

that none surpass in fulness and accuracy that published by the Editor of The Banner, new edition, with map and geography of Palestine, by Prof. Hamil. For sale at Methodist Book-Rooms, Toronto, Montreal, and Halifax. Price, 50 cents.

Teachers willing to accept agency for schools will please communicate directly with Rev. Dr. Withrow, Toronto.

Christmas Number of Onward.

The Christmas double number of Onward last year was very highly appreciated by our schools. This cost us more than double the expense of our ordinary issue, but so warm was the welcome it received that we are determined if possible to surpass it in our double Christmas issue of the present year, that for December 2. This will be a large sixteen-page paper, full of Christmas stories, pictures, and poems, and will be, we believe, the most attractive number of Onward we have ever issued. It will be furnished in any quantity at the rate of $1.00 per hundred. Every scholar in our schools should have a copy. Send in your orders at once that you may secure this Christmas souvenir which we offer at far below cost.

Methodist Magazine and Review for November.

The November number of this Magazine contains six illustrated articles. Among those of special interest is a graphic account of the Boers and their stormy history, by Rev. J. T. Pitcher; a beautiful tribute of personal recollections of "Queen Margherita of Italy," by Mrs. M. E. Lauder; "Methodism at Gibraltar," by R. W. Allan; an account of the successful "Indian Mission at Metlakatla," and a sketch of Albert Durer, the famous painter, by Dr. Lubke, the distinguished art critic. Chancellor Burwash contributes an article of splendid optimism on "The Progress of a Century—the contrast between 1799 and 1899, and the outlook for the future." Bishop Thoburn's "Centennial Forward Movement," and Rev. W. Harrison's "Christianization of Money," are fine Twentieth Century Fund articles. Professor Conn, in "The Battle of the Pigmies and the Giants," describes the conflict between the forces of life and death in the human body. Dr. Ross has a strong article on "The Old Testament Under Fire." Several stories, the World's Progress, etc., complete an admirable number.

Toronto: William Briggs. Montreal: C. W. Coates. Halifax: S. F. Huestis. $2.00 a year; $1.00 for six months.

Methodist Magazine and Review for 1900.

This Magazine will round out the century with the best programme of contents it has ever presented. Sir John George Bourinot's series of articles on the Progress of Canada, during her Majesty's Reign will be of special importance, and will be profusely illustrated. A feature of much interest in early numbers will be a retrospect of this most marvellous century the world has ever seen, especially of its moral and religious, social and scientific progress, and the development of two of its most conspicuous features—the growth of Methodism in our own and kindred countries, and of missions throughout the world. It will also be a record of the world's progress—of the stirring events of the times—and of the trend of religious thought and work. It will specially endeavour to help the great forward movement of Methodism, the Twentieth Century Thanksgiving Fund, and the great religious and missionary revival for which our church is so earnestly hoping and praying.

The purpose of both Publisher and Editor is to make this Magazine and Review a welcome visitor—a bright, cheery, inspiring and instructive guest—in Methodist households of this Dominion. A gentleman who sees a great number of magazines states that it is the best and the best read of any that comes to his family. The Uplook says: "It is the best Magazine for a Christian family of which we have any knowledge. The November and December numbers will be given free to new subscribers. See full announcement in this number of The Banner.

We ask the cordial help of our readers to place this excellent home magazine into many Methodist homes where it is not now taken. Subscription price, $2.00 per year. When taken in connection with either The Guardian or Wesleyan, $1.75 per year.