can't see anyone, then ruthlessly forge off, eyes put out of commission. But we don't care. It's raining. When we get into a car we carefully lean our dripping umbrella against the person next to us. If possible, we plant the tip on his shoes. It isn't very convenient to take off one's shoes in the car and run the water out. But that is his business, not ours.

When we get off a trolley we open the umbrella in the face of those waiting to get on. Several may have their teeth knocked out, but we can't help it. There are a great many other things we can do with an umbrella, and we do them all. Nobody is expected to be polite in rainy weather. If we attempted it, his battered remains, eyeless, hatless, hairless, would lie by the wayside a pathetic monument to the foolhardiness of attempting to be courteous on a rainy day.-Philadelphia Telegraph.

Time to Count the Cost. We think that it is time for the American people to begin to count the cost of their little experiment in the quired a large water power concession insurrection in the Philippines began April 30, 1902, when the insurrection was practically at an end. 69 of our ofprettier city to his knowledge than Moros, ladronism still continues, and, above all, the deadly climate is still ruining the lives of our soldiers. We make no argument now, but simpy call attention to one factor of the problem which the President and those who agree with him seem prone to push into the background. It is always well to look at both sides of the question. Possibly in this connection may be permitted to mention the fact that thousands of Filipinos have lost their lives either in battle or by disease and starvation consequent on the war. Nor should it be forgotten Mr. Graham Makes an Able Mr. Conmee then explained again the war. Nor should it be forgotten that we paid Spain $20,000,000 for the railway, and even if he were interested islands, and that the war up to April, in the fish company, there was nothing 1902, had cost this nation $170,326,586 in gold. Facts About Man's Growth. "The growth of mankind," said a scientist, "is an anteresting study. Recent statistics have proved that men's stature increases up to the age of 50 years. This is a refutation of the former belief, according to which men stopped growing at 22 or 23. "Boys and girls see-saw oddly in the rapidity of their growth. The fastest growth experienced in life comes between the ages of 1 and 5 years. Boys and girls grow about equally here. From 5 to 10 the boys outstrip the girls, but from 10 to 15 the girls outstrip the boys. At 11 and at 14 the girls are the boys' superiors in weight. "But between 16 and 20 the boys forge ahead, taking at that stage a lead which they never again relinquish. The boys cease their perceptible growth at 23; the girls cease theirs at 20. From 23 onward to 50, men, however, continue to grow (no observations have been made on women), though this growth is, of course, slight. They also increase slowly in weight, but from 50 to 60, their weight increases very rapidly. "Male strength increases most mark edly from the age of 12 to that of 19. From 19 to 30 it increases more slowly. From 30 onward it begins very slowly "Female strength increases most ra-
