REFORMERS BEATEN.

Throughout the Union to-day the gen eral result was such as to give no en-couragement to municipal reformers. In couragement to municipal reformers. In almost every place where that was made a pronounced issue the verdict was on the side of the machine. Judge Gaynor, the Tammany candidate, carried New York by 70,000 plurality over Bannard, the Republican-Fusionist, who in turn was 25,000 ahead of W. R. Hearst. Despite Profilent Total cattling of heatil was 25,000 ahead of W. R. Hearst. Despite President Taft's attitude of hostility toward the Cox machine in Cincinnati, that organization won out; the reformers were whipped out of their boots in Philadelphia; the labor organizations that elected Schmitz in San Francisco are again victorious, and Heney, the militant reformer of California, is apparently thoroughly trounced. The Fingy Connors machine wins in Buffalo, and the Barnes machine in Albany.

About the only gleam of hope for municipal reformers is to be found in the Indianapolis election, where Gauss, the Democratic candidate, was defeated by Lewis Shank. The brewers and the liquor interests generally are said to have Lewis Shank. The brewers and the liquor interests generally are said to have spent money like water to elect Gauss, and Thomas Taggart worked for him. There were only three elections for Governor yesterday—in Rhode Island, Virginia and Masachusetts. The Republicans carried Rhode Island and Masachusetts and the Democrats, as usual, won in Virginia. Governor Abram J. Pothier is re-elected in Rhode Island over Olney Arnold by a plurality of at won in Virginia. Governor Abram J. Pothier is re-elected in Rhode Island over Olney Arnold by a plurality of at least 5,000. Judge William Hedges Mann is elected Governor of Virginia to succeed Claude A. Swanson, after a campaign of unusual bitterness. The Republican candidate was Captain William P. Kent, and toward the close of the contest attacks affecting Kent's integrity were made by Congressman Glass and Governor Swanson.

The centre of interest in Maryland was the constitutional amendment disfranchising the bulk of the negro population. This amendment has been beaten, as a similar amendment was four years ago, but by a smaller majority.

The chief interest outside of New York, however, centred not on these State contests, but on the many municipal elections throughout the Union. Of these the liveliest was in Cleveland, where Mayor Tom L. Johnson has at last met his Waterloo. But in this election Johnson, opposed by a candidate without half Burton's renown—Herman Interchangeable and should have the same discipline and uniform signals. He found the Canadians strong, healthy, cheery, energetic; the best specimens of the British race he had ever seen. The loyalty of the Canadians was unbounded. Their energy was splendid. They could very well have sat still on the question of defence, for they could shelter themselves behind the Monroe doctrine. But they are too proud an offshoot of the old stock to do that. They determined to defend their trade routes. Having alluded to the excellent feeling prevailing between Canada and the United States, Admiral Beresford declared the nation should not talk of having a fleet that could win a battle. It should rather aim at having such an empire fleet as nobody could attack at all.

Quite a rbeeze was caused by the reading of a resolution submitted by Miss. Archibald asking the convention to go on record as condemning bridge whist. Scarcely had the Secretary finished the reading of the resolution when a Quebe delegation moved as an amendment that no action be taken in the matter. The W.-C. T. U., she contended, was banded together to fight the liquor traffic, and had no right to give opinions on social questions like that. For herself, she declared she did not play cards, nor did she approve of it, but she knew many people who were as good as if not better than she who saw no harm n a game of cards.

At this point the President asked Miss Archibald if she would not withdraw her resolution. This, however, she refused to do. She had been approached since comdo.
