

Government Orders

However, 135 gigantic, monstrous vessels from nine foreign nations are raking the grounds around the coast of Canada, while we sit in this Chamber and figure out what fines to put on Canadian fishermen who might be violating the fish habitat of Canada.

A lot of things have to change in this country, and that is one of them. Canadian vessels are not allowed to go into the waters or any one of those countries; not one of those countries. It is not allowed. There would be a war. We would be chased out. They are in our waters with all of this gigantic gear, all computerized, raking all of the grounds on the continental shelf, ignored by the Government of Canada. In fact, the numbers are going up every year. No wonder the fishing resource is destroyed together with the fishing habitat.
