A Better Way Than Diets and Exercise For Reducing

Diets and exercise are sometimes helpful for reducing. But they are inconvenient and unpleasant, and usually produce only temporary results. Then, too, they are merely corrective measures. A better way is to aid the digestive organs to turn food into muscle, bone, and sinew, and not into corpulent tissue. This method allows you to eat many kinds of food which others eat and does not require strenuous exercise.

Thousands have found that Marmola Tablets give relief from obesity in just this way. Marmola Tablets are made from the same formula as the famous Marmola Prescription. If taken after meals and at bedtime, they retard the development of fat by helping the digestive system to obtain full nutriment from food. When the accumulation of fat is checked, reduction to normal, healthy weight soon follows.

All good drug stores the world over sell Marmola Tablets at one dollar per box. Ask your druggist for them, or order them direct and they will be sent in plain wrapper, postpaid.

WOULD AMEND PROVISIONS OF MUNICIPAL ACT

Labor Member for S. Waterloo Would Allow Property Owners But One Vote.

BACK FREIGHT RATE CUT

Nickle Wants Railroad Reductions Made Slowly and With Great Care.

TORONTO, Feb. 27.—The bill moved by K. K. Homuth, Labor member for South Waterloo, to amend the municipal act so that property owners in any town or city would have only one vote on money bylaws instead of a vote in every ward in which they possess property, proved the most contentious feature of this afternoon's session of the Provincial Legislature.

It was finally decided, however, to allow the bill to go to the committee. Hon. Manning Doherty's resolution putting the house on record as urging the Dominion Railway Commission to take steps to reduce the freight rates led to considerable discussion, although there was no direct opposition to it.

A number of questions were answered by the ministers at the opening of the session. These included the following:

Shirley Denison representing the government before the timber commission had received $4,000 in fees, $400 in disbursements and $2,595 account; R. T. Harding, who assisted Mr. Denison, received $2,000 on account of the Shevlin-Clarke trial with expenses, and on the timber commission hearing, $7,845 in fees and expenses of $609.36; N. W. Rowell was paid $2,500 in fees for his part in the action against Shevlin-Clarke.

Renew Debate On Reply.

F. G. Sandy, U. F. O. (Victoria South) and W. A. Crockett (Wentworth South) continued the debate on the reply to the speech from the throne.

Mr. Sandy complimented the government on its accomplishments during the last year, paying particular attention to the assistance given to education and to agriculture.

Mr. Crockett endorsed public ownership, and maintained that the stand taken by the government as regards the hydro, the Chippawa project and hydro radials was in the best interests of public ownership and met with his support.

Hon. George S. Henry, Conservative, will continue the debate tomorrow.

In support of his bill that ratepayers be given only one vote each on money bylaws, Mr. Homuth said it was unfair on the face of it that a man who owned four small pieces of property in different wards should have four votes on a bylaw and the owner of a $100,000 building should have only one vote because his holding was all in one ward. He thought the only fair way was one owner, one vote.

M. M. MacBride (Brantford) suggested that the bill go further and provide that the ratepayer should only have one vote for alderman instead of one in each ward in which he had property. The member for Brantford was informed that he could bring in such an amendment when the bill is before the committee.

Objects to Bill.

Hon. Thomas Crawford, Conservative (Northwest Toronto), took strong exception to the bill. He said he did not believe the house had any intention of limiting the voting power of ratepayers and of taking away from them the right to express their desires in every ward in which they held property whether it should be encumbered as a by-law might provide. He was opposed to the bill going to the committee.

Wellington Hay, Liberal party leader, also opposed the bill, pointing out that the present conditions had been in vogue for a long time and this was a big far-reaching change which should not be taken until it had been given a great deal of consideration.

Hon. Mr. Raney was in favor of the bill going to the committee, as it seemed to be much fairer than the present system. The speaker declared the "yeas" in the majority when a vote was called and the bill goes on.

Hon. Manning Doherty, in presenting his resolution for lower freight rates, gave a statement of the difficulties agriculture labored under because of the high cost of transporting their produce to the markets. He laid particular emphasis on the livestock industry and said that last summer the government got behind the dairymen's association and was successful when appearing before the railway commission in having the rates reduced 25 per cent on livestock. However, there was still a very heavy burden which was strangling the farming industry.

Cites $500,000 Savings.
He estimated the reduction of 25 per cent had made a saving of $500,000 in the livestock business in Ontario alone since it came into force. He questioned the wisdom of holding up freight rates until the government railways were paying their way, when to do so agriculture was being crippled.

When the farmers were losing thousands and thousands of dollars surely it was no time to protect the dividends of shareholders in railways by keeping freight rates up. He estimated that in shipping to the stockyards and back to places for fattening and then back to abattoirs again, freight charges on an average were paid three times on every animal slaughtered in Toronto.

W. F. Nickle, the newly-elected member for Kingston, outlined the railway problem Canada was facing, and while he supported the resolution he emphasized that this was an economic question rather than a political or partisan one. There were three parties concerned—the shipper, capital and the railway—and the railway commission must be fair to all.

Travel Alone For First Time on Honeymoon.

LONDON, Feb. 27.—Viscount Lascelles and his bride, Princess Mary, will be alone together for the first time in their lives when the honeymoon train pulls away from Paddington station tomorrow afternoon at about 4 o'clock.

Court etiquette has forbidden them the privacy enjoyed by other lovers until after their wedding.

The honeymoon will begin at Weston Park, the viscount's estate, and later the couple will live for a time at the Villa Medici, near Florence, Italy.

three. It should not, in cutting freight rates, cut the wages to a point where the employees on the roads would be made to suffer discomforts. The reductions, he said, should be made slowly and with great care. The resolution was adopted without division.

Break New Ground.

The government had broken into new ground, Mr. Sandy said in continuing the debate on the reply. Increased grants to continuation classes was an example of this and had been of great benefit. The school at Montserrat, in New Ontario, was another example of the progressiveness of the administration. The government was living up to the plank of the U. F. O. platform which stood for providing education to all classes.

He complimented Hon. Manning Doherty on his fight to have the emigration in England against Canadian cattle removed, and while it had not yet been successful he believed greater progress had been obtained than ever before and eventually the ban would be lifted. He pointed to the co-operative movements among fruit growers and the cold storage plants as other successful undertakings of the government.

W. A. Crockett spoke of the good roads program of the government, and believed that the government was today more popular than ever with the people of the province. He came out in vigorous support of Premier Drury's stand in connection with the Chippawa project, giving instances in which he claimed money had been wasted in connection with that undertaking, and took the position that a commission which had been so far astray as to its estimates on this work should not be allowed to jump into the hydro radials.

Cites "Irregularities."

Turning to the last federal election he narrated a long list of what he termed "irregularities" in the handling of ballots in Wentworth after that election, including the shipping of the ballots to Ottawa and back again, the finding of ballots of polling sub-divisions eight miles apart in one envelope and ballots without the stamp of the deputy returning officers. These, he said, were brought out in the recount.

"Is it any wonder," he continued, "that fewer U. F. O. members were elected than had been expected?"

He said, however, that he was not prepared to go so far as to say that there was any criminal intent.

Premier Lenine Lives Quiet Life

He keeps in touch with the affairs of his office, however, by courier or telephone.

WOULD RETIRE PRESENT CHIEF

Brantford Police Probe Witness Favors Increasing Number of Commissioners.

BARRISTER TAKES STAND

Declares Too Much Weight Should Not Be Attached to "Parson's" Suspicions.

Special to London Advertiser.
BRANTFORD, Ontario, Feb. 27.—Called by W. Ross MacDonald, Mr. Middlemiss when the police probe recommended here Monday afternoon recalled an instance during a strike in the city years ago at the Buck Stove Works when a man named Farr was accused of striking another man. When the case came up in police court, Magistrate Livingston fined Farr, who appealed the case and was upheld by Judge Hardy.

Middlemiss didn't consider Magistrate Livingston's decision in the matter had been a fair one in view of the circumstances of the case. On another occasion Middlemiss complained of a case where the magistrate reversed his decision in a picketing case.

Middlemiss was emphatic about bootlegging operations in the city. "Was bootlegging carried on in the open?" asked Commissioner Gregory.

"Yes, it was," replied Middlemiss. The witness complained that the magistrate had adjourned the McCarruth perjury case, which he thought was a sign of weakness.

Mr. Brewster pointed out that the case was adjourned from time to time at the request of the attorney-general and that it couldn't therefore be the magistrate's fault.

Favors New Commission.

Mr. Kellett, again called by MacDonald, gave the opinions of the citizens' committee. They thought real safety for the future lay in a police commission of five members, two of whom could be appointed through the recommendation by the city council to serve a term of two years.

He referred to the recent civic election where a majority of 2,600 favored adding two new members to the police commission.

As a suggestion for the remedy of conditions in the police force and the police station, the committee would have Chief Slemin retire on a pension and would give the new chief absolute power to employ and discharge his own men. Then the three suspended police officers could be brought up before the new police commission of five members and their case could be heard and disposed of.

"This reorganization should take place from the top," remarked Mr. Kellett, as he pointed out that the commission of five members could not be influenced where a smaller commission might be.

Clergyman Testifies.
Rev. G. A. Woodside told Commissioner Gregory that his evidence could be only of a very general nature because several of the matters which he might have been able to make public he felt he could not, because the details had been given to him in confidence, and he had been asked by people not to make their names public.

"Regarding the police magistrate himself, is there complete confidence in him?" Commissioner Gregory inquired.

"That is a hard thing to say, Sir," replied Rev. Mr. Woodside.

So far as Chief Slemin was concerned, Rev. Mr. Woodside said he was regarded as being inefficient. People felt that his hands were tied. He intimated that he thought it was a peculiar thing that Chief Slemin, who prided himself on being a good detective, had not been aware of Louis Stander's activities.

Taking the stand voluntarily, Mr. Bowly, K.C., said that he had known

Chater Chosen Collector of Taxes Despite Opposition.

WINDSOR, Feb. 27.—Daniel A. Chater, clerk in the United States consular office, tonight was appointed tax collector to succeed the late Captain George Cheyne. The appointment was made in the face of opposition from Aldermen Keyser and Strong, and a letter from veterans' organizations, which requested that a soldier be appointed to the position. David Cheyne, son of the late collector, will be assistant collector and in charge of collecting.

Magistrate Livingston for a long number of years, and that he believed that he was more than ordinarily an efficient public servant.

Commends Schuler.

Mr. Bowly came out as a strong supporter for Detective Schuler. He said that he recommended Detective Schuler to his present position on the police force. This was because the detective had proved his efficiency as a Grand Trunk detective.

Kind words for Sgt. Wallace and Detective Boylan were put in by Mr. Bowly. He said that he believed that Detective Schuler had been singled out for attack in the present inquiry because of his activity against lawbreakers.

"Was bootlegging carried on in the open?" asked Commissioner Gregory.

"Yes, it was," replied Middlemiss. The witness complained that the magistrate had adjourned the McCarruth perjury case, which he thought was a sign of weakness.

Mr. Brewster pointed out that the case was adjourned from time to time at the request of the attorney-general and that it couldn't therefore be the magistrate's fault.
