & Co. to the officers of the company. The details of the sale have not yet The details of the sale have not yet been made public. So far as the situation in New York is concerned, there was little change in the affairs of the company to-day. Director Orvis said a movement of some stockholders of the company was on foot to try in some way to save what they can of their investments in the stocks of the company, but he gave no details. Speyer & Co. announce that they will shortly serve formal notice on the Consolidated Lake Superior Co. and others interested respecting the date and conditions under which the syndicate intends to dispose of the collateral held for the $5,050,000 loan. The syndicate managers refuse to discuss the developments at vesteriors.

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—Mr. F. H. Clergue, the promoter of the Sault industries, arrived in Ottawa yesterday and spent the day in conference with a number of British and French capitalists. That Mr. Clergue expects his effort to raise capital to be successful is shown by his statement in an interview, as follows: "The Soo plant will be running in a few weeks. We will pay all our debts and will have the plant running as good as ever. That closing down the other day was without the authority of the directors of the company. When the works shut down they were earning $150,000 per month net, and only a part of the plant was expense."

works shut down they were earning $150,000 per month net, and only a part of the plant was running."

Mr. Clergue was seen at the station before boarding the train for Toronto. He said: "We have accomplished all we came to Ottawa for. We did not come to ask for Dominion aid, and we are not going to Toronto to ask for Provincial aid. The works are there, with the question as to whether there were mountains, said that, at all events, as regards that portion of the line north of Cape Spencer, it was difficult to understand the United States contention, for beyond all dispute there existed along that stretch a bold range of very high mountains, coming down to within a short distance of the coast. Regarding the head of Lynn Canal, he quoted Gen. Foster to prove the existence there of a well-defined range within a few miles of the head touching that portion between the 56th parallel and Lynn Canal, and showed by the evidence of W. F. King, Canadian expert, that during the whole distance there are mountains 3,000 to 4,000 feet high within five or six miles of the ocean coast.

Dealing with Dall's contention that negotiators were misled by Vancouver into supposing the existence of a symmetrical line, the Attorney-General compared two of Vancouver's charts of the same region and showed numerous discrepancies, arguing therefrom that negotiators could not have contemplated or expected anything like uniformity or regularity in the mountain line. Having thus shown the existence of mountains generally, the Attorney-General proceeded to detertain line. Having thus shown the existence of mountains generally, the Attorney-General proceeded to determine which particular mountains should be taken, and for this purpose exhibited a series of contour maps of the British Commission under the convention of 1892, on which appeared, traced by King, a line from peak to peak, claimed by Great Britain. He explained this line in detail and illustrated his remarks by photographs of various localities.

NINE SAILORS SENTENCED.

Refused to Leave Port in the Manchester Trader.

Quebec, Sept. 23 .- Nine sailors of the steamship Manchester Trader, which recently went ashore near Anticosti, were sentenced to fifteen days in jail each by Judge Chauveau this morning. The men refused to leave port in her. They claim that the vessel is not seaworthy and that they do not not seaworthy and that they do not wish to risk their lives in the voyage to New York, where she is to undergo permanent repairs. Port Warden Simons and Contractor McLean of New York both held in the Police Court to-day that the vessel was safe.

PANAMA TREATY DEAD.

United States Cannot Dig the Canal Just Yet.

Washington, Sept. 23. - When the State Department closed it was agreed that the Panama Canal treaty was dead, although a few hours yet re mained within which the Colombian Congress might take affirmative action upon it. Nothing, however, had been received during the day which gave the slightest hope of a favorable issue A report is current that the Colombian Congress at a secret session has clothed President Marroquin with full pow ed President Marroquin with full power to negotiate a treaty. If this report is true, President Marroquin, who is a friend of the treaty, could proceed untrammeled by the fear of future reckoning with his Congress. In any event, President Roosevelt must now take the next step. He can proceed under the Spooner act and take up the Nicaragua route, or he can allow matters to drift for the present in the hope that a way may yet be found to straighten out the difficulties in the path of the Panama route.
