PLAYS, PICTURES
AND MUSIC

"HIS MAJESTY BUNKER BEAN"

At the Royal Alexandra Theatre for one week with Wednesday and Saturday matinees, beginning Monday evening, Feb. 19, the popular light comedian, Taylor Holmes, will be seen in the farcical comedy, "His Majesty Bunker Bean." As Bunker Bean, Taylor Holmes, it is said, has made the hit of his career. The play is to be given here by the company that appeared in it during its run at the Astor Theatre, New York City. Some of the cast are: Walter, John, Walter, John, Walter, John, Walter, John, Toms, Horace Mitchell, Philip Leigh, Belfort Forrest, Maude Hanford, Lillian Lawrence, Clara Louise Moore, Grace Peters, Edna Phillips, Annette Westby, Stanley Wood, George O'Rourke and George C. Lyman.

MUTT AND JEFF'S WEDDING.

Even more auspiciously than either of its former seasons did Bud Fisher's happy comedy character-comedy, "Mutt and Jeff," open its fifth season as a musical comedy offering under Gus Hill's direction. With an entire new production from scenery to music, Mutt and Jeff have made to conquer new lands. "Their Wedding" is the title of the new vehicle selected.

AL. H. WILSON IN NEW PLAY.

The new song hits which embellish the story of "My Killarney Rose," the new play which Al. H. Wilson and company will present at the Grand Opera House of Feb. 26, are set to original and tuneful music. They include: "The Love I Give to You,"
"Where the Shamrock Grows," "My Killarney Rose" and "Mary Houl-lan."

LOEW'S.

"The Minstrel Revue of 1917," an all-girl minstrel creation, which differs widely from anything ever shown in vaudeville, will be the featured attraction at Loew's Grand Theatre Theatre the coming week. The cast is headed by the celebrated minstrel queen, Josie Flynn and Mae Roberts, an added attraction will be Lillian Watson with an entirely new act. The third hit feature will be the celebrated feminine protean star, Emily Mon-ton, and her company in "Into the Light," one of the best of its kind. Others will include Wright and Davis, clever pair of fun makers, in "The Love Insurance Agency," Bill-bury and Robinson, who sing the latest songs hits; Ollie and Johnny Vanis, called wizards of the wire, and Wentworth, Vesia and Teddy; Gretchen Hartman and Alan Hale in "The Love Theft" will be an added attraction.

GAYETY.

Beginning with the usual matinee on Monday next, the Gayety Theatre will have as its attraction for one week only the "1,000,000 Dollars," which is headed by that legitimate traveller, Lew Hill, than whom there is none more popular in this city. He is said to have his best opportunities in the present show, which means that the patrons are going to have many wholesome laughs.

STAR.

A good old-fashioned burlesque show brought up-to-date is Herk-Kelly & Danvers' "The Cabaret Girls," which will be seen at the Star Theatre for one week, with daily matinees.
There is an all-star cast and the show is purely a laughing one. There is no plot, the author having arranged a string of incidents for "laughing purposes only." In this direction he has been remarkably successful.

MADISON.

Beautiful and captivating Myrtle Stedman, assisted by House Peters, scored a great success last night at the Madison in "The Happiness of Three Women," a society drama of rather ingenious make-up, gives the cast plenty of opportunity to display emotional powers.

ANITA STEWART AT STRAND.

The splendid Vitaphone photoplay,
"The Glory of Yolanda," with Anita Stewart, is drawing big crowds to the Strand Theatre. The picture is a genuine and unmistakable Russian adventure, has been reproduced most realistically. The plot is one of strong human and dramatic appeal. It centers around an adventurous little Russian girl, who suffers all the agonies of a tortured soul stricken with guilt.
