malero without the Oaterans interfering? Surely they did not bring me here simply that I might be left to perish?"

"They may have so intended, my son," replied the old min," may, I believe the ydid intend it; but let me tell you the Caterans have fled before the arms of the M'Leeds, who are even now despoiling them of their ill-gotted gains."

"What! have you dispersed the Caterans?"

"Not altogether; but for the present."

them of their ill-gotted gains."

"What! have you dispersed the Caterans?"

"Not altogether; but for the present."

"But 'am thinkin', Maister Hector," observed Gordon, "that ye sud try an' come awa' noo. Mind the bit lassis ayout at Castle M'Leod 'ill be waitin' yer comin' wi' an anxious heart. An', for that pairt o'd, I'm no carin' aboot my sin Jeannie bein' partit frae me but as short a time as I can help. Sae I think ye sud juist ca' yer clansmen thegither, an' let's be joggin'."

"Yes, Gordon," exclaimed Hector, "I think we will go out of this. I am tired enough of it, I can tell you. And besides as you suggest, we should lose no time in letting those at home know we are safe. But who is Jeannie?"

"Jeannie! Jeannie's my sister. Ye mind, losh man, I spak' tae you an' Miss Macgregor sboot her juist afore I partit free ye yon mornin' at Kniloch Ewe."

"And have you found her?"

"Fund her! Ay, faith have I, an' nae thanks tae me but tae Miss Macgregor. But there's a story hangs at the back o' that that ye mann needs ken. But this is nae the place tae tell'd. When yo are them an' have restit, an' naethin' troublin' ye, I'll tell ye someting that may weel surpreses yo. But, come awa'; lat's oot o' this."

As he spoke, Gordon stepped out through the aperture into the passage, the others following. They shortly joined the clansmen, who were congregated at the entrance to the cave, having failed to obtain the plunder they anticipated. They were talking in' an axcited tones and with wild gestures, but their whole aspect changed as they saw their Chief appear, accompanied by his son.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1874-7TH YEAR

THE ALDINE,

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY JOURNAL, UNI VERSALLY ADMITTED TO BE THE HAND-SOMEST ERIODPICAL IN THE WOBLD. A REPRESENTATIVE AND CHAM-PION OF AMERICAN TASTE.

Not for Sale in Book or News Stores.

Not for Sale in Book or News Stores.

THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timety interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature; and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, THE ALDINE is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or sharacter. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of tine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes forten times it cost; and then, there are the chromos, braides!

other shape or number of volumes for ten times it cost; and then, there are the chromos, besides!

ART DEPARTMENT, 1874.

The illustrations of THE ALDINE have won a world-wide reputation, and in the art centres of Europe it is an admitted fact that its wood cuts are examples of the highest perfection ever attained. The common prejudice in favor of "steel plates," is rapidly yielding to a more educated and discriminating taste which recognizes the advantages of superior artistic quality with greater facility of production. The wood-cuts of THE ALDINE possess all the delicacy and elaborate linish of the more costly steel plate, while they afford a better rendering of the artists original. To fully realize the wonderful work which THE ALDINE is doing for the cause of art culture in America, it is only necessary to consider the cost to the people of any other decent representations of the productions of great painters. In addition to the designs by the members of the National Academy, and other noted American artists, THE ALDINE will re-produce examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view to the highest artistic success and greatest general interest. Thus the subscriber to THE ALDINE will, at a triffing cost, enjoy in his own home the pleasures and rehining influences of true art. The quarterly tinted plates for 1874 will be by Thos. Moran and J. D. Woodward. The Christmas issue for 1874 will contain special designs appropriate to the season, by our best artists, and will surpass in

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

The ever-increasing circulation of this excellent monthly proves its continued adaptation to popular desires and needs. Indeed, when we think into how many homes it penetrates the education was well as entertainers of the public mind, for its vast popularity has been won by no spoed to stupid prejudices or depraved tastes.—Boston Globe.

The character which this Magazine possesses for vasiety, enterprise, artistic wealth and literary culture that has kept pace with, if it has not led, the times, should cause its conductors to regard it with justifiable compliacency. It also entities them to a great slaim upon the public grating all the days of this life.—Brooklyn Eagle.
