

Expectations of you as a leader within the Public Service, regardless of your management level, are highlighted below as “leadership competencies”. The chart highlights those competencies which are critical at DFAIT, and reflect the realities of working abroad, including one which is not a specific La Relève competency (Cultural Awareness). For a detailed description of how these competencies are defined at your management level, please refer to pages 19 to 46. Note that at the time of publication of this handbook, the definition of these competencies were still in draft form.
