SHARP ATTACK REPULSED

Dangerous Condition Relieved Just in Time By "Fruit-a-tives"

MR. F. J. CAVEEN
632 Gerrard St. East, Toronto.
For two years, I was a victim of Acute Indigestion and Gas In The Stomach. It afterwards attacked my heart, and I had pains all over the body, so I could hardly move around. I tried all kinds of medicines but none of them did me any good. At last, acting on the advice of a friend, I decided to try "Fruit-a-tives". I bought the first box last June, and now I am well, after using only three boxes. I recommend "Fruit-a-tives" to anyone suffering from indigestion, no matter how acute. FRED J. CAVEEN. Simple indigestion often leads to Heart Attacks, Catarrh of the Stomach and constant distress of mind and body. If you are bothered with any Stomach trouble, and especially if Constipation troubles you, take "Fruit-a-tives". 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

WAR SUMMARY

(Toronto Globe.)

The attack on Saloniki is about to begin. The Fifth Turkish Army, which held the Dardanelles positions, has been ordered to the Greek frontier. The Bulgars, as a result of the conference with the Emperor William at Nish, have decided to take part in the campaign. With the aid of the Turks and Bulgars the German forces, now in the Balkans will, it is believed, be able to invest the city effectively. The movement of the Austrian army which conquered Montenegro to the southwest through Albania is intended to occupy the country east of Avlona, so that the Italians and Serbs will not be able to strike at the right flank of the army of investment across the Albanian mountains.

The conquest of Albania and the occupation of the territory around Avlona will be the signal for the opening of the main German offensive against Saloniki. It is not probable that the Austrians will seek to dislodge the Italians from Avlona, but they will endeavor to occupy positions which will mask that city and hold the Italians passive there while the major operations at Saloniki proceed. Montenegro is quieting down rapidly, and the Austrians are making sure of their position by absolutely disarming the population.

Enver Pasha has been talking freely about the plans of the Germanic powers. Once the Balkan campaign is victoriously ended, he says, the Germans will strike a terrible blow on the western front. The Turkish offensive against the Suez Canal and against India is delayed by the lack of every sort of supplies, but with Germany's aid this contingency will soon be met. "Then," says Enver, "our armies will march. We intend to sweep every Englishman out of Egypt and then annex that country." Enver would do all this if he could, but it is a big contract.

Major Morah, another talkative individual, says in The Berlin Tageblatt that France on the west front is already half exhausted, and is making superhuman efforts to raise the necessary number of troops. The class of 1917—that is, the young men who will be twenty some time next year—is already under arms, and men of 48 and 49 have been called up. The enemies of Germany, he admits, have numerical superiority on the west front, but that does not mean military superiority. The British troops are especially numerous in limited sections, and are as a consequence, better housed, cared for and fed than the French, who are a longer time in the trenches and a shorter time in positions of rest. Major Morah might have added that as the French effectives diminish those of Britain will continue to increase, and so the allied numerical superiority will remain, and may even become military superiority.

The reports from Paris and London as to operations on the Western front still emphasize the artillery actions. The Germans yesterday made an infantry attack on a salient of the British line near Loos, but were driven back. Between Loos and La Bassée Canal the German guns are specially active, and the British retaliated, damaging the enemy's trenches in many places. Berlin states that the French attacked the German trenches near Neuville with hand grenades, but failed to penetrate them and, it is asserted, lost heavily.

The British War Office announces that the attack upon the Arabs on the northwestern frontier of Egypt last Sunday was a complete surprise, and that the enemy sustained a severe defeat, which has greatly discouraged the local Bedouin. They are now deserting the Senussi and returning east to their homes.

The Austrians are reported to be making most extensive preparations to hold their present lines a few miles to the east of Czernowitz, in Bukovina. Many guns of heavy calibre are being brought up and mounted in such a fashion as to foreshadow an intention to hold a defensive line along the Pruth, the Dniester and the Strypa. The men in the trenches released by this increase of artillery defences are being sent to the north, where, it is believed, a new German offensive is being planned around Riga and Dvinsk. There has been a marked increase of German aerial activity.

The Russians continue their sweep in Armenia and Persia. It is officially reported that they have crushed the Turks in an engagement east of Erzerum, and taken 17 officers, 274 men and a large quantity of stores. They are now pursuing the fleeing enemy. In Persia, also, south of Lake Urmiah, large Turkish forces, accompanied by Kurdish irregulars, were driven from their positions and many prisoners were taken. In addition thousands of cattle and large quantities of arms, munitions and medical supplies were captured. Still farther south, in the Hamadan region, the Turks and Luristan levies were driven southward. The entire Turkish line is giving way before the Russians, and this will shortly affect the operations in Mesopotamia, whence the Turks must draw men to strengthen their Caucasian battle-line.

The Rome official report tells of prolonged and fierce struggles along the Isonzo, where thrice the Austrians tried to dislodge the Italians from their positions by infantry attack. They suffered heavy losses and finally took flight. The amazing force of the frequent mine explosions on the western front around Neuville, where the German offensive centres, is illustrated by a statement in the midnight French official report that "150 German b.d.ies were counted in one of the craters we recaptured." The circular hollow caused by a single mine explosion was large enough to enable at least 150 men—and perhaps many more, for it is improbable that all the original occupants were killed—to find shelter within it and use the excavation as an advanced position.
