The Crayon Comedy.

J. W. Bengough, the inimitable lecturer, humorist and cartoonist, entertained a large audience at the Victoria Hall last evening. The programme was pleasantly varied, and included one of the artist's crayon comedies entitled "Feople You Know," in which he introduced a number of political personages and prophetic illustrations, which will be fulfilled on the evening of March 5. The resemblance in the artist's cartoons to the persons represented, and the rapidity of execution called forth repeated plaudits from the spectators. Among the local men whose physiognomies were subjected to criticism were the candidates Charles S. Hyman and Hon. John Carling, together with City Clerk Abbott. The burlesque on the extravagant singing as heard in opera and concert, was also much enjoyed and applauded to the echo. The affair was as much a success financially as otherwise, and as a result the Forest City 'Cycling Club will add a neat sum to its banking account.

Strathroy Items.

On Wednesday morning Wm. Richardson passed away in his 73rd year, after an illness of six months. He was a native of England, but one of Strathroy's oldest residents, the first chief of police, and for many years the efficient road commissioner. The funeral took place on Friday afternoon, when he was buried with Masonic honors. Very successful anniversary services were held in the Baptish Church here on Sunday last, when able sermons were preached to large congregations, morning and evening, by Rev. A. H. Munro, of St. Thomas, and in the afternoon by Rev. W. G. Jordan, of Strathroy. On Monday evening a teameeting was held which was largely attended. Pastor Dayfoot occupied the chair, and in addition to a musical and literary programme, excellent speeches literary programme, excellent speeches were given by Rev. W. G. Jordan and Rev. A. H. Munro. The financial proceeds were highly satisfactory, and will go a long way towards wiping out the debt on the charge.

On Sunday evening the Rev. Dr. Aylesworth preached a rousing sermon on poli-tics, hitting at existing evils, without ref-erence to party.

VOICES OF THE PEOPLE.

Not Loyal Language. To the Editor of the ADVERTISEE:

Mr. Carling makes great professions of loyalty. Yet at the nomination he murdered the Queen's English in every paragraph of his speech. "I done it;" i"The Government never done it," etc. Is it loyal, I want to know, again, for a Minister of the Crown to thus ravage and mutilate the Queen's English?
