SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

Brush This Through Faded, Lifeless Locks and They Become Dark, Glossy, Youthful.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

BATTERY AT PETAWAWA IS IN FINE SHAPE

Brantford Soldiers Making Things Hum at the Big Military Camp.

(Special to Courier)

PETEWAWA, June 12.—

"Batteree, batteree,
Thirty Second Batteree,
We're the boys to make the noise,
Fire, bang, whiz-z-z-z! boom!

Thus resounded to-night the "war whoop" of this famous and "battle-scarred" (??) not scared battery of Brantford boys who are settling down in grim earnest (ask the quartermaster sergeant) to make their first annual training camp a "boomer" in every respect.

At any rate one would imagine to watch the grim and workmanlike way in which the boys of every rank "buckle" to their work (and mounted drill to raw "rookies" is hard at that), that they had made up their minds to stick on (as well as on their horses) for 12 years instead of 12 days.

The battery marched into camp 41 strong and 26 horses, under the command of Lieut. Col. E .C. Ashton. The strength of the 32nd Battery from Hamilton (making up the brigade) was about 35. The two batteries are brigaded under Col. Logie

The battery's "mother" friend, their esteemed class instructor, Lieut. McPherson, of the Kingston Depot. is in charge of the training. It is needless to say that every officer and every man was pleased to be again in harness under this able young officer, and all faces were wreathed in smiles to se him on parade, and many calls had to be made to keep ranks to attention. To this may be added the fact that the batteries receiving the most thoughtful and considerate attention from the brigade staff. Col Logie, Capt. and Adjut. Moodie et al, and when the boys march out they intend to break away from military conventionality and sing "they are jolly good fellows." (Don't let the Colonel see this).)

There can be but little doubt that under such a smart and loveable chief as the battery has the good fortune to possess in Lieut. Colonel Ashton, assisted by such excellent subs. (this has no reference to subs. on pay) as Lieut. P. D. Booth and Lieut. D. H. Storms of 13th Regiment of Hamilton (who is attached for training) a camp could never be anything but a success and a pleasure to everybody, and we are all looking forward to a good old summer time. (now boys, chorus, altogether) It may be the fate of these gallant officers to get a "wound" and "shell" out, but their self sacrifice and kindly treatment of all ranks and the reciprocity which such naturally engenders, will be their ample reward, and their efforts certainly do not fall short to any degree, and they won't need to alter their angle of sight and fancy they don't see the effect.

For the main point the 'Commissariat,' ask the policeman. Not only enough for all, but good and wholesome is the answer on all sides and up to the present there are no cries of 'Kill the cooks' or even our genial Q. M. Serg. E. Shevins (bravo Ernest!!) and the battery certainly can't afford to lose him and we all hope to live and thrive (as we are doing now) to see him at many future camps, looking after the 'dripping.'

The Battery is to be congratulated that all the horses, bar two, were passed by the camp 'Vet' and although badly shaken by the long journey, 300 miles, are now getting in good shape. Up to the present time,—sick return, one man and two horses, one kicked badly on the lines last night. The Battery takes alternate turns of duties of picquet, etc., with 33rd. Battery.

Our new and popular active S. M. J. Hardy, has not yet found it necessary to open the 'Clink', in fact it is rumored that some one has 'stolen the key' so we can take a 'clean sheet' back with us. If strict discipline and exemplary obedience go for anything, then here's a cheer for good old Hardy (the Hardy (N) Orseman) and a good'un at that and may he live long and die a good color and have a good military funeral, but not for many and many a long sweet 'by and by if we can help it.

Nuff said for the present, though there is much more to be said and nothing that can't be said—but more to follow if your valuable columns are open to our 'Brantford Battery Boys."

LORD MERSEY HAS ARRIVED TO HOLD ENQUIRY

He Will be Assisted by Two Canadian Commissioners to Probe Disaster.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]

NEW YORK, June 13.—Lord Mersey, who will preside over the special board of inquiry that is to investigate facts surrounding the Empress of Ireland disaster, arrived on the Mauretania to-day. He will spend but a few hours in New York, as he is keen to begin the work which brought him across the Atlantic. He will take the 7.45 train to-night for Ottawa, where he will consult with the Premier and other members of the Government.

On Monday he will go to Quebec, where the inquiry is to begin the next day. Lord Mersey said he hoped to be back in England by August 1, but his Titanic inquiry experiences had taught him that such proceedings may extend almost indefinitely. He said, however, that they would know that the truth regarding the Empress, before very long. Lord Mersey is 74 years old, but is as active as a man of 55. This, he said, was his first trip across the Atlantic. He was loath to talk of the inquiry, except to say that they would specially get at the truth. He thought the proceedings would likely be extended to include an investigation into the navigation of the St. Lawrence river.

Lord Mersey is accompanied by two assessors, or marine experts, Commander S. Caborne and Prof. J. J. Welch. They with other persons named by the Canadian Government will sit with Lord Mersey and his associated Canadian judges at the court of inquiry.
