CURRENT TRADE CONDITIONS.

ONTARIO.

The quantity of the pine cut of this season that has already passed out of first hands has placed the manufacturer in an exceptionally favorable position. Even if there should be a slump in prices, it is not likely that he would be affected this year. Estimates of the proportion of the cut disposed of vary between 50 and 75 per cent. At the present time arguments are advanced by some that prices are too high, and by others that the cost of logging and manufacturing warrants a further advance. Granting that prices are abnormal, the responsibility therefor may be attributed to the buyer rather than the seller. The purchasing has not been conducted with as much caution as usual. It has seemed to be the aim of the American buyers in particular to secure the stock at any cost. Manufacturers still report numerous inquiries from dealers in Michigan and the Eastern States. The settlement of the carpenters' strike in Toronto should stimulate the retail demand for lumber. A dealer states that the resultant improvement is only noticeable and that there is not much buoyancy to the demand and a good deal of bartering over prices. Hemlock is inquired for considerably, and hardwoods are being bought by implement and furniture factories, which have allowed their stocks to run low. The quotations for lath and shingles are unaltered, with the stringency in the supply somewhat broken.

QUEBEC AND NEW BRUNSWICK.

The tone of the spruce market is gradually improving owing to an increased demand for clapboards and other lumber for shipment to the Eastern States and deals for the British market. Prices are decidedly stronger and manufacturers are exhibiting a firm attitude. It is regarded as only a matter of a few weeks before considerably higher prices will rule, as the supply is not likely to be sufficient to meet the demand. Reports of the log drives are favorable from the Miramichi, but somewhat gloomy from the Restigouche, where the water has fallen rapidly.

New Brunswick cedar shingles are very strong. The large manufacturers are accepting no orders at less than $3.50 for extras and $3.10 for clears, Boston delivery. We have been shown an order for a considerable quantity of shingles at
