ENFORCING MARRIAGE LAWS.

Hereafter There Will Be No Gretna Green at Windsor.

The issuers of marriage licenses in Windsor have been doing a land office business for some time, selling licenses to couples flitting across the border to be married. The evil has become flagrant, and the government will try to put a stop to it.

Under section 17, subsection C, licenses may be issued to parties one of whom has been a resident for 15 days in the municipality in which the marriage is to be solemnized. If either are not residents for 15 days the reason for having the marriage contracted in that place must be shown, not to be for purposes of evading publicity, or for any other improper purpose.

The attorney-general has handed down his opinion that the above section refers only to districts within the province, and that licenses should not be issued to aliens under any interpretation of the section. Accordingly, the provincial secretary's department, under which the issue of marriage licenses is directed, will strictly enforce the law in Windsor and other places on the borders.

This Suit Settled.

The appeal court last evening dismissed the appeal of the People's Life Assurance Co. of Canada against the judgment pronounced by Justice Idington in favor of Florence Amelia Tattersall, widow of the late Richard Brooke Tattersall and administratrix of his estate. She had been awarded in round figures the sum of $4000, value of a policy, less the premium of $49.50, and also giving her the costs.

Petition and Cross Petition.

Judgment is reserved on an appeal by the Western Foundry Company of Wingham from judgment of Referee Cartwright, directing them to pay the Gurney Foundry Company $2000 damages for luring away their workmen, which was heard before Justice Anglin yesterday. The Gurney Company, of whom A. E. Du Vernet is appealing, is retaliating with a cross petition for the increase of petition damages to $10,000.

To-Day's Appeal List.

LET YOUR STOMACH HAVE ITS OWN WAY.

Do Not Try to Drive and Force it to Work When It is Not Able or You Will Suffer All the More.

You cannot treat your stomach as some men treat a balky horse; force, drive or even starve it into doing work at which it rebels. The stomach is a patient and faithful servant, and will stand much abuse and ill-treatment before it "balks," but when it does you had better go slow with it and not attempt to make it work. Some people have the mistaken idea that they can make their stomachs work by starving themselves. They might cure the stomach that way, but it would take so long that they would have no use for a stomach when they got through. The sensible way out of the difficulty is to let the stomach rest if it wants to and employ a substitute to do its work.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will do the work of your stomach for you and digest your food just as your stomach used to when it was well. You can prove this by putting your food in a glass jar with one of the tablets and sufficient water and you will see the food digested in just the same time as the digestive fluids of the stomach would do it. That will satisfy your mind. Now, to satisfy both your mind and body take one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after eating—eat all and what you want—and you will feel in your mind that your food is being digested because you will feel no disturbance or weight in your stomach, in fact you will forget all about having a stomach just as you did when you were a healthy boy or girl.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act in a natural way because they contain only the natural elements of the gastric juices and other digestive fluids of the stomach. It makes no difference what condition the stomach is in, they go right ahead of their own accord and do their work. They know their business and surrounding conditions do not influence them in the least. They thus relieve the weak stomach of all its burdens and give it its much needed rest and permit it to become strong and healthy.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box. They are so well known and their popularity is so great that a druggist would as soon think of being out of alcohol or quinine. In fact, physicians are prescribing them all over the land and if your own doctor is real honest with you, he will tell you frankly that there is nothing on earth so good for dyspepsia as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

WOULDN'T HONOR THE WRIT MAY ATTACH THE GOVERNOR

Refusal to "Deliver up the Body" of Prisoner Walton Precipitating Legal Tangles.

Habeas corpus was interpreted by one of the comic men in Dickens as "Have his carcase."

The description is terse and apt enough, but it is not dignified—the law is stately is asanine in character, as yet another Dickens character would have us believe. Habeas corpus is so-called from the mandatory words in the writ: "Have the body of such and such a person brought into court."

In law it is a writ issued by a judge or court, requiring the body of a person to be brought before the judge or into the court; specifically, such a writ (entitled in full habeas corpus ad subjiciendum) requiring the body of a person restrained of liberty to be brought before the judge or into court, that the lawfulness of the restraint may be investigated and determined. The right to freedom and restraint without regular legal process, which had always existed at common law, was affirmed by Magna Charta; but arbitrary imprisonment was practised by despot o kings and compliant courts till the latter part of the reign of Charles I, and still occasionally till the passage of the Habeas Corpus Act in the reign of Charles II. The right to the writ in special cases can still be suspended by legislative authority, both in Great Britain and in the United States in a time of war or great public danger.

Would Obey Order.

This is a time of peace and the Habeas Corpus Act has not been suspended.

A. R. Walton, the unfortunate Englishman, is still languishing in the common jail of this city on remand from the police court. J. B. Mackenzie, who is disputing the legality of his arrest, obtained the other day the leave of the appeal court to argue the case before that tribunal. The proceedings were fixed for yesterday.

Mr. Mackenzie invoked the aid of habeas corpus, and the following is a summary:

"We command that you have before us— the body of Alex. R. Walton, detained in custody, as it is said under safe and secure conduct, together with the day and cause of his being taken and detained —— that we may further cause to be done what of right, and according to law, we shall see fit to be done."

This writ had been signed by Justice Teetzel, and is, of course, alive until the prisoner's appeal is determined.

Just before the judges rose in the appeal court last evening, Mr. Mackenzie asked for their intervention. The keeper of the common jail, he said, had declined to present the body at 3.30 o'clock that afternoon, as required. Mr. Mackenzie had gone out of his way, he said, to cause a written notice to be served that afternoon. The keeper of the jail had stated he would pay no attention to the notice whatever.

In answer to Judge Osler, Mr. Mackenzie said that he had paid no conduct money. He thought that the law did not require it.

"He is bound to obey," said the counsel. "I have no assurance that the body will be here."

Would Attach the Governor.

The court suggested that Mr. Mackenzie should tell Mr. Cartwright in the morning that a motion will be made for attachment against the keeper of the common jail.

Governor Vanzant, when rung up by The World last night, said that there were several reasons why he had not signed the body of Walton. The notice was neither signed by a judge nor dated.

The notice also requires that Walton is not to be brought down to the police court to-day, as was done last Friday while argument on the writ was pending.

There is likely to be further trouble should Walton again find himself in the police court dock this morning, for a writ of attachment against the magistrate is promised.

The case is also down on the appeal court list.

PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS.

One of the best melodramtic productions of the present season is that of "A Runaway Boy," which is booked for the Majestic next week. The star of "A Runaway Boy" is America's greatest boy actor, Joseph Santley. Santley is beyond question a youngster who is very talented and has been behind the footlights ever since he was old enough to realize. His knowledge of stage technique is really wonderful when his years are taken into consideration.

The feminine contingent of the large chorus employed in "The Errand Boy" is not only notable on account of so much combined winsomeness, but the sprightly girls whisk and flutter about in forming the complicated stage pictures just like the fairies you read of in story books. This beautiful precision was brought about by patient training on the part of Sam Marion, who was loaned by Henry W. Savage, to direct the rehearsals. The "Errand Boy" will most likely prove a strong offering at the Grand Opera House next week.

In addition to the fact that Toronto will have an absolutely new musical production in "Coming Thru the Rye," at the Princess Theatre on Monday night, the occasion will be also made a welcome home to John Park, a member of the old Toronto Lacrosse Club, and now one of the best known comic opera tenors on the American stage. The cast is a notable one and includes Dave Lewis, the famous Hebrew comedian. Miss Amelia Stone, Miss Josie Sadler, Lionel Walsh, Miss Nena Blake and Joseph Standish. John Park, who plays the part of Vandyke Brown, the artist, "Coming Thru the Rye," is a native of Toronto having lived here during his boyhood. He has made rapid progress in his chosen calling, and is considered one of the best leading baritones in this country, and occupies a position in the front rank of the profession. His creation of the role of Vandyke Brown is an unusually clever impersonation. Mr. Park possesses a strong and finely cultured baritone voice, which he uses to splendid advantage. The sale for the engagement at the Princess Theatre is now in progress.

The Baltimore Beauties Burlesque Company will be the attraction at the Star Theatre next week. It should prove a strong drawing card for patrons of this popular playhouse who are fond of seeing a bevy of pretty girls surrounding an all-star vaudeville company headed by the English soprano, Miss Margaret Baxter.

May Have Ended Life.

Sault Ste. Marie, Nov. 23.—Charles Carey, employed by the Algoma Steel Company, has been missing since Sunday, when he was last seen at the locks. He may have committed suicide by jumping into the river, as he had been worrying over the illness of relatives at Southampton, Ont.

He is 28 years of age and single.

Jap Bank Robbed.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 23.—Robbers broke into the Japanese bank here last night and took cash amounting to $15,000.

CONTROLLERS ARE DIVIDED ON LICENSE REDUCTION

But Board Sends on Motion to Council—Cost of Extending James Street.

The license reduction question will be the big issue at Monday's council meeting, and will go before the aldermen with the point in its favor of having behind it the recommendation of the legislation committee, and of the board of control, which yesterday decided to pass it on.

Controller Hubbard reaffirmed his stand that the question should not be voted on at the time of the municipal elections, and argued that the license commissioners should handle the hotels. He also charged that Controller Spence was urging the matter for political motives; the latter retorting that Ald. Coatsworth was the originator of the motion in March last. He referred to the city solicitor's advice, that such a vote could only be taken at election time, and that while a vote would have no legal force it would show popular sentiment. He said that the vote would be taken on separate questions of reducing tavern licenses to 120, and shop licenses to 40.

Controller Ward sized up the measure as one intended to catch votes, and declared it would be better to have the commissioners suspend licenses in, say, fifteen or twenty hotels, where regulations were not followed. It would be absurd to cut licenses to 120 in a city of Toronto's size.

The mayor said the government had given it to municipal councils to decide how many licenses should be carried, but as it was a hard matter to deal with in council, the people should settle it.

Controller Hubbard declared he was willing to have the people settle it, at some other than election time, and the mayor replied it would take a year to get the needful legislation to do this.

Secretary Dickey of the Licensed Victuallers' Association was invited to air his sentiments, but declined to do so.

The legislation committee's recommendation was then passed on to council on the vote of the mayor and Controllers Spence and Shaw. Before this was done Controller Ward moved that it be struck out, but had no backer, while the controller was the only supporter of Ald. Hubbard's motion to submit the question at some other time.

Extension of James Street.

It would cost $126,000 to extend Jamesstreet to Richmond-street, and the city should bear half the cost, so Assessment Commissioner Forman reported to the controllers. The property liable to assessment would have a frontage of 945 feet 6 inches, being made up of Queen-street, south side, between Yonge and Bay-streets, midway to James-street, produced, and Richmondstreet, north side, from James Richmondstreet, south side, including part opposite James-street, as proposed, the same. The rates would vary from $25 per foot to $200 per foot at the corners of the street, when opened, and would bring $62,573. Those assessed could appeal to the court of revision and county judge.

Allan Cassels, for Franklin & Sons, objected to the extension, claiming the Robt. Simpson Company would get all the benefit, and that the cost would be $200,000. The mayor and Controller Spence held that a great public improvement would be made, and the board will ask council to pass a bylaw calling for a joint formal report from Mr. Forman and Mr. Rust.

City is Healthy.

Dr. Sheard considers the city's health record thus far this month very satisfactory. The number of cases of typhoid reported shows a falling off from the showing of last month, only 18 having developed as yet. There are 55 cases of diphtheria and 16 of scarlet fever. There have been three deaths from typhoid and two from diphtheria.

SIR ADOLPH CARON CALLED TO ONTARIO BAR

Sir Adolph Caron, who was yesterday called to the bar at Osgoode Hall by the benchers of the Law Society of Upper Canada, who were in conclave assembled, was minister of militia under Sir John A. Macdonald in 1885, and became postmaster-general in 1892.

Sir Adolph was in 1865 called to the Quebec bar. In 1872 he went into the Dominion house as a member of Quebec. In 1879 he was made a Q.C. He sat for Rimouski in 1891, and Three Rivers five years later.

"IT'S ONLY A COLD, A TRIFLING COUGH"

Thousands have said this when they caught cold. Thousands have neglected to cure the cold. Thousands have filled a Consumptives grave through neglect. Never neglect a cough or cold. It can have but one result. It leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

is the medicine you need. It strikes at the very foundation of all throat or lung complaints, relieving or curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Sore Throat, and preventing Pneumonia and Consumption.

It has stood the test for many years, and is now more generally used than ever. It contains all the lung healing virtues of the pine tree combined with Wild Cherry Bark and other pectoral remedies. It stimulates the weakened bronchial organs, allays irritation and subdues inflammation, soothes and heals the irritated parts, loosens the phlegm and mucous, and aids nature to easily dislodge the morbid accumulations. Don't be humbugged into accepting an imitation of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It is put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark, and price 25 cts.

Mr. Julian J. LeBlanc, Belle Cote, N.S., writes: "I was troubled with a bad cold and severe cough, which assumed such an attitude as to keep me confined to my house. I tried several remedies advertised but they were of no avail. As a last resort I tried Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and one bottle cured me completely."

BLAKE'S NAME WAS FORGED AND SECRETARY WAS MISLED

Question: Was It Intended Only as Joke on 'Varsity Alumni or Something More Serious?

J. S. Carstairs, secretary of the Toronto branch of the University Alumni, Association thus squares himself in the matter of the onnouncement that the Hon. Edward Blake would attend last Monday night's meeting.

"In the course of my duties as secretary of the Toronto branch of the Alumni Association of the University of Toronto, cards of invitation for the meeting on Monday night were addressed to all the graduates in Toronto in arts or law (among others, of course). If Mr. Blake or any other graduate in arts or law whose name appears in the official University register of 1904 had no communication whatever from the secretary it is wholly due to some unforeseen accident. A reply card was received by me, signed 'Edward Blake, 467 Jarvis-street,' which was not unlike certain hieroglyphics that in former time adorned baccalaureate documents. The house address of Professor Wrong was likewise suggestive of bona fides, even if one were suspicious. The acceptance was reported by the secretary, and the card shown to others who have 'the good fortune of knowing' the honorable gentleman, now so long an exile from his native land that we younger men scarcely know him by sight.

"Was it to be considered as wholly impossible that the first commoner of Canada (of former times), should grace our frugal repast at Webb's? Even the sun itself at times shines into obscure and remote corners.

"I had little hesitation, therefore, in giving the honorable gentleman's name to the press, a name known to our fathers, but almost unknown to Canada during the past fifteen years, in order that the meeting on Monday night might not be wholly unworthy of such distinguished an alumnus.

"The acceptance was a forgery. It may have been a mere piece of horseplay. Or it may have been the work of someone who is more interested in deceiving or injuring the Alumni Association than in guarding his own honor or the honor of the university. Who could this be? But can the secretary of any organization be expected to scrutinize the signatures on the cards he receives as a bank teller examines his cheques?"

PRESENTATION OF FLAGS.

Interesting Ceremonies in the School Offices To-Night.

The school board room in the City Hall was in the process of decoration yesterday for the presentation of flags to the friends of the convention in Pittsburg. The numerous flags for presentation adorn the walls, and the room will present a very patriotic and brilliant appearance to the American visitors to-night.

C. A. B. Brown, chairman of the board of education, will occupy the chair. Inspector J. L. Eughes will present flags to Mr. Frasier, district passenger agent for the Pennsylvania railroad, and Walter Maughan, city passenger agent for the C.P.R. Misses L. N. Currie and Ida N. Hunter will read addresses to the railroad men. H. A. E. Kent is to make the presentation to the Pittsburg school officials, while W. H. Shaw, R. R. Davis and C. A. B. Brown are the donors to the Canadian Club. During the ceremonies some of the pupils of Sackville-street school will give a pictorial representation of the construction of the Union Jack.

Flags will be mailed to the superintendent of the Carnegie Steel Works and Mr. Howard of the Heintz pickle establishment.

SINKS OLD 1812 FRIGATE TO PREVENT SPREAD OF FIRE

London, Nov. 23.—The old 74 gun frigate Forte, built in 1812, was sunk in the Medway River this afternoon by shells fired by the British gunboat Bustard.

Fire broke out this morning on the Forte, which had been used as a coal depot, and 2000 tons of coal were soon ablaze. The fire parties were unable, owing to the heat, to get close enough to deal with the flames, so the shelling was resorted to in order to prevent the threatened spreading of the fire to neighboring shipping.

Saved From the Sands.

The ancient Church of St. Piran (Cornwall), which was recently discovered in the sands of Perran, is about to be restored. The church stands near an ancient town of Cornwall, long since lost in the sands, and is considered to be by far the oldest in the county.

Billiards Displaced by Restaurants.

Many of the public house proprietors of London have come to the conclusion that a restaurant pays better than a billiard saloon, and as a result billiard tables have been displaced to make room for the smaller and more profitable dinner tbales.

Arrangements are being made to remove the cargo. The barge was a sister of the Minnedosa, which was lost in Lake Superior a few weeks ago, and was with that ill-fated ship when the disaster occurred.
