1919 Victory Loan

"Whose Victory is Peace"

Canada Asks $300,000,000 From Her Own People.

SHE OFFERS 5-1-2 PER CENT. YEARLY FOR THE MONEY. BRIEFLY AND BROADLY, THAT DEFINES THE 1919 VICTORY LOAN

All that vast sum has to be found somewhere. Far and away the greater part is to meet expenditure already rightfully made on short-term borrowings for the repatriation of our soldiers, for pensions and for re-establishing the well and the wounded in civil life. Now this must be repaid. Besides this, other large scale expenses must be undertaken before the country can squarely settle down to work for greater production than ever before.

And Canada declines to borrow this money from outsiders. To do so would mean paying around $16,500,000 a year in interest to bondholders outside. By borrowing at home, from the people's own savings, that interest can be kept within the Dominion.

The last cent of the Loan, too, will be spent in Canada. Principal and interest alike will return to the lenders. Do you grasp the financial soundness of such a course?

This Loan of 1919 is as patriotic as any made during the war. It is to clean up the stray ends of war and get back to the grand business of building up a better Canada.

For these reasons—and when did patriotism run so well with profit?—everyone who can share in it should take up a part of the national offering. Primarily, it is a Victory Loan—to mark the realization of a glorious Victory, and for the beginning of a new and brighter era.

MUST SETTLE SOON TURKISH PROBLEM

United States Will Not Voluntarily Assume Mandate in Near East.

Paris, Oct. 28.—The entente representatives in the peace conference apparently are persuaded that the United States will not voluntarily accept any mandate in the near east, and it now seems assured that the Turkish question will not be touched by the present peace conference, but will probably be taken up by another conference to be held within a few months.

Conditions are so unsettled in the near east that it does not seem possible to delay settlement of the Turkish problem very long. Prince Emir Feisal is pressing for the establishment of a new Arab kingdom immediately, but the Italian and Greek positions in southern Anatolia are so distasteful to the Turks and so untenable without authority from the entente that the European countries cannot delay much longer in their effort to persuade the United States to accept a mandate of some sort in Asia-Minor, and thus simplify the distasteful task of dismembering Turkey.
