

THE HISTORY OF WOMAN
IN ENGLAND,
AND HER INFLUENCE ON SOCIETY AND LITERATURE.
BY MISS LAWRENCE.

AUTHORESS OF "HISTORICAL MEMOIRS OF THE QUEENS OF ENGLAND FROM THE TWELFTH TO THE SIXTEENTH CENTURY."

1 vol. small 8vo, with Illustrations, 10s. 6d. bound.

"Although the study of English history has of late become so popular, the progress of female society in England has never received the attention which its importance demands. Little has been told us of women in Saxon times; and yet, even then, there were illustrious queens, and female scholars, whose exertions for the diffusion of knowledge demand the gratitude of their descendants—and scarcely more is known of female society during the Norman period, and yet it was at the bidding of the lady, that the poet-fathers of England first sang. Even during the age of chivalry many a lady, illustrious for her talents, and interesting from her romantic history, has no record, save in the seldom-opened pages of the monkish chronicler. Descending to more recent times we find the history of woman in England linked with the Reformation and each great event. To trace the progress of woman in England through these various phases of her history is the object of the present work. Beginning at the earliest period, it has been the chief aim of the writer to collect contemporary information from every available source, and thus the obsolete code of laws, the ancient popular tales, the will, the inventory, the legal record, the legend, and the satire, the testimony of the grave chronicler, and that of the manners-painting trouvère, the letter and the diary have all been laid under contribution to throw light upon a subject as curious and interesting as it is important."

MEMOIRS OF THE LITERARY LADIES OF ENGLAND.

By MRS. ELWOOD.

2 vols. post 8vo, with Portraits. 21s. bound.

"A work of great merit. The first biography is that of Lady Mary Wortley Montagu; the last, that of Mrs. Maclean, better known as Miss Landon; it thus comprises our blue-stockings, from the commencement of the last century down to the present. Each biography is marked by good taste and excellent judgment. The author is considered in each more than the individual; and yet sufficient narrated of the latter to interest and instruct."—John Bull.

"The literary ladies of England, who have written since the commencement of the last century, form a brilliant list, many of the most beautiful and permanently useful portions of our literature being the productions of female pens. A collection of memoirs of those eminent persons was much wanted, and Mrs. Elwood's work supplies the desideratum. It will furnish, especially to young readers of her own sex, much instructive matter in an interesting form. Mrs. Elwood's chief qualifications as a biographer are industry, good sense, and impartiality. She gives a fair and judicious summary of the facts known of each individual."—Chronicle.

"This work will become increasingly and deservedly popular, especially among the fair sex—the most ardent readers, and probably the most accurate judges, of light and elegant literature. By furnishing them with authenticated memoirs of celebrated authors of their own sex, who during the last and the present centuries have, by their devotion to literature, tended so much to elevate and adorn the female character, Mrs. Elwood has conferred on British ladies an obligation which, we cannot doubt, will be duly estimated and commensurately rewarded."—Globe.
