A married man who enlisted recently was heard to say, that with $1.10 a day and $20 a month separation allowance and with board and clothing, besides having an opportunity to get a smack at the Hun is a job that no fellow has a right to kick about.

The new three-masted schooner Phileen, launched some time ago by Mayor Williams, of Dartmouth, and now owned by a Newfoundland firm, will, it is expected, be ready to take cargo this week. The vessel during the past few weeks has been made ready for sea, and the owners are now awaiting the registration papers which are coming from New York. Capt. John Kendrick and his son, Sydney Kendrick have been in Halifax for several weeks waiting to take the vessel over, and the crew is also in Halifax. The Phileen is one of a number of vessels recently purchased by this Newfoundland concern in Nova Scotia.

Best for liver and bowels, bad breath, bad colds, sour stomach.

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to tor-pid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and A Cascaret to-night will surely straighten you out by morning. ## Herring Fishery.

There is not much doing yet in connection with the herring fishery in and around Bay of Islands and Bonne Bay, though several vessels are on their way from Gloucester for cargoes. The stormy weather of late has been a great hindrance to the fishermen of the West Coast.

The schr. J. D. Hazen, a well-known American herring carrier, has been bought by Mr. G. M. Barr and will be used in future in the local mercantile O Sons of Terra Nova! ye warriors tried and true A song we weave, a song we sing—a martial song for you. For whether Fortune smile or frown you'll never flee the foe When battles rage on land and sea and the angry tempests blow.

'Twas not for worldly nonour's sake you crossed the stormy sea: The call of Duty led you forth to the War for Liberty. Your nets you hadly laid aside and drew your boats to land, Without a thought of craven fear for Truth and Right to stand.

On the heights of red Gallipoli you met the Turkish horde— The men who for a thousand years had gloried in the sword. With Alzacs and with Britons there—a hero ev'ry man— You camly heard the word Advance! and you boldly led the van.

ntinople's minarets 'twas not your fate to se till the order came to cease you strove for victory, story swept around the globe, and all men understand dauntless will and martial skill of the men of Newfoundland.

On fields of trodden Flanders and on the fields of France You faced the Teuton shot and shell, the Teuton sword and lance; And generations yet unborn will gladly her and tell How valiably you fought and won—and your comrades fought and fell!

When on the decks of Britain's ships you wore the Navy's blue, You proved your worth in work and watch, and in the battle, too. With handymen of Mother Land you help to man the guns When Hood went down and Jellicoe was engaged in scourging Huns.

Let parents teach their children to sound your praise in song, And children bid their children to roll your fame along. The Sons of Terra Nova Isle will never flee the foe When battles rage on land and sea and the whistling tempests blow.

Fire During Gale.

While the N W gale was at its eight last night the chimney in the residence of Mr. S. Ryall, on Circular Road, took fire and the outcome might have been serious but for the promptitude of Fireman Reardigan, of the Eastern Station, who by his admirable efforts removed the canger in quick time and without damage. It was fortunate the outbreak was discovered in its early stages and put out so successfully, as with such a high wind raging in such a thickly inhabited section, the result would otherwise have been disastrous.

On arrival of the express the woman found herself in a strange city without money or friends and had it not been for the prompt action of Inspector General Hutchings, who gave orders to have the mother and child made comfortable for the night, they would have fared beetly. They returned to Avondale badly. They returned to Avondal by to-days train.
