The Man In The Street

Welcome to the water wagon!

The fellow who said this at New Year's repeats it with equal fervor in these days of dusty streets.

In fact the expressions used are very much milder than when we used to have to wait half way into the summer for the much-needed cart to be liberated from winter quarters. You know the time we mean.

Unruly or Bashful.

Speaker in Frederick at Farmers' and Dairyman's Convention this week described to his audience "how we get acquainted with their cows." The trouble is that so many cows do not wish to become congenial acquaintances—in fact are resentful about an introduction.

News letter tells of an English soldier being cured of neuritis by the bursting of a shell. A suffering correspondent inquires how many would be needed to cure rheumatism.

Should be safe now to put away the snow shovel, or if you borrowed your neighbor's to return it.

Canadian soldier writes home, speaking of the prevalence of smoking in the German ranks, "they are not having difficulty in finding a match."

Mr. Utterback, mayor of Bangor, recently declared prohibition unsuccessful. Can you imagine the whings the temperance people will utter back at Mr. Utterback?

The war made a difference in some fellows' income this year, causing fewer marriages. News head says—"Lobster catch was smaller than last year."

The North End lad who found $50 in the family coal bin yesterday should have made the find last fall—they might have encouraged other lads to keep the hods full of winter.

Chap arrested last evening certainly must have been a flower of manhood. His affection led to an elopement with a phonograph.

It is not surprising that the chief support of the anti-commission campaign comes from those who know the least about how it has worked out.

Police station furnace burned up $350 worth of opium yesterday. Reformers will watch that furnace to see whether it has acquired the craving.

Future historians will class investigations as one of the chief products of this province, to the everlasting credit of those who have made them necessary.

Good that spring is near; soon the Canadian soldiers will not have to worry so much if they have to go bare-foot.

FAIRVILLE NEWS

The Lancaster Parish Red Cross Society are very busy these days and are holding that only two meetings have been held since organization, a great deal has been accomplished. The grant of $100 from the Flag Day campaign is to be expended on material but more is needed so that the sewing and knitting may continue.

An active committee with Mrs. Hetherington as convener is now arranging for a tea and sale at the home of Mrs. A. V. Anglin, Lancaster Heights. A pantry sale will be conducted by Mrs. Cecil McKel and Miss Bessie Compton is to preside over the candy table. Mrs. Anglin and Mrs. Charles Tilton will pour.

As the affair will take place on St. Patrick's Day the decorations will be in keeping. The energy which the ladies have displayed since the formation of the local Red Cross branch and their attention to detail mark their efforts as perhaps the foremost ever attempted in this section and worthy of the public's generosity and sympathy to the fullest extent.

Rev. W. Townshend, who has been quite ill for the last few weeks is somewhat improved today. Owing to Mr. Townshend's sickness there were no services in the Presbyterian church on the last two Sunday nights.

ANNAPOLIS FIRE

Incendiary Suspected to Have Been at Work

Annapolis, N.B., March 13.—The people of Annapolis were awakened early this morning by an alarm for a fire in an old building in George street, for many years run as the Clifton House Hotel. The firemen with a plentiful supply of water succeeded in confining the fire to the interior of the building and extinguishing it. The building is owned by David J. Horgan of Fredericton, N.B. The second floor was occupied by several tenants, while the offices on the first floor were occupied by Mrs. Lindgren, an millinery parlour. Most of her stock was saved, but some damaged by smoke and water. It is understood that the building was insured. The fire was evidently the work of an incendiary as kerosene oil was seen near the furnace in the basement.

Contribution of $25 From States For Patriotic Fund—Given During Curlers' Visit

The contribution was received with unusual pleasure not only because of the unexpected generosity from another city, but also on account of its value as tangible evidence of international good feeling. It was handed to Dr. A. H. Merrill, president of St. Andrew's Curling Club, during the recent visit of St. Andrew's curlers to Boston.

Mr. Allan also acknowledges receipt of $20 from the men in the city's employ about the wharves.

THE Y. M. C. A. AND THE WAR

The following is an extract from a letter written somewhere in France by one of the St. John boys to his brother here:—

"In the evenings we usually manage to have a very good time at the Y. M. C. A., and just here I would like to say that this organization is doing a splendid work for the whole British army everywhere. At Valcartier the Y. M. C. A. was the centre and practically the sole source of spending the spare hours we had; at Salisbury the same. We get off the boat here and there they are again in full force in one end of the shed. Coming up to camp the same story, with the long low hut, at one end a counter where one buys tea, cakes, etc., while books, papers and writing materials are supplied free, and at the other end a platform and a piano where concerts are held every night.

One night our fellows put up a rattling good concert, and the last two nights a traveling Y. M. C. A. violinist has delighted big crowds. Hats off to the Y. M. C. A. every time."

POLICE COURT
