

than a gift of money to a University, which can be used in your time to educate your children and which will benefit "the age that is waiting before."

14. Q. I live in _____. The standards of Dalhousie are so high that none of my sons, nor any of the local boys who prepared at local schools, can reach them. If I give to Dalhousie, no one in my vicinity will benefit so why shouldn't I give to a college which my sons can attend?
- A. The standard set at Dalhousie is only high enough to make sure that the entering students have a fair chance to keep up to the standard of work properly required in their college classes. A good student who has completed three years at a good high school should be able to pass the examinations without trouble. If he cannot, the school or the student is at fault. Dalhousie says frankly that it is not a place for a boy who is below the average. It can, however, offer to a promising boy more advantages than a smaller college or University. The remedy for the conditions suggested by this question is a movement to improve the secondary schools in the questioner's locality.
15. Q. What is the use of contributing the small sum I can afford to give?
- A. Dalhousie will be grateful for even the smallest contribution because it is a sign of the donor's interest. One of the slogans of the Fund is "Something from Everyone." Dalhousie wants to feel that its alumni and friends are solidly behind it in this effort to meet the demands now being made upon it.
