Coming Rivals in World's Series Compared

FRANK L. CHANCE, manager and field captain, first base—Bats .280, fields .996. Is a born leader, aggressive, daring, fast on the bases and thoroughly seasoned in several championship series. JOHN J. EVERS, second base-Bats .250, fields .965. Is a student and exponent of inside ball, crafty, always striving to outguess the opposing side; an ideal ball player to head the batting list. JOSEPH TINKER, shortstop-Bats .297, fields .936. Is pronounced by most critics the greatest fielding shortstop in the major leagues. Is at his best in important games and a main cog in the Cubs' inside play.

HARRY STEINFELDT, third base-Bats .238, fields .950. Is steady, a swift, accurate thrower, fast and sure on ground balls and high flies and a dangerous batter in

JAMES T. SHECKARD, left field—Bats .235, fields .980. Was champion sacrifice hitter of the National League in 1909. Is a sure fielder, studying every batter, covers ground rapidly and has a perfect "peg." ARTHUR HOFMAN, centre field—Bats .329, fields .977. Is styled by most critics the greatest outfielder in the game today, in addition to being one of the hardest hitters in the league. FRANK M. SCHULTE, right field—Bats .288, fields .975. Is a finished fielder, fast in all branches of the game, a terrific, slashing hitter and possessed of a deadly throwing arm. JOHN J. KLING, catcher—Bats .290, fields .978. Is an expert in every particular, keen, calculating, quick to discover the weakness of an opponent and to act accordingly. In short, the star of them all. JAMES ARCHER, catcher—Bats .257, fields .970.' Is the only exponent of the "squat" throw in either league, has a perfect heave, is dangerous at bat with men on bases and fairly swift. MORDECAI BROWN, pitcher-Bats .165, fields .964. He i past master as a strategist, gifted with almost perfect control and a varied assortment of bewildering curves. For years a bright star on the slab.

EDWARD M. REULBACH, pitcher-Bats .105, fields 917. When right Reulbach is almost unbeatable. Owing to an attack of diphtheria early last spring he has been slow in attaining his best pitching form. JOHN PFIESTER, pitcher—Bats .100, fields .939. Is the star lefthander of the Cubs, effective against all clubs, whether left or right hand batter. Is counted upon as one of the mainstays in this series. ORVAL OVERALL, pitcher-Bats .118, fields 1,000. Has been out of the game a major part of the season with an injury to his pitching arm. Is gradually preparing for the series and sure to start.

LEONARD (KING) COLE, pitcher-Bats .240, fields .880. Is easily the most sensational pitching find of the season, scoring many victories over the strongest clubs in the league, using a drop ball and terrific speed. HARRY McINTYRE, pitcher-Bats .300, fields .950. Is a veteran relying upon a side arm spit ball and the old-time curve. LOU RICHIE, pitcher-Bats .143, fields .934. Richie has aided the Cubs materially this season in the pennant struggle. Is a heady twirler using a curve and change of pace, and of especial value in finishing up. HENRY ZIMMERMAN, utility-Bats .285, fields .988. Has been of inestimable value to the Cubs in many import-ant contests and is noted for his great all-around playing and batting abilities. CLARENCE BEAUMONT, utility outfielder—Bats .280, fields .981. A hard-hitting seasoned veteran, valuable as pinch hitter, a close student of opposing batters and fast on the bases and in the field.

HEAVILY PLAYED

HARRY DAVIS, field captain and first base—Bats .248, fields .988. Is largely responsible for the inside play of the Athletics. Is a timely hitter, slow on the bases and a seasoned performer at first base. EDDIE COLLINS, second base-Bats .318, fields .970. Is a heady, game player, leading the American League in base stealing; a dangerous batter and covers as much JOHN BARRY, shortstop—Bats .252, fields .947. Has never been put to the test in a world's series. Is fast, a fair hitter, possessed of a strong, accurate throwing arm.

FRANK BAKER, third base—Bats .284, fields .988. Is younger and livelier than Steinfeldt, plays bounds in brilliant style, a good pinch hitter and likely to produce a long wallop at the psychological moment. BRISCOE LORD, left field-Bats .242, fields .990. Doesn't cover as much ground as Sheckard, hasn't the arm of the Cub veteran and is lacking in science, though a steady fielder and formidable batter. 'TOPSY" HARTSEL, left fielder-Bats .225, fields .970. Is one of the veterans of Mack's team and generally slowing up in his days of usefulness in the major leagues. A fair fielder, with weakening arm. 'RUBE" OLDRING, centre field-Bats .314, fields .963. Is fast in every branch of the game, a slashing and timely hitter but not the equal of Hofman, playing with little regard for the scientific angles.

DAN MURPHY, right field—Bats .302, fields .975. Is one of the survivors of Philadelphia's last championship club, a hard hitter and sensational fielder, though not quite the equal of Schulte. CHARLES A. (CHIEF) BENDER, pitcher-Bats .279, fields

.960. Is one of the most consistent winners on the slab corps and easily the sensation of the American League. Is counted upon to win his games. JOHN COOMBS, pitcher-Bats .218, fields .975. Has pitched brilliant ball all season, and, with Bender and Plank, has kept the Athletics on top. Is strong and effective against all clubs and is in perfect form.

"CY" MORGAN, pitcher—Bats .151, fields .964. Is a reliable "spitball" twirler and was instrumental early in the season in scoring many victories for the Mackmen. EDDIE PLANK, pitcher-Bats .133, fields .989. For many seasons Plank has been recognized as one of the greatest lefthanders in baseball. Is steady, crafty and possessed of a variety of fast-breaking curves. HARRY KRAUSE, pitcher—Bats .240, fields .933. Is a young southpaw, who never has been put to the test in championship games. Is effective against hard-hitting clubs like Detroit.

JAMES DYGERT, pitcher-Bats .185, fields .945. Is a steady performer with the spitball, a valuable twirler in the pinches, and just at present rounding into form for the championship. TOMMY ATKINS, pitcher-Bats .134, fields .946. Is the third southpaw of the Athletics who has displayed promising form in the games in which he has appeared this season. IRA T. THOMAS, catcher-Bats .293, fields .965. Is a hard hitter, a strong, fairly accurate thrower, and a close student of batters. He has been out of the game a good portion of the season.

PATRICK LIVINGSTON, catcher-Bats .218, fields .962. Is a fair thrower and hitter, but has been on the hospital list the major part of the year. At present he is catching a steady, consistent game JACK McINNES, utility-Bats .211, fields .942. Is a clever

HAMILTON GETS ANOTHER. Hamilton, Ont., Sept. 21.-Hamilton has landed another important industry. The Canada Steel Company has decided to locate here. It will build a plant costing $400,000 and employ 300 men. The manufacture of light steel articles from used railway tracks will be the modus operandi. Welland offered a free site, but Hamilton's superior shipping facilities and cheap power were what induced the company to locate in Hamilton.
