

CHARACTERISTICS OF THE WRITINGS OF DR. NEWMAN.

To the firm of Messrs. Sallier we are indebted for this most valuable contribution to the literature of our day.

Selections from the gifted pen of England's living Chrysostom, constitute a work to be appreciated in ages yet to come. Living worth is not appreciated. Past history tells of many a sad charge of ingratitude and lack of appreciation flung on our fathers. Men of genius, of marvellous powers of mind, who have excelled in poetry, oratory and science, have been permitted by their contemporaries to eke out a miserable and poor existence; but the moment the tomb closed over their mortal remains, and the eclipse of death had obscured forever the star of the literary firmament, the world seemed to awaken to a sense of loss, monuments of marble and bronze tell of his name, history weeps over departed worth and rising generations hang for long hours of study over the brilliant pages that reflect the giant mind of the deceased literature. This characteristic difference which the world shows by its living great men, seems to find an exception in the case of the great and venerable Dr. Newman. There is not a name in England bears more reverence from all classes; there is not a pen that has more influence on men, who are without faith and consequently without sympathy in the religious convictions of the great convert. But we are convinced the day will come when his works shall win for the venerable Oratorian, a name that will be written alongside those of Augustine, Chrysostom and Basil. Wiseman, Newman and Manning, are in our age, what those great Doctors were in the early days of ecclesiastical history.

Hence the work now issued by a compiler whose talent for selection, deserves the highest praise, should be on the shelves of every library and in the hands of every student, who aspires to eminence in the paths of literature, or who seeks even to be amused with the study of the chaste and sublime.

TWO MORE PREMIUMS.

Our subscribers will observe from the advertisement on our 7th Page of the National Art Co. that an opportunity is again offered to those who overlooked the last advertisement, to obtain the beautiful engraving "The Three Graces." Those who have already availed themselves of this offer, have now a chance to select two more beautiful pictures entitled "Love" and "Truth." To obtain any of the three, or all, it is necessary to cut out the certificate, enclose 25 cents to pay the postage, and send to the National Art Co., 230 Walnut st., Cincinnati, Ohio. Be sure to write your name and address in full and in plain, legible writing.

As the foregoing instructions for obtaining the Engravings are precise enough, subscribers who may wish to have them will, it is hoped, write themselves, to the National Art Co., and not be sending their money to this office. We have nothing to do with the offer of the Art Co., further than to insert the advertisement in the way of our business, which has been sent to us by our Agent in Cincinnati, and as we do not offer the pictures for sale ourselves, we wish it to be distinctly understood that we do not accept any responsibility by reason of the advertisement appearing in the True Witness. We have been led into these remarks because very many wrote to us to send for the picture for them when the last advertisement appeared, when they could just as well have done it themselves.

TOM MOORE ANNIVERSARY.

By reference to our advertising column it will be seen that the Catholic Young Men's Society, are about to celebrate (on Monday, the 29th inst.), the anniversary of Ireland's National Poet, in an unusually grand style, the Musical Talent secured for the occasion is of a high order. The names of Miss Clara Fisher (Academy of Music), Messrs. Trudell Sheridan and Lefebvre, of the Bishop's Choir, and the Montreal favorite, Mr. T. Hurst, would in themselves testify the above remarks. Several members of the St. Patrick's Choir will also contribute their valuable assistance to make the occasion a success. The musical part of the programme is under the direction of Prof. Fowler. It is expected that the Rev. Dr. O'Reilly will deliver an address, or panegyric on the Poet on that occasion.

"KATHLEEN MAVOURNEEN."

An interesting incident occurred at Baltimore, Md., recently at a concert given by Miss Titiens. In response to an encore she sang "Kathleen Mavourneen," to the great delight and applause of the audience. One gentleman was particularly affected, and he afterward went round to congratulate the prima donna. He announced himself as Captain Crouch, the composer of the song, a statement which was at first received with incredulity, Crouch being supposed to have died several years ago. In a short time, however, his identity was fully established. Captain Crouch, it appears, served in the Southern army during the war. He has promised to write a companion song to "Kathleen Mavourneen," and to dedicate it to Miss Titiens.

REVIEWS.

LE FOYER DOMESTIQUE. The Domestic Hearth.
This monthly periodical, produced in French has reached its second number and promises to be a most interesting and commendable serial. The interesting character and even literary worth of its sketches render it attractive. We find some of our French exchanges give this periodical fair notice. It is published in Ottawa and each number comprising sixty four large pages is sold for one dollar. THE YOUNG CRUSADER, for June.

Charming and as attractive as ever. The anecdotes are delightfully told and always producing the moral so practical and instructive. Under the Trees is a lesson for grown folk more than for the young, showing that wealth was preserved only by attention to business, and doing for oneself what will not be so well done by another. Then comes Little Samuel a Biblical sketch, History of a hero of 1776 exactly one hundred years. The Brave Brothers of Juda, an interesting sketch and Tom Thumb, which is rather old fashioned and too well known for the pages of the Crusader. The gem of this number is Zuma or the discovery of Quinine. The story is full of interest, almost sensation. We do not however give the story any historical value as it is pretty well known, the Jesuits were the first to introduce quinine into Europe, it was accidentally discovered by one of the fathers who was an invalid and was only able to walk every day toward a small stream on their property. The invalid father found much better on drinking from this stream; it had a bitter taste and the father analysing the water, found it impregnated with the properties now so valuable in the world of medicine.

DANIEL DERONDA: Dawson Bros.

The maidens getting their choice is a cheerful number, not less attractive and interesting than the former. With some fine delineations of girlish feelings on the eve of matrimonial alliance, the reader impatiently awaits some discovery that will break the course of true love running too smoothly for a sensation story.

HOME RULE LEAGUE.

ADJOURNED ANNUAL MEETING.

The adjourned annual meeting of the Montreal Branch of the Irish Home Rule League was held on the 16th inst., in St. Patrick's Hall, there was a good attendance and much interest manifested in the proceedings.

The chair was occupied by Edward Murphy, Esq., the President of the Association, who on opening the business of the meeting said that the late news from the "old land" showed that during the "East" recesses the Irish Home Rule Members of the House of Commons attended several meetings in Ireland and England, in favor of Home Rule and all with satisfactory results.

The reception given to Mr. Butt and Mr. O'Shaughnessy by the Limerick people on Easter Monday was one of the largest and most enthusiastic ever witnessed there, no less than 20,000 people and 14 Bands were in the procession. That demonstration was well worthy of the City of the broken treaty and of its representatives. A couple of days later Mr. Butt by invitation visited Belfast, his reception in the Capital of the North was another ovation to him, in the evening he lectured on "Curran," the Catholic Bishop of Down and Connor presided and complimented him. Next evening the Belfast Home Rule Club entertained Mr. Butt at a Banquet, on each occasion vast and enthusiastic audiences assembled to hear and do him honor.

On the 22nd April the Home Rule League held a great meeting in Dublin—which was largely attended by the Home Rule M.P.s. Mr. Butt's speech was of more than ordinary importance and was characterized by great lucidity and force. He again declared his firm conviction in the ultimate success of the National Cause.

On the 24th there was a splendid Home Rule demonstration in Cavan. Mr. Fay, Mr. Biggar, Fathers O'Reilly and Boyle and others spoke. The enthusiasm displayed and the numbers that attended proved that the people of Cavan are unflinching in their determination to support the Home Rule Cause.

A monster meeting of English working men is called for Whit-Monday in London, Mr. Butt is invited to attend and one of the resolutions to be proposed is in favor of Home Rule for Ireland, this he said was another significant sign of the times and proves that the masses in England are opening their eyes to the justice of the Irish demand for Home Rule.

He spoke in feeling terms on the deaths of Mr. Ronayne, M.P. for Cork and of Sir William Wilde, both of whom were Home Rulers. Mr. Ronayne was an active and influential nationalist, his death will be a serious loss to the gallant band of Home Rule M.P.s. Sir William Wilde's death is also a great loss to Ireland, he was ever active in promoting the advancement of his native land, and did much by his researches and his writings to bring to light the evidences of Ireland's ancient glory. By his learning, and labors in Medical Science he did much to bring honor to his native land, as his works on the Eye and Ear are translated into foreign languages and are used as text books in some of the Medical Schools of Europe. In concluding his remarks on Sir William Wilde he referred to the gifted Lady Wilde (now his widow) better known perhaps as "Speranza" her poems are full of religious and patriotic fervor and of love for Ireland, many of them were published in the Dublin Nation. The Chairman further remarked that he had seen with much pleasure the cards of membership in the Irish Home Rule League for 1874 and 1875 of their good and zealous friend Father Crombach, who is now as he always was, a friend of Ireland and its people (applause). He concluded by informing the members that the subscription list would be again open to give them an opportunity of subscribing to the funds. (Cheers).

The subscription list was then opened and the following amongst other names were handed in viz:—Mrs. Margaret McMahon, $5.00, James O'Brien, $5.00, John Gillies, $5.00, J. W. Costello, $5.00, Michael Feron, $5.00, Patrick Wright, $5.00, Richard McShane, $5.00, Professor J. Anderson, $5.00, Professor J. Dunn, $5.00, M. P. Ryan, $4.00, Professor M. Daley, $3.00, James Kehoe, $3.00, Patrick Egan, $1.00 besides several smaller sums.

The proposition from the Parent Association contained in Mr. McAllister's letter, which was read at last meeting and held over asking the Montreal Branch to organize Home Rule societies in the Dominion, was then taken up and discussed after which it was moved by M. P. Ryan Esq., and seconded by Professor McKay and

Resolved:—That the Montreal Branch of the Irish Home Rule League earnestly urges upon their fellow Countrymen in other Cities and Towns in the Dominion to form Home Rule organizations and to promote the Cause by their sympathy and support. And this association will at all times be ready and willing to give such information and assistance to the Irish people of the Dominion as is within its power, to promote the formation of such associations. Passed unanimously.

Eloquent speeches were made by the mover and second of the above resolution, and also by Messrs. J. J. Curran, C. C. O'Neill, Costello, Hatchette, and others.

A number of Home Rule books and pamphlets, just received from Dublin were distributed and after the transaction of some routine business the meeting adjourned.

Bears are troubling the farmers in Colchester County, N.S., several sheep being recently killed by them.

PLEASANT VISIT TO THE WHITE HOUSE.

Miss Rosa D'Erina, Ireland's prima donna, in company with Major Edmund Mallett, visited the White House yesterday morning and was most cordially received by the President and Mrs. Grant. General Sherman, Col. Fred. Grant and wife, and Private Secretary Grant were also present.

The visit was a most agreeable one, and Miss D'Erina sang, with piano accompaniment, several of her selections, among them "The Last Rose of Summer," "La Calceola" in Spanish, "Quand tu Chantes" in French, "Ave Maria" in Latin, by Cherubini, and "Angels Ever Bright and Fair," by Handel. Mrs. Col. Fred. Grant, who is herself an accomplished cantatrice and musician, complimented Miss D'Erina on her artistic rendition of the music of the great composers, as also did all the company. In the course of the afternoon Mrs. President Grant sent Miss D'Erina a beautiful bouquet of choice flowers.—Washington Chronicle, May 17th.

At a special meeting of the Municipal Council of the Village of Lennoxville, held March 15th it was moved by Councillor Chapman, seconded by Councillor Wilson, and

Resolved:—That this Council beg to offer their expression of sympathy with M. L. Connolly, Esq., J.P., late Mayor of this Municipality, on the occasion of the great affliction with which he has been visited by the death of his wife, and that the Secretary-Treasurer to convey him a copy of this Resolution. R. HART, Sec. Treas.

The Difficulties of Journalism are instanced in the case of the Toronto Sun which, after several years of, to outward appearance, successful existence, finds it necessary to retire from the field, owing to pecuniary difficulties. Old established journals, which some of those not inside of the scene regard as a mine of wealth, often find it difficult to meet expenses.

Respecting the defalcation of the Dundas Postmaster the True Banner says:—The deficiency, we understand, exists principally in the Savings Bank Department, and it is said that a number of depositors have no means of establishing their claims against the Government, they having neither books nor receipts of any kind as vouchers for their deposits. We are not in a position to state what the precise amount of the defalcation is, and it is certainly to be regretted that a number of comparatively poor people will probably lose their entire savings unless they have some means of establishing their claims.

The Honorable Donald A. Smith, Chief Commissioner of the Hudson's Bay Company, has just been presented by the officials of that Company in British North America with a handsome service of plate, valued, we hear, at £1000.
