

THE BEST alone is good enough for that nicest girl in the world. Send her

Peters Best Chocolates

daintily packed in a beautiful box, for $3. Book your order at once for delivery on December 24. No extra charge for packing to mail.

PETERS LONDON

London Business College

Dundas and Richmond Streets. London's newest and most up-to-date commercial school. Winter term begins January 5. Day and night classes. Phone 7380. J. Morris, Principal; N. Stonehouse, Vice-Principal.

Anthracite Coal

Best Quality—
BRISTOL ESSERY
320 Maitland. Phone 1939

Canadian Bureau of Credits

Dominion Bank Chambers, London, Established 1910.

Collections and adjustments locally or through agents at all points. Liquidation of estates a specialty. Call or write for terms and references.

With a Kwick-Lite

Electric Flash you can see in the darkest of spots. We have them in all sizes and shapes from $1.30 to $3.25.
BENSON-WILCOX ELECTRIC CO.
254 Dundas Street. Phone 2571

INSURANCE

HAROLD J. LAWSON
(Returned).
265 Dominion Savings Bldg. Phone 950.

PHONE 3511
HAVE YOUR PIANO TUNED BY S. BOARDMAN
Formerly six years with Heintzman Co.

Double Mileage

Puncture-Proof Service.

ART WILKES

London Tire Repair Dept.
354 Wellington. Opp. McCleary's.

CHRISTMAS Shop Early

The government asks that gifts be limited to useful and practical articles.

Good glasses make a gift that every wearer appreciates. A gift that restores good eyesight and pays a lasting tribute to the thoughtfulness of the giver.

Newest style double-vision lenses. Latest ideas and designs in gold and shell Rims, Frames and Mountings. Cases in wide variety of choice leathers. Glasses designed, made and fitted.

Come in and Learn About Our Christmas Gift Plan.

Carlyle TREBILCOCK OPTICIAN

233 Dundas Street. Phone 2351.
Two Doors East of Maitland.

For TODAY and TOMORROW

We have a special dollar line of NOTEPAPER

We are offering this to you as a Christmas special at

69c the Box

Come in early.

Hay's Stationery Co.

London's Leading Stationers.

TAYLOR'S STOMACH AND LIVER CURE.

Is composed entirely of roots, barks and herbs, and contains no mineral poisons; cures constipation, sour stomach, sick headache, biliousness, etc. On sale at the

TAYLOR DRUG STORES

The motorists seem to think that F. P. Brockman's service plan is a good one. They are talking very favorably about it. You better see him.

London's Rubber Man
346 DUNDAS, PHONE 5124. F. P. Brockman.

London Loan and Savings Co. OF CANADA

4% ALLOWED ON DEPOSITS.

5 1/2% ALLOWED ON DEBENTURES.

220 Dundas Street, London, Ont.

Rowat's Special Tea

Buy it when you want the best. 50c, 70c, 80c, $1.10 per pound.

T. A. ROWAT & CO.

No. 1 Quality

Hudson Seal

Coats

BELTZ & CO.

PRACTICAL FURRIERS.

Order a Loaf of

Parnell's

Bread Today

You'll be surprised with its goodness.

LARGE 24-OUNCE LOAF 11c

SMALL LOAF 6c

At your grocer's or from our wagons.

Parnell Baking Co.

Phones 929-1390.

Former Pastor, Rev. J. W. Pedley, Conducts Service.

"THE NEW JERUSALEM"

Preacher Dwells On Need of Building For Future Heavenly Home.

"I count it a great privilege to be present today," said Rev. J. W. Pedley, R. A., of Toronto, speaking at First Congregational Church on Sunday. "On this 82nd anniversary. Twenty-four years ago stands out clearly for us when four happy years as minister of this church, Mrs. Pedley and myself held the London church especially dear to us, for here we made many close friends, and had many blessed experiences in our work."

"I pray God's blessing will rest upon you, and that much success will be yours during these days under the leadership of your good pastor, Rev. M. Kelly."

The New Jerusalem.

Speaking on the New Jerusalem, Mr. Pedley based his remarks on Hebrews, XIII, 14. "For here we have no continuing city, but we seek one."

"Regarding the author," said the speaker, "there's some doubt, but there's no doubt as to his ability, for with a fine, delicate touch he characterizes all the unrest and disturbance not only of our age but of all ages."

"This restlessness is a common disturbance of the race. The modern city grows in all directions. But, the old cities were built for a purpose—their streets carefully chosen, walls and buttresses made impenetrable, lasting forever."

"The only defence that is secure is a noble army. There's no safety in cities any more."

Hard To Believe.

"It's hard for us to believe that what we are engaged in, interested in, giving our best thought and energy to develop—that all this will not last."

"We think our systems, social, political, yes, even religious, are but transitory. We have here no continuing city, but we seek one. And," continued Mr. Pedley, "it's the best solution of all our difficulties that we seek one for all orders must be pushed aside. Change and decay in all around I see, that's been the fate of all the ages."

Only Life Worth While.

"We have often wondered how men have endured and put up with hardship, but the only life that's worth while is the life that seeks and strives, that endures."

"It was no calamity to be turned out of Eden. The only life that develops, that labors, that goes to the wilderness and makes it blossom as a rose."

"There's no paradise for any man except the one he makes for himself. God could not make one for me; I must make it for myself. Even Adam and Eve were not satisfied with the paradise God made for them. They must needs make their own."

Same Today.

"So with the race. Our boys coming back are sick of our planning and fussing for them. Our striving to supply all their needs. They want to get out and strike for themselves. This old world never expects to get back of paradise. Waitfully yes, she may look back at the old Eden, but resolutely she pushes on to the heaven beyond."

"The old Jerusalem is gone, but," Mr. John, saw a New Jerusalem. Never give up. Keep on striving to go forward. You ask me, is it reasonable to expect a state or condition absolutely satisfactory? Shall we ever be in such a state that we'll have no sense, taste or expectation? Has God come into such a state? Never! Never!"

His God.

"I must have a God who comes closer to me, who loves what I love—yes, and hates as I hate."

"There's nothing true; all is false if, as Tennyson sings, there is not

"One far off divine event, Towards which the whole creation moves."

"What shall we call it? Heaven? Our modern ideas are so advanced that we've almost crowded out the soul, old-fashioned heaven. We seldom sing now

"There is a happy land, Far, far away."

"But I don't care about hell—I'll still sing of heaven. Do what you like with hell—I never expect to go there, but let us hang on to heaven, the solace of all

MURINE'S Eyes, Belonging, Soothing, Soothe—Keep your Eyes Strong and Healthy. If they Tingle, Smart, Itch or Burn, if Sore, Irritated, Inflamed or Granulated, Use Murine's. Safe for Infants or Adults. At all Druggists in Canada. Write for Free Eye Book. Murine's, Chicago, U. S. A.

So with the race. Our boys coming back are sick of our planning and fussing for them. Our striving to supply all their needs. They want to get out and strike for themselves. This old world never expects to get back of paradise. Waitfully yes, she may look back at the old Eden, but resolutely she pushes on to the heaven beyond."

"The old Jerusalem is gone, but," Mr. John, saw a New Jerusalem. Never give up. Keep on striving to go forward. You ask me, is it reasonable to expect a state or condition absolutely satisfactory? Shall we ever be in such a state that we'll have no sense, taste or expectation? Has God come into such a state? Never! Never!"

His God.

"I must have a God who comes closer to me, who loves what I love—yes, and hates as I hate."

"There's nothing true; all is false if, as Tennyson sings, there is not

"One far off divine event, Towards which the whole creation moves."

"What shall we call it? Heaven? Our modern ideas are so advanced that we've almost crowded out the soul, old-fashioned heaven. We seldom sing now

"There is a happy land, Far, far away."

"But I don't care about hell—I'll still sing of heaven. Do what you like with hell—I never expect to go there, but let us hang on to heaven, the solace of all

So with the race. Our boys coming back are sick of our planning and fussing for them. Our striving to supply all their needs. They want to get out and

strike for themselves. This old world never expects to get back of paradise. Waitfully yes, she may look back at the old Eden, but resolutely she pushes on to the heaven beyond."

"The old Jerusalem is gone, but," Mr. John, saw a New Jerusalem. Never give up. Keep on striving to go forward. You ask me, is it reasonable to expect a state or condition absolutely satisfactory? Shall we ever be in such a state that we'll have no sense, taste or expectation? Has God come into such a state? Never! Never!"

His God.

"I must have a God who comes closer to me, who loves what I love—yes, and hates as I hate."

"There's nothing true; all is false if, as Tennyson sings, there is not

"One far off divine event, Towards which the whole creation moves."

"What shall we call it? Heaven? Our modern ideas are so advanced that we've almost crowded out the soul, old-fashioned heaven. We seldom sing now

"There is a happy land, Far, far away."

"But I don't care about hell—I'll still sing of heaven. Do what you like with hell—I never expect to go there, but let us hang on to heaven, the solace of all

So with the race. Our boys coming back are sick of our planning and fussing for them. Our striving to supply all their needs. They want to get out and

strike for themselves. This old world never expects to get back of paradise. Waitfully yes, she may look back at the old Eden, but resolutely she pushes on to the heaven beyond."

"The old Jerusalem is gone, but," Mr. John, saw a New Jerusalem. Never give up. Keep on striving to go forward. You ask me, is it reasonable to expect a state or condition absolutely satisfactory? Shall we ever be in such a state that we'll have no sense, taste or expectation? Has God come into such a state? Never! Never!"

His God.

"I must have a God who comes closer to me, who loves what I love—yes, and hates as I hate."

"There's nothing true; all is false if, as Tennyson sings, there is not

"One far off divine event, Towards which the whole creation moves."

"What shall we call it? Heaven? Our modern ideas are so advanced that we've almost crowded out the soul, old-fashioned heaven. We seldom sing now

"There is a happy land, Far, far away."

"But I don't care about hell—I'll still sing of heaven. Do what you like with hell—I never expect to go there, but let us hang on to heaven, the solace of all

So with the race. Our boys coming back are sick of our planning and fussing for them. Our striving to supply all their needs. They want to get out and

strike for themselves. This old world never expects to get back of paradise. Waitfully yes, she may look back at the old Eden, but resolutely she pushes on to the heaven beyond."

"The old Jerusalem is gone, but," Mr. John, saw a New Jerusalem. Never give up. Keep on striving to go forward. You ask me, is it reasonable to expect a state or condition absolutely satisfactory? Shall we ever be in such a state that we'll have no sense, taste or expectation? Has God come into such a state? Never! Never!"

His God.

"I must have a God who comes closer to me, who loves what I love—yes, and hates as I hate."

"There's nothing true; all is false if, as Tennyson sings, there is not

"One far off divine event, Towards which the whole creation moves."

"What shall we call it? Heaven? Our modern ideas are so advanced that we've almost crowded out the soul, old-fashioned heaven. We seldom sing now

"There is a happy land, Far, far away."

"But I don't care about hell—I'll still sing of heaven. Do what you like with hell—I never expect to go there, but let us hang on to heaven, the solace of all

Marguerite La Devolr, the clever little Oriental dancer and delighted patrons at the Majestic at all performances yesterday. She is appearing again today and Wednesday in a special dance preceding the presentation of that massive spectacle, "The Flame of the Desert."

82ND ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED AT FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CH.

Former Pastor, Rev. J. W. Pedley, Conducts Service.

"THE NEW JERUSALEM"

Preacher Dwells On Need of Building For Future Heavenly Home.

"I count it a great privilege to be present today," said Rev. J. W. Pedley, R. A., of Toronto, speaking at First Congregational Church on Sunday. "On this 82nd anniversary. Twenty-four years ago stands out clearly for us when four happy years as minister of this church, Mrs. Pedley and myself held the London church especially dear to us, for here we made many close friends, and had many blessed experiences in our work."

"I pray God's blessing will rest upon you, and that much success will be yours during these days under the leadership of your good pastor, Rev. M. Kelly."

The New Jerusalem.

Speaking on the New Jerusalem, Mr. Pedley based his remarks on Hebrews, XIII, 14. "For here we have no continuing city, but we seek one."

"Regarding the author," said the speaker, "there's some doubt, but there's no doubt as to his ability, for with a fine, delicate touch he characterizes all the unrest and disturbance not only of our age but of all ages."

"This restlessness is a common disturbance of the race. The modern city grows in all directions. But, the old cities were built for a purpose—their streets carefully chosen, walls and buttresses made impenetrable, lasting forever."

"The only defence that is secure is a noble army. There's no safety in cities any more."

Hard To Believe.

"It's hard for us to believe that what we are engaged in, interested in, giving our best thought and energy to develop—that all this will not last."

"We think our systems, social, political, yes, even religious, are but transitory. We have here no continuing city, but we seek one. And," continued Mr. Pedley, "it's the best solution of all our difficulties that we seek one for all orders must be pushed aside. Change and decay in all around I see, that's been the fate of all the ages."

Only Life Worth While.

"We have often wondered how men have endured and put up with hardship, but the only life that's worth while is the life that seeks and strives, that endures."

"It was no calamity to be turned out of Eden. The only life that develops, that labors, that goes to the wilderness and makes it blossom as a rose."

"There's no paradise for any man except the one he makes for himself. God could not make one for me; I must make it for myself. Even Adam and Eve were not satisfied with the paradise God made for them. They must needs make their own."

Same Today.

"So with the race. Our boys coming back are sick of our planning and fussing for them. Our striving to supply all their needs. They want to get out and strike for themselves. This old world never expects to get back of paradise. Waitfully yes, she may look back at the old Eden, but resolutely she pushes on to the heaven beyond."

"The old Jerusalem is gone, but," Mr. John, saw a New Jerusalem. Never give up. Keep on striving to go forward. You ask me, is it reasonable to expect a state or condition absolutely satisfactory? Shall we ever be in such a state that we'll have no sense, taste or expectation? Has God come into such a state? Never! Never!"

His God.

"I must have a God who comes closer to me, who loves what I love—yes, and hates as I hate."

"There's nothing true; all is false if, as Tennyson sings, there is not

"One far off divine event, Towards which the whole creation moves."

"What shall we call it? Heaven? Our modern ideas are so advanced that we've almost crowded out the soul, old-fashioned heaven. We seldom sing now

"There is a happy land, Far, far away."

"But I don't care about hell—I'll still sing of heaven. Do what you like with hell—I never expect to go there, but let us hang on to heaven, the solace of all

So with the race. Our boys coming back are sick of our planning and fussing for them. Our striving to supply all their needs. They want to get out and

strike for themselves. This old world never expects to get back of paradise. Waitfully yes, she may look back at the old Eden, but resolutely she pushes on to the heaven beyond."

"The old Jerusalem is gone, but," Mr. John, saw a New Jerusalem. Never give up. Keep on striving to go forward. You ask me, is it reasonable to expect a state or condition absolutely satisfactory? Shall we ever be in such a state that we'll have no sense, taste or expectation? Has God come into such a state? Never! Never!"

His God.

"I must have a God who comes closer to me, who loves what I love—yes, and hates as I hate."

"There's nothing true; all is false if, as Tennyson sings, there is not

"One far off divine event, Towards which the whole creation moves."

"What shall we call it? Heaven? Our modern ideas are so advanced that we've almost crowded out the soul, old-fashioned heaven. We seldom sing now

"There is a happy land, Far, far away."

"But I don't care about hell—I'll still sing of heaven. Do what you like with hell—I never expect to go there, but let us hang on to heaven, the solace of all

So with the race. Our boys coming back are sick of our planning and fussing for them. Our striving to supply all their needs. They want to get out and

strike for themselves. This old world never expects to get back of paradise. Waitfully yes, she may look back at the old Eden, but resolutely she pushes on to the heaven beyond."

"The old Jerusalem is gone, but," Mr. John, saw a New Jerusalem. Never give up. Keep on striving to go forward. You ask me, is it reasonable to expect a state or condition absolutely satisfactory? Shall we ever be in such a state that we'll have no sense, taste or expectation? Has God come into such a state? Never! Never!"

His God.

"I must have a God who comes closer to me, who loves what I love—yes, and hates as I hate."

"There's nothing true; all is false if, as Tennyson sings, there is not

"One far off divine event, Towards which the whole creation moves."

"What shall we call it? Heaven? Our modern ideas are so advanced that we've almost crowded out the soul, old-fashioned heaven. We seldom sing now

"There is a happy land, Far, far away."

"But I don't care about hell—I'll still sing of heaven. Do what you like with hell—I never expect to go there, but let us hang on to heaven, the solace of all

So with the race. Our boys coming back are sick of our planning and fussing for them. Our striving to supply all their needs. They want to get out and

strike for themselves. This old world never expects to get back of paradise. Waitfully yes, she may look back at the old Eden, but resolutely she pushes on to the heaven beyond."

"The old Jerusalem is gone, but," Mr. John, saw a New Jerusalem. Never give up. Keep on striving to go forward. You ask me, is it reasonable to expect a state or condition absolutely satisfactory? Shall we ever be in such a state that we'll have no sense, taste or expectation? Has God come into such a state? Never! Never!"

His God.

"I must have a God who comes closer to me, who loves what I love—yes, and hates as I hate."

"There's nothing true; all is false if, as Tennyson sings, there is not

"One far off divine event, Towards which the whole creation moves."

"What shall we call it? Heaven? Our modern ideas are so advanced that we've almost crowded out the soul, old-fashioned heaven. We seldom sing now

"There is a happy land, Far, far away."

"But I don't care about hell—I'll still sing of heaven. Do what you like with hell—I never expect to go there, but let us hang on to heaven, the solace of all

So with the race. Our boys coming back are sick of our planning and fussing for them. Our striving to supply all their needs. They want to get out and

strike for themselves. This old world never expects to get back of paradise. Waitfully yes, she may look back at the old Eden, but resolutely she pushes on to the heaven beyond."

"The old Jerusalem is gone, but," Mr. John, saw a New Jerusalem. Never give up. Keep on striving to go forward. You ask me, is it reasonable to expect a state or condition absolutely satisfactory? Shall we ever be in such a state that we'll have no sense, taste or expectation? Has God come into such a state? Never! Never!"

His God.

"I must have a God who comes closer to me, who loves what I love—yes, and hates as I hate."

"There's nothing true; all is false if, as Tennyson sings, there is not

"One far off divine event, Towards which the whole creation moves."

"What shall we call it? Heaven? Our modern ideas are so advanced that we've almost crowded out the soul, old-fashioned heaven. We seldom sing now