THE STANDARD.
By Andrews, Wednesday, May 1, 1839.

The Spring Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery was opened here on Tuesday the 28d April, the Honorable Justice Parker presiding. The following Grand Jury having been sworn, viz.—
James Boyd, Foreman, St. Andrews.
Donald Morrison, " "
Charles R. Hatheway, " "
Thomas Sime, " "
Geo. N. Smith, " "
Samuel Geary, " "
Thomas Simpson, " "
Abner Hill, Junior, St. Stephen.
William Thompson, " "
William H. Armstrong, " "
William Hutchings, " "
Michael Allen, " "
George McKee, St. George.
John Mann, Junior, " "
Henry Sevier, " "
Archibald MacVicar, " "
John Boyd, Pennfield.
Samuel Boyd, " "
Jonathan Harter, " "
John Cunningham, Grand Manan.
William W. Galtie, St. Patrick.
James Morris, St. David.
James Spence, St. James.

They were addressed by His Honour the Judge, who expressed himself gratified at so full an attendance. He remarked that the offender was free from any criminal case, a circumstance highly creditable to the moral character of the County, and different from what might be expected, when the facilities of eluding justice and consequent impunity to crime by its frontier position was considered. His Honour adverted to the agreeable prospect the County now enjoyed of having a new and commodious Court House erected instead of the present ruinous building which was alike dangerous to those who were obliged to attend in it, and injurious to the ends of justice by preventing that long and arduous attention which most necessarily required.

The docket showed 49 suits for trial, of which number 14 have been tried 10 left for arbitration, and are deferred or in course of trial.

The Grand Jury in accordance with the wishes of the County, drew up a Petition to the three Branches of the Legislature in favour of paying Grand and Petit Jurors; we have procured a copy of that to the House, of which the following is a transcript:—
To the Honourable the House of Assembly of the Province of New Brunswick, in Legislature Session convened:

The Petition of the Foreman and members of the Grand Jury of the County of Charlotte, appointed at the Sitting of the Supreme Court in April, one thousand eight hundred and thirty nine.

HUMBLY SHewETH
That under the conviction that their duty extends to the furtherance of every object which may benefit their County, especially when they feel assured that any such object would likewise prove beneficial as a general measure, to the Province at large, Your Petitioners respectfully approach your Honourable House with a prayer in favour of adequate compensation being provided by law to persons compelled to serve at the several Courts as Grand and Petit Jurors.

That however desirable it may be to assimilate the practice of this Province in this respect to that of England, yet your Petitioners conceive that in this instance an expedient cannot be carried out; since in England population is dense and wealth abundant whereas in this Colony the inhabitants on the large scale, are widely scattered, and every one has to exert his individual industry to sustain his station in Society.

That of your Petitioners as the present Grand Jury, fifteen reside from twenty to fifty miles from the shire Town; and they have ascertained that in the present Petit Jury there are many cases of similar in-convenience and hardship.

That your Petitioners are persuaded that many persons coming from such distances (under the prevailing scarcity of money, now so severely felt) are not only urged by a desire to bear their part of public duties, but are driven by fear of being fined for dereliction, to hazard their chance of accommodation on their promise of future payment. That in support of this averment, it has come to the knowledge of your Petitioners that seed wheat has been sold by a Sheriff to meet the fine imposed upon a Juror whose avocations and indigence prevented his attendance.

That should circumstances conspire to retard applications from the other Counties of the Province, from being presented to your Honourable House in favour of the object which your Petitioners now seek to obtain, they most earnestly desire that the County of Charlotte may be favoured by the enactment of a separate Bill for the purposes herein set forth, convinced that the measure will be productive of salutary consequences which will speedily be sought for throughout the Province.

That your Petitioners confide in the justice and wisdom of your Honourable House to pass a Bill for the payment of Grand and Petit Jurors; and as is duty bound will ever pray.

From the Fredericton Royal Gazette, April 24.

Extract of a Despatch from the Most Noble the Marquis of Normandy to his Excellency Major General Sir John Harvey, in acknowledging the receipt of his Speech on opening the late Session of the Legislature, and of the Addresses in reply from the Legislative Council and House of Assembly, dated Downing Street, 15th March, 1839.

"I have perused with much satisfaction the communication between yourself and the Council and Assembly of New Brunswick, which afford the most gratifying proofs of the cordiality subsisting between all branches of the Legislature, and of the loyalty and attachment to Her Majesty of Her faithful subjects in that Province."

Provincial Appointments.—The Honorable Thomas Wier, with Wilford Fisher and John Burnet Esquires, to be commissioners for superintending the establishment of two Packets to carry the Mail from Saint Andrews to Deer Island, Indian Island, Campbell's and Grand Manan, and back from those places to Saint Andrews.

The Honorable Thomas Baillie, to be one of the Commissioners for superintending the expenditure of sums allowed for the improvement of the town

SAINT GEORGE'S SOCIETY.
This Institution celebrated their 25d Anniversary at the Saint John Hotel on Tuesday last. Upwards of sixty persons including Guests, sat down to a sumptuous dinner, prepared by Mr. Stockwell: the wines were excellent, and the whole arrangements reflect great credit on the Committee. On drinking the health of the Queen, a Royal salute was fired on King's square, by volunteers from the Militia Artillery. The repeated and tremendous cheering after the several loyal toasts, were quite in unison with the bonny sons of St. George, who never fail to do ample justice to their Country and their Sovereign at their anniversary.

The following public toasts were given by the Chairman John V. Thurgar, Esq. President of the Society, who was energetically supported by B. L. Peters, Esq. the Vice President. The fine Band of the gallant 69th were present, whose admirable performance added much to the pleasures of the evening; there was also some excellent singing by various members and guests, which made the whole entertainment pass off in admirable style.

1. Saint George, England and the Rose. (4 times 4.) June—St. George & the Dragon.
2. The Queen—God bless her.—(4 times 4, with 1 cheer more.)—National Anthem.

3. Sir John Colborne and the Canadas—Future generations will rever his name; the present will bless it. (3 times 3.) Sir J. Colborne's Grand March.

4. The Army and Navy—Renowned alike for bravery in battle; in victory for mercy. (3 times 3.) British Grenadiers and Hearts of Oak.

5. Our Lieutenant Governor—Sir John Harvey—A noble trust is committed to his care—may he nobly preserve it. (3 times 3.) Grand March.

6. The Duke of Wellington—Unrivalled as a soldier and a statesman—The friend of the British Colonies. (5 times 5, and one cheer more) See the Conqueror Hero come.

7. The Mayor and Corporation of this city. (3 times 3.) Away to the Mountain's Brow.—The Mayor rose and returned thanks.

8. Nova Scotia and our Sister Colonies.—The former is now doubly endeared to the latter—May their union with ourselves and Old England be indissoluble.—(4 times 4.) Canadian Boat Song.—Mr. DeWolf, a gentleman from Nova Scotia, rose and acknowledged the compliment.

9. Lady Harvey and the fair of N. Brunswick.—They mock the coldness of our climate by the warmth of their affections. (5 times 5, again and again.) Queen's March.—On a simultaneous call from the Chair and the Society, Mr. Gray rose, and in a manner highly honorable to himself, and complimentary to the Ladies of New Brunswick, acknowledged the well paid tribute to their beauty and their worth.

10. The Societies of St. Andrew and St. Patrick—An Englishman welcome to their Representatives, our worthy guests. (3 times 3.) Blue Bonnets over the Border, and Patrick's Day.—The Presidents of the two Societies rose and returned thanks.

11. Colonel Monins and the gallant 69th—Waterloo attests their services—Their country will ever remember them. (Great and continued cheering.) 69th March.—After this toast, Sir Osborne Gibbs, of the 69th Regiment, returned thanks in a handsome manner, remarking in conclusion—"We will fight with you, we will dine with you, and whether our hands are upon our hilts or our decanters, believe me, the 69th will always do their duty;" and after prefacing a few gratifying remarks in allusion to that part of the Militia which had been recently on duty, and the high estimation in which the Militia of the Province was deservedly held, proposed—the health of Col. Peters and the Militia of New Brunswick; which was received with long, loud, and continued cheering.

12. Our Gallant countryman Colonel Prince, and the brave Militia of Upper Canada. (5 times 5, with rapturous applause.) Grenadiers March.

13. Our respected Guest, the Consul of the United States of America. (3 cheers.) Hail Columbia.—The Consul returned thanks in an appropriate and very feeling manner, and asked leave for the following toast:—Prosperity to the British West Indies and the North American Colonies.

14. Our absent members, and the sons of Saint George all over the world. (4 hearty cheers.) Here's a health to them that's awa! After the above Public Toasts were drunk, the President called on various Members and Guests for volunteer sentiments; and the warm and enthusiastic manner with which they were received, evinced an unanimity of feeling never surpassed at any public festival.

By the President—who briefly desired to bring to recollection at a crisis like the present, the names of some of those distinguished men who had fought and nobly bled in defence of British supremacy on this Continent:—The memory of the lamented and gallant General Brock, the Hero of Upper Canada.

By the Vice President, accompanied by a few happy and appropriate remarks:—The Province of New Brunswick—May we never lose an acre of its soil by love for Republican principles, or a square foot from fear of Republican sympathisers.

By Mr. Robertson, President of St. Andrews Society:—The President of St. George's Society. To which the Chairman returned thanks.

By Mr. Gray:—Henry Bliss, Esq. the able advocate of our interests at home. In prefacing this toast, attention was briefly called to Mr. Bliss's former residence in St. John; the high character he had at that time so deservedly gained, and his continued and persevering efforts since his removal from the Province, to promote its welfare. We need hardly say the toast was cordially received.

By Mr. Gould. Before naming the distinguished individual whose health I am sure will be drunk with enthusiasm by every one present, I would beg to make a few remarks, suggested by viewing the transparencies at the foot of the room—the one on the left of the Royal Arms represents not only the greatest Naval Hero England, but that the world ever produced, the lamented Nelson; he is represented in the arms of victory, but at the same time in the arms of death: nonuments have been erected to perpetuate his name in the course of ages they will crumble and fall to decay, but the memory of Nelson will live for ever in the bosom of his grateful and affectionate Countrymen.—We will if I may be allowed so to express myself, suspend for the present the melancholy pleasure of gazing on that transparency and remove our eyes to the one on the right of the arms where we see the hero of a hundred battles, the conqueror of Napoleon, the great, the noble Arthur Duke of Wellington; the last signal thrown out by the immortal Nelson has been fully borne in mind by the noble Duke, "England expects every man to do his duty." After gaining imperishable honors in the field, his services were required by his sovereign at home, and in the Cabinet he displayed the same ability as a statesman, which he exhibited in the field as a soldier. Sir, as Englishmen, we gladly view the honors with which our Country visit those heroes who distinguish themselves; but sir, we have Civil as well as Naval and Military heroes, who deserve from their countrymen the same distinguished marks of regard and who are as necessary for the support and protection of the Crown—the one I am about to name justly deserves to be ranked as such and classed with a Nelson and a Wellington: I give you sir the great conservative leader of the House of Commons, Sir Robert Peel,—received with long and continued cheering.

By the Secretary:—Our worthy, energetic, and respected member, Mr. James Orr: may his health be restored, and his return to us be near. Received with rapturous applause by members standing on their chairs.

By Mr. Rhodes:—Sir Allan MacNab, Received with most deafening cheers.

By the Chairman:—Capt. Nicholson and the Volunteer Artillery Companies in St. John. Capt. Nicholson acknowledged the compliment in a very feeling and admirable reply.

By Mr. Wheeler:—The City Guards. Mr. Rhodes returned thanks.—Chronicle.

The Army.—The Hercules, 74, Captain E. Bernard, arrived from Kingston, Jamaica, on Wednesday last after a passage of 24 days, with 1 major, 4 captains, 8 lieutenants, 1 ensign, 1 quartermaster, 1 surgeon, 1 assistant ditto, 51 non-commissioned officers, and 364 privates of the 37th Regiment. On Thursday afternoon they disembarked. At present the appearance of this corps betrays the effects of a service in a noxious climate, but it will no doubt soon recover the bloom of health and vigour in this garrison.

When the Hercules, left Jamaica the frigates Iique and Vernon were daily expected to convey the 8th Regiment back again to Halifax.—Re.

UPPER CANADA.—The Resolutions of the House of Assembly, in favour of uniting the two Provinces, have been rejected by the Legislative Council, eight voting against and only two for them.
