AUXILIARY NOTES.

The Diocesan Treasurer, Mrs. Sage, asks the Branches to send all monies to her, she having resumed her work.

Our Missionary children have returned to London, and are again hard at work. The Rev. George Gander, writes to the Educational Committee. "I thank you much for the deep interest expressed for my child's welfare and real improvement in character, as well as in book-learning, and I am very anxious that she should make the best use of the privileges the Huron W.A. gives her. I have impressed on her the duty of obedience and respect for those under whose care she is placed, and of being thorough and systematic in her work. I feel that she has received more than her share of help but just now it seems so much needed. We will do all we can, and as soon as she is able to teach, or take a position of some kind, she must give a portion of what she receives to assist some other child. And may God's blessing rest upon all the children under your care, and fit them for His service." In that sentence of Mr. Gander's letter, "just now it seems so much needed," we have the key-note of the anxieties and difficulties which beset our Educational Committee, as our children near their goal, the outlay necessarily increases, and yet the years in the High School, when they are working for their certificates, is the crucial time. There are two classes of our W.A. workers whom we specially ask to bear our children in mind—those who know by their
