M. C. L. I.

The M.C.L.I. held its usual weekly meeting last night, owing to Bible Society meeting to-night. The subject for debate was, "That it is as much the duty of the State to teach Practical Business as it is to teach common school studies." Mr. S. Woods, leader for the affirmative, briefly reviewing the growth and development of commercial and industrial life, especially during the last century, showed how necessary was Practical Business training or Technical Education, as taught by Technical and Business Colleges and also in manual training classes. The boy by means of his technical education would be efficiently trained and business could only be improved.

Mr. A. Soper, leader for the negative, declared, Technical Education to be unpractical, the common elementary studies as taught in the schools, if properly taught, would be amply sufficient for a boy to start in life. The cost and difficulty of finding technical teachers to send around the island, also the trouble of selecting suitable professions for industries for a boy not old enough to judge for himself.

Mr. T. Soper, for the affirmative, showed how difficult it is for boys to receive technical education along the lines of their trade or profession and technical colleges should be established. How many accidents are caused by unskilled workmen? Mr. Parkins, for the negative, declared himself in favor of scientific teaching along the lines of local industries and the fisheries, but this was not Practical Business training, only one out of four would receive any real benefit. Mr. J. Baggs believed that common elementary studies are not sufficient, and boys ought to be given a chance to study and acquire a thorough knowledge of their profession or trade. Mr. W. Peters, for the negative, thought that a boy who was given a good grounding in elementary studies was capable of developing himself along the lines of his trade. Lively discussion followed, six or seven speakers taking part, and on the vote being taken the negative won by a fair majority.

McMurdo's Store News

THURSDAY, Jan. 27th, 1916. On chilly days, try a glass of Hot Malted Milk, or a cup of Hot Oxo Cordial, or of Tomato Bouillon. These delicious and appetizing drinks appeal to different tastes, but all have this quality in common, that they act as a gentle but reliable stimulant, and help better than anything else, perhaps, to keep the cold out. If you are passing drop in and order one. You will feel much better after you have finished it. Price 10c. a glass or cup.

Cream of Lilies is valuable as an emollient at all seasons and of course at this time of year it is almost a necessity. For those who suffer from sensitive skins, who spray or chap easily, it is an inseparable attendant on the toilet, and is becoming more and more an indispensable adjunct to the toilet table. Price 25 cts. a pot.

Here and There.
