

SUPPORT ONLY CANDIDATES WHOSE POSITION IS SURE

The executive of the citizen's committee held a meeting last night for the purpose of discussing the final arrangements for a clean-up of the campaign for municipal ownership and distribution of the Musquash power.

Roy A. Willet, the chairman, said that the work of electing representatives favorable to civic distribution soon would be over, and there was no doubt but that the right men would be placed at the head of the city's affairs. For the last three or four months the committee had been working almost night and day, and the results had been most gratifying. The candidate for the municipality in favor of municipal distribution, H. R. McLellan, had led in the primaries by a splendid majority, and one of the candidates for constable, R. W. Wignmore, a municipal ownership man, had also led by a fine majority. There was no doubt, he said, but that the citizens were determined that the Power company should not get hold of the Musquash power.

Mr. Willet went on to say that, as was the case in some other elections, at the last minute their opponents were commencing to sling mud instead of facts and figures. So far, the supporters of municipal distribution had done all their fighting with facts which could not be disputed, and this had been the means of causing the Power company's friends to look for ammunition elsewhere, and they were now trying to turn the attention of the citizens from the real issue by bringing in personal matters. Mr. McLellan and Mr. Phillips, he said, had been slandered in a most disgraceful manner.

Mr. Willet dealt at some length with the propaganda which had been circulated by the opponents of municipal distribution during the last day or two, and said that if the intention of the writers was to lose as many votes as possible by disgusting the public the result for them would be a glorious success, as they were losing votes right and left. Mr. Willet then called upon Mr. Phillips to say a few words on the matter.

Upon rising Mr. Phillips said that from the start of the campaign he had been very careful to stick to facts and figures, and had conducted his part of the proceedings from an engineer's standpoint, and that it was with a good deal of satisfaction that, upon looking back, his statements and figures made three months ago stood good today. This fight for municipal ownership was nothing but a repetition of what had taken place in Ontario towns and cities, where

RADIO CLUB IS ORGANIZED HERE

Wireless telephony enthusiasts to the number of seventy or eighty met in the Commercial Club last evening and organized the Radio Club of New Brunswick. The meeting expressed the general desire that all phases of interest in the subject be represented and, following out this idea so far as possible, the following officers of the new organization were chosen:—Honorary president, Hon. W. E. Foster; president, Charles F. Sanford; vice-president, Jas. M. Robinson; secretary-treasurer, H. V. MacKinnon; committee to complete organization, Alton Noble, W. L. Ellis, John B. Jones, Jr., J. J. Thomson, Mrs. Blanche E. Main, Leslie Codner, George M. Robertson, F. J. Nisbet, Kenneth White, Albert Daye and Sidney P. Main.

H. V. MacKinnon, secretary of the Commercial Club, under the auspices of which the meeting was called, announced that within the next ten days an up-to-the-minute receiving set would be installed for demonstration purposes and for study. He said that within a short time a sending equipment of sufficient power to meet all the requirements of this territory also would be set up and that when this was done the simplest apparatus would prove almost entirely satisfactory to the amateur.

SEAMEN'S LAST CONCERT.

The closing concert of the season at the Seamen's Institute was put on last evening by the troupe from the steamer Empress of Britain. This was the first concert which this well-known troupe had been able to put on here this winter and a capacity audience attended the entertainment. The patrons of the concert were not disappointed, as the show was one of the best which had been

they had had to contend with a power company, and the same arguments that had been used in these towns were being used in St. John. Realizing that the supporters of municipal distribution were winning the fight, the opponents had resorted to personal attacks, but he (Phillips) would rather deal with figures than personalities, not through fear of any possible consequences, but because facts and figures were the only things that were of any importance to the citizens of St. John for the forming of their conclusions in this matter.

H. D. Sullivan said that it would be a good plan to have taken the Opera House for the whole of the evening, but as matters had been arranged, nothing more could be done along those lines, but to go ahead and get through as much business in the time available as possible. He suggested that Mr. McLellan and Mr. Phillips both fully into the letters circulated by the mayor and friends of the Power company, and show to the citizens how inaccurate and misleading they were. Mr. Sullivan said that, although the fight was practically won, and that the citizens had all made up their minds to secure light and power at the lowest possible cost, every effort should be made to make the majority on Monday as big as possible.

It was decided that the Opera House meeting this (Saturday) evening should be for the purpose of dealing with the statements made by the friends of the Power company and to show to the citizens that the only hope of securing light and power at the lowest possible cost was to have "no truck or trade with the Power company," and thus eliminate private profit. It was pointed out that it would be necessary to support only the candidates for commissions who were heart and soul in favor of municipal distribution, as Mr. McLellan would require the support of the whole city council if the citizens were to get all the benefits coming to them, and if St. John was to enjoy the success experienced by the many Ontario towns operating and owning their own distribution plants.

with Life Insurance so that when the storms of life approach, it will be a safe haven for your dependents.

A mortgage which draws interest every hour of the day and night may prove a source of unending worry to your dependents, who would be deprived of your regular income with which to meet the payments.

Why not carry Life Insurance for an amount equal to the mortgage so that your home will be clear of encumbrance at your death? You can do so for an outlay of from two to five per cent. of the principal, depending on your age.
