The Beautiful Roman Catholic Church

AT BATHURST.

Dedicated on Oct. 6. Archbishop of Halifax Preached an Eloquent Sermon.

On Sunday, Oct. 6th, dedication of the Sacred Heart Bathurst, took place in the presence of His Grace the Archbishop of Halifax, coadjutor Bishop Barry, a large number of the reverend clergy, and a vast concourse of the residents of Bathurst and vicinity.

This splendid edifice has been erected under the management of Bishop Barry, and now completed and furnished in the best style of modern architecture, is one of the most beautiful and commodious churches in the province. The church is situated at the corner of Douglas and St. Andrew streets commanding a fine view of Bathurst Basin and the surrounding country, and is constructed of native granite, with rock face and finished in Gothic style of architecture. The length of the main building from the entrance to the rear of the chancel is 141 feet, width 60 feet and height from the floor to the vaulted ceiling upwards of 50 feet. The extension containing the vestry and the chapel of St. Thomas is 50x34 feet. A light and commodious basement underlies the whole structure, and, being finished throughout, may be used for a winter chapel, and church, and under St. Thomas' chapel as a parish meeting room. The interior has been decorated in a very artistic manner by Montreal artists, and reflects on the fine taste of the right reverend pastor. The exquisite blending of tints, the exceptionally well executed pictures, emblematic of the Catholic faith, and the graceful proportions of aisle and nave and vaulted roof combine to render the edifice a "thing of beauty and a joy forever." The high altar and also those dedicated to the Blessed Virgin, St. Joseph and St. Thomas, as well as the statue and ornaments were the gift of Thomas D. Adams, Esq., head of the mercantile firm of Adams Burns & Co. A beautiful statue of the Sacred Heart in St. Thomas chapel is erected in memory of the late Hon. K. F. Bannister.

At ten o'clock the right Rev. T. F. Barry accompanied by the visiting clergy, preceded by the cross bearer and acolytes, and followed by the choir under the direction of the Rev. Father Haquin, began the ceremonies of dedication at the main entrance of the church. In procession, while the choir chanted the missers, the outer walls of the church were sprinkled with holy water, after which the church was entered and the solemn services continued, the choir chanting the Litany of the Saints. Pontifical High Mass was celebrated with the following officiating clergymen—Celebrant Bishop Barry, Deacon and Sub-Deacon Rev. W. E. Sweeney and Rev. E. Martin, Assistant Priest, the Very Rev. P. Lebastard, Master of Ceremonies Rev. W. Varilly and Rev. E. P. Wallace. His Grace the Archbishop occupied the throne, Rev. Theo. Allard acting as priest assistant and Rev. John Carter and Rev. Father Merl as deacons of honor. On the epistle side of the sanctuary sat Mr. Murphy, Halifax, and Father Haquin. Battman's Mass was rendered in Bb by the choir under the management of Miss Emma Power. After the Gospel Archbishop O'Brien entered the pulpit and preached an eloquent sermon.

(See page two of this issue.)

At four o'clock pontifical vespers were celebrated. The male members of the choir assisted by several of the clergy under the direction of Father Haquin sang the vespers proper to the feast of the Blessed Virgin in the solemn form of the Gregorian chant. The Very Rev. P. Lebastard, superior of the college of the Sacred Heart, Caraquet, preached an eloquent and forcible sermon on the relations of the church to mankind. Benediction of the most Blessed Sacrament then followed.

At 7.30 in the evening the Archbishop accepted the invitation of Branch No. 130 of the M. B. A., of which association he is the Grand Spiritual Adviser, and accompanied by Bishop Barry, and the reverend clergy, arrived at the hall at the hour mentioned. The members of the branch assembled in large numbers to pay their respects to His Grace. The following address was read by the president:—

TO THE REVEREND CORNELIUS O'BRIEN, D. D., ARCHBISHOP OF HALIFAX
Your Grace:

On behalf of the Members of Branch Number 130 of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association of Canada, it becomes my duty and privilege to tender to Your Grace a hearty welcome to Bathurst.

To know that Your Grace is the friend and guest of our beloved pastor, The Right Reverend Bishop of Thurgis, were as cause for our esteem; his friendship is our friends; whom he honors, we honor; but, recognizing in Your Grace that distinguished gentleman and man of letters, whose

SPORTSMEN.

Returning From Their Hunts.

MORE FINE HEADS.

All are Jubilant and Have Good Words for our Country.

Many of the sportsmen already mentioned by the Advocate have returned from their trips and without an exception they have all succeeded in getting their allotment of game and all have expressed themselves as delighted with their trips. Cautious and willing guides and cooks, a nice country and an hospitable people all go to ward making the Miramichi an ideal country for a big game hunt. In fact some have been so far carried away by the splendors of our scenery and big game as to express their intention of coming again next season and the celebrated Brooklyn artist, Carol Rungius has made arrangements to spend all next summer and fall in this country. He recently returned from a trip on the North Branch of the Rensselaire with guide David Mandeville, and succeeded in shooting a moose. He also got a large number of bird skins to mount and a large number of wild game pictures taken in life in their natural haunts. He also painted a number of pictures which were perfect representations of big game in their native wilds. During his trip he saw twenty-one moose and in conversation with an Advocate reporter said he had gathered enough material to keep him busy at his studio until next May.

H. A. Fitman and Wm. B. Long who spent a few days at Tabusintac shot forty-two birds. They were delighted with their trip and speak well of the people. They were the guests of Mrs. McEachern. Commissioner Robinson last week called on Messrs. Ellis and Harrington who are hunting at Clearwater. Mr. Ellis had his moose and they have seen a number of others so that Mr. Harrington expects to get his shortly. Carol Rungius and Geo. McKay are their guides.

Capt. K. R. Mandley, the Imperial Remount officer, who recently spent a few weeks at Whitney Brook, succeeded in getting what is generally conceded to be the prettiest moose head ever seen here. It had a spread of 58 inches with twenty-nine points, all perfect and evenly balanced. Edward White was his guide and Allan Matchett his cook. Capt. Mandley was delighted with his trip and gave Mr. White a flattering recommendation as to his abilities as a guide which we have not a doubt that Mr. White merited.

Messrs. Edwin Holmes and E. A. Slack of Brookline, Mass., had a fine trip and were the most successful party that returned up to date. They were in the Band Mountain county with guides Arthur Pringle and Sydney Thomas and succeeded in shooting two moose, two caribou, moose heads had a spread of sixty-two and a half inches and the other a spread of fifty-two inches. The deer head was also a magnificent specimen. To say that these gentlemen were delighted with their trip is only mildly expressing their sentiments. Mr. Holmes said that from the large number of young bulls they had seen he was convinced that our game was being well looked after. Their party saw fully ninety big game animals and succeeded in getting a number of the photographs of big game.

Messrs. H. K. McKirland and Edwin McKesson of New York who were hunting on the north branch of the Little Southwest with guides John Embold and Theo. Shultz arrived in town Monday night with a moose and caribou each and a deer head. These gentlemen were here last year but were unsuccessful. They saw twenty-nine moose and seven caribou, and were highly pleased with their trip.

name is honored throughout America for his scholarly utterances, looking to the welfare of the Public; that broad-minded ecclesiastic, whose name is synonymous with good will, and whose actions are distinguished by the broadest spirit of Catholicity; we feel constrained to offer you that respect which is due to one of your high standing. Yet, above all, and in a more particular manner do the members of this fraternal Society honor one whose name has been identified for years with the advancement of the association, and who, as Grand Spiritual adviser, has done so much, by word and pen, to forward its interests, and to engender a spirit of Confidence in its ability to accomplish the ends of its establishment.

Since the day when, in your humble, once in that beautiful island, we resided, you have designated this "Garden of Canada", the summons came to take upon yourself greater duties and more extended responsibilities. Since, in obedience to the divine call, you have "Come up higher," you, our encircled island, to rule over the destinies of the church in this land, we have rejoiced in the fact that you have attended your administrative duties with a pride in the fact that the fact and social courtesy of the Catholic Church.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

Large Attendance—Interesting Papers and Discussions.

The twenty-fifth annual meeting of the Northumberland County Teachers' Institute commenced in the Council Chamber, at 10 o'clock on Thursday morning. President Wathen was in the chair. After a short address by the President, dwelling on the duty of teachers making themselves more of a factor in public affairs, the meeting proceeded to the enrollment of members, and on motion the fee was fixed at 25 cents. Mr. Wright who was to read the first paper, being absent, Mr. J. G. Merseman's paper on Attention in Education was substituted and read by the President. Mr. Merseman's work was very thorough, dealing with the various theories of education as illustrated in the humanistic, naturalistic and realistic schools of education, and showing the importance of attention must play in any successful scheme of education. As the hour was late when the President finished the paper, the meeting adjourned without discussion.

The second session of the Institute opened at 2 p. m. On motion of Mr. McIntosh, seconded by Mr. Clarke, the present meeting of the Institute was called the twenty-fifth annual meeting, thus recognizing the combined meeting of the Gloucester, Kentville and Northumberland County teachers as a legal meeting of the Northumberland County Institute. Dr. Cox addressed the Institute on Methods of Education. He contrasted the system of education of the present day with the system of forty years ago, and showed the progress of the artificial system, and the wisdom of the natural system. He also showed the wisdom of the natural system in the child's mind, and the wisdom of the teacher in finding the natural method of presenting the various problems of school work, and also on the greater difficulty that would be experienced by the teacher in trying to follow the natural system than would be the case if the artificial system were followed. The subject was briefly discussed by the President.

Miss Troy read a paper on Nature Work in Grades III and IV, briefly discussing the object of nature lessons in the lower grades, and outlining the course of lessons to be followed during the two years. The subject was briefly discussed by several members of the Institute.

The fourth session of the Institute opened at 7 o'clock Friday morning. President Wathen being absent, the Institute proceeded to elect a president. Mr. J. J. Clarke was chosen by the meeting to fill the chair. After roll call, Mr. McIntosh proceeded with his paper on Botany. After a few preliminary remarks on the interest which children take in nature and in plants in particular, which interest makes it an easy matter to teach them botany, and also dwelling on the fact that children as well as teachers sometimes interest themselves only in plants which they know, thus showing the importance of the teacher being able to identify and name any plant which may come under his notice, Mr. McIntosh distributed a plant among the teachers and proceeded to identify it or lead the assembled teachers to identify it.

The subject of botany was discussed by Mr. Clarke and Dr. Cox.

Mr. McNaughton read his paper on School Devices.

Miss Beatrice Ellis read a good paper on School discipline, and it was discussed by Dr. Cox, Mr. McNaughton, Mr. Clarke and Mr. Crocker.

At the opening of the afternoon meeting, Mr. Clarke not being present, Mr. McNaughton was called to the chair.

In the absence of a gentleman who was to have read a paper, the meeting resolved itself into a question of many questions being asked and answered.

Dr. Cox referred to the withdrawal of Mr. Yorton from teaching as a loss to the county and to the profession in general, and moved, seconded by Mr. McIntosh, that a committee of two be appointed to draw up a resolution expressing the regret of the Institute at Mr. Yorton's withdrawal.

This was carried, and Dr. Cox and Mr. McNaughton were appointed the committee. Mr. Benn was called to the chair during Mr. McNaughton's absence in the committee room.

Dr. Cox reported the following: Whereas, F. P. Yorton, M. A., late Principal of the Haxby Academy, Newcastle, has retired from the teaching profession to pursue the study of medicine; And Whereas, Mr. Yorton was for many years a very prominent and helpful member of this Institute;

Therefore Resolved, That this Institute regret the great loss it has suffered in the withdrawal of such a clever educationist and teacher from the profession;

And further that it desires to assure him of its gratitude and wishes for his success in his new career.

This was adopted unanimously and the Secretary was instructed to forward it to Mr. Yorton.

Mr. Crocker was of the opinion that something more than the above resolution was due to Mr. Yorton, and therefore moved that a committee of three be appointed for the purpose of presenting to the Institute a substantial gift of the esteem of the Institute.

Carried.
Dr. Cox, Mr. J. J. Clarke, President.
The following were present:
President—James K.
Vice President—James K.
Secretary—James K.
Treasurer—James K.
Additional—Miss B. Ellis.

Dr. Cox presided over the meeting.
