JAS. S. PARMENTER, Flushing, N. Y.

DEAR SIR: We take very great pleasure in able to say from nearly one year's use of your Dry Kiln, we find it away ahead of anything yet tried for thoroughly drying lumber without it in the least. So far we have found exhaust alone sufficient for our purpose, so that it always costs us nothing to run it. We thoroughly dry oak, rock elm, balm and other hardwood lumber time than we ever did with a blast kiln, and we find it a splendid kiln for drying white oak because it does its work so naturally that neither hulls nor are injured by it.
