

This last remark, Mr. Speaker, proves undoubtedly that the people in this area had already reached a certain measure of political homogeneity and maturity over 100 years ago. The then provincial government might have designated the county of Madawaska quite a long time before that. Finally, the government recognized the particular character of this region of northwest New Brunswick and included it in a separate county.

Electoral Boundaries Readjustment

Mr. Speaker, I will call it six o'clock.

The Acting Speaker (Mr. Boulanger): It being six o'clock, further consideration of objections to the report of Electoral Boundaries, Commission for New Brunswick, 1973, is deferred.

At 6 p.m. the House adjourned, without question put, pursuant to Standing Order.
