

HOEY CRITICIZES ATTITUDE OF EAST

Sees No Reason Why Hudson Bay Line Should Drop.

BAY OPEN YEAR ROUND

Western Member Discusses Northern Railway Proposal.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 31.—Just so long as there were orders streaming to Eastern Canada for thousands of dollars' worth of supplies and equipment for the building of the Hudson Bay Railway, there was no criticism from the East on the building of the road," declared A. Hoey, M. P., in an address to the Winnipeg local of the United Farmers of Manitoba last night.

"Until after my trip to Ottawa following a journey to Port Nelson, I had been puzzled for some time on the attitude taken by the people and members of Eastern Canada, with little or no criticism from that quarter until four-fifths of the road was completed. What criticism there has been up to 1913 was mild. From that time the criticism was most vigorous, vehement, scathing. But why not criticism before that time?" he asked.

The question of feasibility of the port had never entered into the question as far as people who had seen the existing conditions were concerned, Mr. Hoey said.

The bay was open the year around. What trouble there would be encountered was problematical, and the report of navigators through the straits, the point of trouble, were favorable to navigation.

The question of terrible storms, ice and sundry other things of the same nature could be relegated to the "limbo" of the almost forgotten propaganda against the building of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

OTTAWA, Feb. 1.—(Canadian Press Dispatch).—Rumors that Sir Henry Thornton, president of the C. N. R., will resign on the expiration of his three-year contract with the Government, next October, are given no credence here.

The view taken here is that it is entirely too early to forecast just what will happen next October. A general election between now and then is a possibility, and should it result in the information of a new Government there might be some change in the administration of the C. N. R. On the other hand the present administration is understood to be very favorably impressed with Sir Henry's handling of a difficult railway situation and desirous of retaining his services.

88 VIOLENT DEATHS AT TORONTO IN MONTH

TORONTO, Feb. 1.—Fifty-eight people died in Toronto during January from violent causes, compared with 27 in December and 42 the corresponding month last year.

In the large list not one motor fatality is registered. In the winter season motor accidents are rare. Thirty-nine people died suddenly or were found dead. Three committed suicide, three died from alcoholic poisoning and two from falls.

One person died under an anaesthetic, while two persons were suffocated by cyanide hydride fumes when their flat was fumigated.

DUBLIN, Jan. 31.—The police to-day raided a house in the residential district of Clontarf, near Dublin, and seized a ton of explosives, many revolvers and hand grenades, 5,350 rounds of revolver ammunition and a large quantity of home-making materials. Two arrests were made.

Keep Fit This Winter

What does Winter usually mean to you? The joy of the broad outdoors? Or a succession of colds and chills and doctors' bills? If you dread the Winter—if you painfully EXIST during the Winter months instead of being full of life and vigor, glistening with the crisp invigorating air, with never a sign of a chill—you are not getting all you should out of life. There is something wrong.

Owing to too little exercise and fresh air, your liver and kidneys have lost much of their activity, permitting your blood to become impure. You are actually being robbed of energy.

"This is all very well," you say, "but what is to be done?" The answer is simple—just enough Kruschen to cover a ten cent piece, dropped in your tea or coffee every morning. It's quite tasteless but in a very short time you will begin to feel like a new man.

The Kruschen, by supplying the salt which your body requires, tones up your whole system. By restoring to normal activity your liver and kidneys, it drives out all impurities from your body and sends pure rich blood coursing through your veins.

No longer will your daily work seem a burden—rather will it be a game into which every morning you will jump with fresh eagerness. No longer will you need to fear the Winter's ill. Your blood will be in a condition to resist the attacks of disease germs.

Can you afford to be without "that Kruschen feeling?" It costs less than half a cent a day. Get a bottle of Kruschen today, and start your daily dimeful tomorrow morning.

CANADIANS PROMINENT AT MISSOURI PARLEY

On Saturday afternoon Rev. Dr. James Endicott, representing Canadian Methodists, addressed the 6,000 delegates, and Rev. Canon Cook of Toronto, preached the convention sermon. Dr. C. N. A. Wilson, a Canadian surgeon, with a record of many years' service at the Near East section of the conference, led Friday's discussion on Korea.

Canon Gould, representing the Canadian Church of England, presided over the Near East section of the conference. The place of foreign missions in the church at home was the theme developed by speakers at Saturday's session of the conference.

ASKS ABOLITION OF THE SENATE

Trades Congress Delegation Waits On Government

MANY OTHER REQUESTS

Proportional Representation In Group Constituencies Urged

OTTAWA, Feb. 1.—(Canadian Press Dispatch).—Abolition of the Senate, establishment of unemployed insurance and old age pensions and a request that Canada ask the United States Government to remove the discrimination between Canadian-born and other Canadian citizens in the quota regulations were among the legislative proposals submitted to the prime minister and Cabinet on Saturday afternoon by a deputation from the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

Other matters submitted were amendments to the Election Act to provide for proportional representation in group constituencies and the transferable vote in single constituencies, the creation of a public holiday on election day or betterment of voting hours for workmen's ballots. The deputation urged that immediate effect be given to the eight-hour-day conventions of the international labor organizations as a law within the power of the Dominion Government. This subject was introduced by C. F. Ingles, Canadian inspector in the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Speaking for the abolition of the Senate, J. T. Foster, vice-president of the congress, informed the Government that there had been no change in the policy of Congress that the best interests of the country could be served by way with the Senate.

In presenting the case for unemployed insurance, James Simpson, vice-president of the congress, stressed the importance of numerous public bodies for a measure of this nature and the inability of the workers themselves to make provision against the off-coming periods of unemployment.

Tom Moore, president of the congress, stated the immigration proposals, concerning the Government for attempting to remove from the Immigration Act objectionable clauses discriminating against British-born subjects and permitting the deportation of political offenders without trial by jury. It was regretted that this legislation had been rejected by the Senate. Protest was lodged against the continued influx of industrial workers notwithstanding the volume of unemployment existing in Canada and amendments to the act were requested which would place in the prohibited classes all contract labor except such as was approved by the Employment Service Council of Canada. Other requests were for the discouragement of immigration of children under school age, abolition of bonuses to private employment agencies, and solicitation of the aid of the British Government to obtain closer supervision of all immigration advertisements.

Action was urged by J. T. Foster to give prompt legislative effect to the report of the committee which dealt with the old age pensions at the last session of Parliament. The speakers included Bert Merson, vice-president of the congress; J. A. Maclellan, vice-president of the International Association of Machinists; and P. M. Draper, secretary-treasurer of the congress.

AGED WINDSORITE VICTIM OF ROBBER

Herman Nagusen, 76, Assaulted and Robbed of $20

PALICE ARE SEEKING YOUTH

Essex Council Abolishes Payment For Fire Service

WINDSOR, Feb. 1.—Windsor police are investigating a hold-up and assault in which a 76-year-old resident of city was beaten up and robbed of $20 in cash early on Friday night. His assailant was a young man of unknown identity.

Herman Nagusen, of 422 Erie street, east, is the victim of the assault. He is lying at his home suffering from a cut over his forehead and a cut on the right side of his head, which, he says, was inflicted by the youth. After he showed resistance to the thug's demand for money.

Edward Lesperance, of 408 Gleggery avenue, who attempted to assist the aged man's assistance, when he found him lying senseless in the alley at the rear of the above address, was threatened by the bandit, who carried a revolver. Lesperance believes. At any rate, when he sought to aid the prostrate man the youth reached into his pocket and warned Lesperance to keep away.

RETAINER ABOLISHED

Fire-fighting is an expensive proposition when occasion arises, and also expensive when the department is idle, as far as the house of refuge at Leamington is concerned.

Under an arrangement with Leamington fire department for some years past the Essex County Council has paid the department $100 a year merely to be assured of ample protection for the house of refuge.

But Daniel Kennedy, keeper of the institution, informed the Council last week that $100 was too much to pay in view of the fact that there had been no occasion to call the firemen to the institution during the past 24 years.

Keeper Kennedy therefore recommended that the $100 fee be abolished and instead a payment of $50 made every time the department visited the institution.

STEADIER EMPLOYMENT EXPECTED IN C. N. SHOPS

MONTREAL, N. B., Feb. 1.—Steadier employment, better working conditions, greater output and improved services to the public are expected to result from the plan of co-operation between several federated shop crafts and the management of the C. N. R. being instituted in the shops here.

The plan has been in operation in several United States railway systems, notably the Baltimore and Ohio, and has met with the approval of both the management and the labor unions. This, however, is the first occasion on which it has been tried out in Canada.

DENIES FAMINE IN WEST IRELAND

Situation Abnormal, But Not Desperate

GOVERNMENT STATEMENT

Relief Being Sent To the Affected Counties

DUBLIN, Feb. 1.—(Associated Press Cable).—Both William T. Cosgrave, president of the Irish Free State Cabinet, and Eamon DeValera, the Republican leader, in statements yesterday said the talk of famine in the west of Ireland was unjustified, although the widespread distress in that section was abnormal. Mr. DeValera called the Irish Republican representatives in New York that the famine stories were "an English press scare."

President Cosgrave said that while the distress in the West was greater this year than normally, a comparison of the situation with that of 1847 was not justified, and that there was no general famine in that sense.

COUNTIES AFFECTED.

The counties affected are Cork, Kerry, Galway, Mayo, Donegal, Leitrim and Sligo. In places where there is a large shortage of food in addition to crop failures the condition is serious. Those districts have long been recognized as congested and constant relief is required, the president stated, but the problem could not be dealt with by the perennial relief measures hitherto adopted by the Government in the Land Act. The fisheries industries measures handled but the effect would not be felt for some time.

Meanwhile, Mr. Cosgrave continued, 6,000 tons of coal are being distributed and meals provided for 15,000 children. The Government measures are being supplemented by private charities, like Lady Dudley's fund, the Nurses' Association, the United Irish Women and the Save the Children Society. The president said the Government would make provision against the off-coming periods of unemployment.

Tom Moore, president of the congress, stated the immigration proposals, concerning the Government for attempting to remove from the Immigration Act objectionable clauses discriminating against British-born subjects and permitting the deportation of political offenders without trial by jury. It was regretted that this legislation had been rejected by the Senate. Protest was lodged against the continued influx of industrial workers notwithstanding the volume of unemployment existing in Canada and amendments to the act were requested which would place in the prohibited classes all contract labor except such as was approved by the Employment Service Council of Canada. ## DESERT CARS AND LIQUOR CARGOES

Drivers Make Quick Get-Away As Officers Open Fire

CARS AND ALE SEIZED

Were Crossing Lake Erie Ice From Canadian Shore

MONROE, Mich., Feb. 1.—Coming across the ice of Lake Erie from the Canadian side to-day, the drivers of two automobiles, each laden with 20 cases of Canadian ale, put on their brakes, jumped from the machines and escaped when four officers fired on them in the vicinity of Olcott.

The officers were Sheriff Kinsey, Deputy Sheriff Wright and State Troopers Housholder and Chudy, stationed at Dundee. The machines and contraband were hauled to shore. Applications will be made to have the machines, valued at $1,500, confiscated.

The first machine drove in sight at 2 a. m. and the other at 7 a. m. In the darkness the drivers succeeded in getting across as far as the winding bayou. The driver of another machine, which had preceded the first one, was stopped, but was released after questioning.

The neighborhood has been a favorite rendezvous for bootleggers, who drive machines on the ice from the lake to Dixie highway and thence south to Toledo. The lake front is dotted with many winding creeks, which afford excellent means for escape on account of the cat tails and high weeds of the marsh land.

WELL-KNOWN WINDSOR WOMAN DIES SUDDENLY

WINDSOR, Feb. 1.—The death summons came to-day without warning to Mrs. Agnes Henderson, widow of Ernest G. Henderson, general manager of the Canadian Salt Company and a former president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. She was found dead in bed this morning when her daughter, Miss Kathleen, went to awaken her for breakfast. Last night Mrs. Henderson, who appeared in usual good health, retired early. It is believed she was stricken while asleep and unable to summon assistance, died alone.

Mrs. Henderson was a native of Ireland, but had been resident here for many years. She was a prominent member of All Saints' Anglican Church. Mr. Henderson died nearly five years ago. Two sons, Maurice and Brian, gave up their lives for their country in the world war. Surviving are two daughters, Miss Kathleen, at home, and Mrs. Chadwick, wife of Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick, who is now stationed at Victoria, B.C.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Our New York Fashion Letter

For the past two weeks fashion specialists of "The Breath of the Avenue" have been at Palm Beach, watching the summer fashion develop. Here is the first of their reports. An authentic forecasting of the styles new 1925 costumes are to take. For it is at Palm Beach each season that new modes receive endorsement from smart women of society who wear them.

THE TWO-PIECE DRESS

The two-piece dress wins first mention. The jumper-blouse and skirt fashion has carried the day at Palm Beach.

The crepe marocain (undershirting jersey), worn with matching crepe de chine skirt, is the winning combination. Tailored crepe de chine jumper and skirt costumes of the Chanel type jumper, having convertible collar and pocket opening and skirt with inverted box pleat at side or center front, are here, too. And so, to some extent, are two-piece cashmere woolen dresses. But the dress that comes in far ahead of all others for daytime wear combines the soft balbriggan blouse bound in crepe de chine with a matching crepe de chine skirt.

CHARMALAINE FABRIC

Charmalaine as a fabric is, itself, a success. Both in two-piece and one-piece dresses—simple, tailored, informal—it proves itself an ideal fabric for a Palm Beach day. Crepe de chine, striped tub silk and printed silks are also of outstanding importance for daytime wear. Crepe de chine is undoubtedly the favorite of all these informal silk fabrics. And, in prints, the graduated polka dot pattern proves most popular.

Imported handmade dresses are usually of crepe de chine this year. Many handmade and hand-drawn crepe de chine frocks, in white and pastel tints, are worn here at all hours of the day.

THE SHEER ENSEMBLE

The ensemble made of sheer fabric is enjoying a success at Palm Beach which registers it strongly as a possible summer fashion.

In its more tailored versions it combines a dress of crepe roma, georgette, or Elizabeth, with a straight plain coat of the same fabric. The coat is usually made of two thicknesses of the fabric and is often tucked or trimmed with braid.

More elaborate and summer versions of the sheer crepe ensemble are made of chiffon. A typical ensemble of this sort has the straight, sheer unlined coat in light color, worn over a printed chiffon dress. Only one thickness of the fabric is used, and the pattern of the print shows through plainly. Sometimes, in its most elaborate versions, a cape is substituted for the coat.

This dress is straight and short, with a collarless V neck, short set-in sleeves, and no trimming at all except a row of white pearl buttons, about the size of a nickel, running all the way down the front, from neckline to hem. This is one of the few dresses that breaks the rule of beltlessness, and takes an inconspicuous string belt of crepe de chine of the same color.

This dress is important because it is one of the few smart daytime dresses, worn by fashionable women, which depart from the two-piece mode. The fashion position of the women wearing it makes it a fashion which other women may copy.
