

Another Drastic Slump in Wall Street---Followed by a Rally

TORONTO MARKET SHOWED FIRM TONE

Canadian Securities Made Surprising Display of Steadiness in View of Slump in Wall Street.

MACHINE AT NEW HIGH

And Brazilian Also Scored an Advance — Speculation Held to Extremely Small Volume Again.

The only surprising feature about the Toronto Stock Exchange yesterday was the fact that it held up so well, a characteristic which might also have been made at any time during the last few days. Wall Street had been passing thru all the throes of semi-depression, with prices dropping so rapidly that traders have been wiped out without much trouble in certain instances a new line of lower records for the year had been established. Meanwhile the market has undergone hardly so much as a tremor, seemingly maintaining on an even keel without any difficulty.

In the acute money stringency the bought out the brokers for many weeks now, is to be expected. The reason for the comparative firmness with which the Canadian listed issues have shown themselves has effectively shut down on trading, with g. w. with the result that the market was placed in a strong technical position, where it was able to move in the absence of the agencies of the market. It was held within bounds, it would seem, by material pressure on the local markets.

Brazilian, which has come to be viewed as the barometer of the Toronto market, continued the sharp up at an advance record, the share ending off a small fraction after eggng off a small fraction after the session, more than making up their loss. The range for the day was 91 1/2 to 91 1/4, the latter of the latter figure leaving a net gain of 1/2 cent of the day. At the same time Canadian Machinery saw a new high record price at 64 1/2, 2% points up from Tuesday's record. Canadian Locomotive was also stronger, with the company up a full 2 points to 82, and the preference a fraction higher at 95 1/2. Others of the specialists showed a disposition to do the same. Macmillan, Canada Bread, and Packers' A. & A. series, came up a decline from the previous close. The latter was off a full 4 points at 141 compared with 145 the last previous sale. Macmillan, up 1/2, its highest since its low point since June 1. On the whole the specialists the market was extremely quiet and steady.
