It is thought now that a small portion of the first German payment of reparation may come to Canada. The payment of 150,000,000 gold marks made will, it is stated in press reports, be applied to the cost of the allied army of occupation. As Canada contributed a small number of men to the army of occupation for a short time immediately after the armistice, she may be a recipient of an amount partially to cover her expenditure.

He informed them that rays sufficiently powerful to be useful in treating cancer affected persons in rooms on the other side of thick walls, and in apartments above and below the radiograph room.
