To-Day's Messages.

INCORRIGIBLE.

DUBLIN, To-day.
J. J. Walsh, a prominent member of the Sinn Fein party, whose death sentence for participation in the recent rebellion was commuted to ten years' penal servitude and who was lately granted an amnesty, was arrested here yesterday in connection with the formation of Sinn Fein Clubs in the south of Ireland. The court martial recently has sentenced 3 Sinn Feiners from County Clare and four from County Galway to imprisonment varying from two years to three months for offenses against the anti-drilling order.

SPAIN UNDER MARTIAL LAW.

MADRID, To-day.
The whole of Spain has been placed under martial law following disorders resulting from a general strike which is spreading. This decision was reached at a meeting of the Cabinet. Instructions were sent to the military authorities, who have been given full control. Disturbances which occurred at various places have been stopped by the military forces.

KERENSKY'S CONFIDENCE.

PETROGRAD, To-day.
Premier Kerensky in reply to the message of good will which King George sent him at the beginning of the fourth year of the war said: "I am certain the Russian people will find the necessary strength to surmount the serious trials of the present time and conduct the world war to an end which will be worthy of the terrible sacrifices already made by every nation which is struggling for right against might."

BRITISH OFFICIAL.

LONDON, To-day.
An official statement from British Headquarters in France issued last night reads: "The hostile artillery showed increased activity during the morning south-east of the Arras-Cambrai Road and in the Neuport Sector. Our airplanes and balloons carried out a great deal of successful work yesterday in conjunction with our artillery. Many photographs were taken and four aerobuses were bombed heavily. Enemy air craft again were particularly aggressive in the fighting in the air. Nine German airplanes were brought down, two of which fell within our lines and eight others were driven down out of control. Seven of our machines are missing."

FIGHTING AT LENS.

BRITISH FRONT, FRANCE, BELGIUM.—(By Associated Press).—Lens was the centre of main activity on the British front last night. The Germans continued to exhibit apprehension in the heavy bombardment of the back to the West and North West of the city. The Canadian lines have been gradually tightening about this important French mining centre and the Canadians now hold strong positions in the western environs.

This apparently has been disturbing the Germans, who have placed a high value on the retention of Lens because of its enviable position in the Pas de Calais coal fields. Yesterday was another big day for the British Air Service. A large number of battles were fought over this front with honours decidedly in favor of the British. At least six enemy planes were destroyed and other machines were brought down out of control. In the course of last week's air fighting one brilliant young Britisher accounted for his fortieth machine.

TURNED AWAY FROM LONDON.

LONDON, To-day.
Another official statement issued this evening says: The reports of our pilots show conclusively that the enemy air craft formation which attacked the eastern coast yesterday was making for London. On sighting a large number of our airplanes, which were sent up against them, they turned abruptly and made their way out to sea, again dropping some bombs on the southern coasts and unloading the rest when out at sea. The action of our anti-aircraft guns was of great assistance to our fighting squadrons.

A Ship-Wrecked Crew Arrive in Halifax.

Went Down in a Storm, But on the Same Steamer Which Landed Them at an Atlantic Port, There Were Crews of Six Other Vessels That Had Been Torpedoed.

Halifax, August 10.—The mate, cook and crew of three men, John Murphy, A. Tucker, T. Brion, William Turpin and P. McLean, of the schooner Conqueror which was lost at sea when on a voyage from Cadiz, Spain, for St. John's, Nfld., with a cargo of salt, arrived in Halifax last night and are at the Sailor's Home. They are all Newfoundlanders, and will be sent to their homes this week. They came from Boston via Yarmouth, and were landed at an Atlantic port on Monday by a French steamer, which took them on board at the Azores islands on her voyage across. The Captain, James Kent, was brought across with his men and will reach Halifax in a day or two and will accompany the men home.

The Conqueror was a vessel of 95 tons, sprung askew in a storm, was abandoned and went down off Flores, June 11. She encountered no submarines, according to the crew.

Satin foundations with draperies of sheer lace are frequent among semi-evening gowns.

SPANIARDS BEFORE COURT.—Three Spaniards, belonging to a vessel now in port, were sued before the Central District Court for damages done to a motor boat, owned by a fisherman of the Southside. It appears that while cruising about the harbor a few days ago the Spaniards ran into the motor boat, which was left lying at anchor. Owing to the defendants not understanding the English language, the case was postponed until to-morrow when an interpreter will be engaged.

PLAGIARISED AND OTHERWISE.

TWO WEATHER PROPHECIES.

"They're sure to play a game to-night," the eager rooster said, "because the wind is from the South and the sun shines overhead. I mind one year there was a drought that lasted clear till Fall. The wind that year stayed in the South and didn't switch at all. They've got a corking thriller on; I'm going up to-night, I hardly ever get a chance to see the Irish fight."

"Well, I dunno," the player said. "Them looks like rainclouds overhead."

"I'd like to bet it will not rain," the eager rooster cried. "I want to see old Dyke Rolis just give that pill one ride! He sure can bang 'em, that old lad, the high ones and the low; this is the first night off I've had since quite a while ago."

"The sun looks bright up overhead," "Look at them clouds," the player said.

"Well, it won't rain, it mustn't rain," exclaimed the rooster wild, "The sun keeps growing brighter and the breeze is soft and mild. I've studied weather all my life and never get it wrong. I guess I'll go and tell the wife to bring the kid along."

"They'll take the tram—she'll bring the child!" "Here comes the rain," the player smiled.

TO-NIGHT'S GAME.

Weather permitting, to-night will witness the crucial game of the series when the Red Lions will face the B. I. S. and endeavour to wrest from them the Allen-Wandercer Cup and 1917 pennant to which the Irishmen have now a fair claim. Should they be successful both clubs will be tied, while a win for the B. I. S. probably ensures them the championship. In view of the result of the Mount Cashel series, the Hiltz crew are full of hope; yet, on the other hand no misgivings are felt by the McGrath aggregation who will have Carew working for them. Either Quick or Gowans will do moud duty for the Lions.

WALLOPING WILLIAM.

Bill Soaker was a felder with No speed and little grace. He had to knock the pill a mile To get to second base. He couldn't play the sunfield, where His holding was a fright; When Bill was hanging round. The Fans would yell "Good Night."

His whip was ordinary and He couldn't cover ground. The hit and run was quite passe' That William packed around. They never tried a double steal If he was on a sack. For, if they did, the guy behind Would spike him in the back. But though he wasn't graceful in The field, and wasn't quick, The pitchers round the circuit knew That William packed around. They knew that though he couldn't beat A tortoise, in his prime, He cracked the ball so far, he could Afford to take his time. And thus you see, kind friends, in spite Of William's withered wing, And lack of speed he made the fans Go mad when he would swing. They knew that though Bill wasn't very fast upon his pin, A HEALTHY WALLOP COVERS UP A MULTITUDE OF SINS.

Wants a Life Line.

The residents of Long's Hill, some time ago, petitioned the City Council for the privilege of running a life line or guide rope up the centre of that thoroughfare to guide pedestrians up and down through the dust when the wind blows and the motor cars pass, as during that time it is impossible to see from one side of the Hill to the other; and, in order to assist the powers that be, they have in view the idea of asking the nearby farmers to tender for the removal of the fertilizer collected in heaps in the centre of the Hill and side-drains. This they consider necessary, in order to prevent a flood and the choking of the gutties when next it rains.—adv11

LEAGUE MEETS TO-NIGHT.—The Football League will hold a special meeting to consider some important business, amongst which will be discussed whether or not a third round is to be played. There were never more than two rounds played before and two years ago the teams only faced each other once for the season.

Killed With the Canadians.

Word has been received in town that Private Sturrock, formerly foreman of Knowling's Duckworth Street Grocery, has been killed while fighting with the Canadians in France. Private Sturrock was attached to the Alberta 63rd Regiment, and enlisted at Edmonton, near which he had carried on farming on a large scale. Some time ago he was severely wounded but quickly recovered, but was killed in a recent drive in which his regiment participated.
