

THE CHRONICLE.

SAINT JOHN, SEPT. 24, 1897.

The Mail Steamer Britannia brought the September Mail to Halifax on Friday last, in 123 days from Liverpool. The letters were brought to the City on Sunday morning, by express from Halifax, but the newspapers did not arrive until Monday by the regular Mail—Miss Peters, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Morrison, and Mr. W. Morrison came passengers in the Britannia.

The steamer ran on Cape Race, New Brunswick, but was fortunately backed off without serious damage.

The news of great importance, and we have endeavored to give as much of our news as we could. Failure to a very heavy amount, have taken place among some of the principal merchants of the United Kingdom, and a continued depression remained upon the money market.

The weather in Britain continued fine for the past week, causing a further reduction in the price of breadstuffs, which are stated to have never been lower.

The above, with the receding of the Great Britain—the very awkward position of foreign exchange, and the fact that the Government is in a position to do anything, has caused the market to be very quiet.

The steamer Hibernia arrived at Liverpool a little past midnight of the 23rd, in 9 days and a few hours from Halifax. The Liverpool press says that she has the quickest passage on record, but our inquiry is at least of the first home-harbour passage of the Hibernia ever performed in 23 days.

The steamer Sarah Sands arrived at Liverpool on the 23rd, at the eighteenth day after she left New York. She sailed again for New York on the 24th.

An opinion has gone abroad, that, by a recent act of parliament, writs of error may be written upon any judgment of a court of law, and that in respect of writs of error, the old law is still in force, and no writ of error may be written upon any judgment of a court of law, and that the name and address of the person to whom it is sent.

The Queen Dowager, attended by a limited retinue, will leave this country for Madras at the close of the autumn month. The directors of Messrs. Messrs. will occupy the Governor's residence at that island during her sojourn there.

In Glasgow, part of the cotton-mill of Messrs. Messrs. in Hill Street, has been burnt down, and the property to the amount of £20,000 destroyed, as well as some 400 hands out of employment.

A company has been incorporated by royal charter for the purpose of establishing a line of steam boats to run between the ports of the United Kingdom and the West Indies, and to connect the ports of the United Kingdom and the West Indies, and to connect the ports of the United Kingdom and the West Indies.

THE HIBERNIA.

The proprietors of the large cotton mill at the north end of the town has given notice to his workpeople, 500 in number, that the factory will be closed on the 11th of next month.

From the character which Mr. North universally bears for generosity of disposition and kind feelings towards those whom he employs, it is quite certain that this step has not been determined upon without great reluctance, and under the pressure of an imperative necessity.

When that necessity has arisen it is for those to explain who promised us a millennium of uninterrupted manufacturing prosperity as the sure result of a free trade, but where is the prosperity? Never according to all accounts, were the manufacturing districts in a more deplorable condition. Eight thousand hands are already out of employment in Manchester alone, and every day the number of mills which are shut down, or waiting to work, altogether, is increasing.

It is found, that although we have been importing large quantities of foreign grain and flour, foreigners have not been taking out manufactured goods in return; and the consequence of this one-sided reciprocity are, that we are accumulating upon us, and threatening a crisis of the most extensive and disastrous character.

Want of employment is producing wide-spread discontent, as but recent experience has taught us, the transition is easy to open insubordination and riotous outbreaks. The strike of eight to ten thousand Chartists in a Newmarket racecourse, on Sunday last, is a circumstance too significant of the state of popular feeling in this neighbourhood to be lightly passed over.

However, it is to be hoped that the downward process of the political views of these men may be, the fact of their congregating in such masses, and for such objects, sufficiently indicates that something is wrong in their physical and social condition.

What has been done to improve the condition of the working classes, and to give extension and permanence to the operations of trade and industry, as we would like to believe it would, it has vastly aggravated the previously existing causes of distress.

The cheet, however, is fast being exposed, and it is to be hoped that the downward process of the nation may be arrested before any very fatal mischief has resulted from it.—Liverpool Courier.

THE WELLINGTON STATUTE COMMISSIONERS. Monsieur Sayer (not he of the Reform Club House) was the great brass-founder and government contractor for public works in France, and was appointed to the Ministry of War that the whole nation, to the value of 100,000 francs, which had been voted by the Chamber last session for the tomb of Napoleon, had been illegally disposed of by a most extraordinary and audacious fraud.

Without a single exception, the reports of the grain crops, north, east, south, and west, are of the most cheering nature, and the appearance of the harvest being one of every year, it is not surprising that the authorities are not prepared to entertain any apprehensions as to the result of the present year's crop. It is not surprising that the authorities are not prepared to entertain any apprehensions as to the result of the present year's crop.

Without a single exception, the reports of the grain crops, north, east, south, and west, are of the most cheering nature, and the appearance of the harvest being one of every year, it is not surprising that the authorities are not prepared to entertain any apprehensions as to the result of the present year's crop.

PREPARATIONS FOR WAR.

We have reason for knowing that a secret, but energetic and persevering recruiting is going on in all Her Majesty's dockyards, and that the shipwrights and other operatives of these establishments are being equipped by an extra shilling per night to be drilled for active service three times per week, with a significant hint that those who join will be sure of continued employment, and those who refuse will not.

They all know what such a hint means, and the great majority have taken it. Of course it would be premature to speculate as to the ultimate object of these movements. The ambition of France, the unsettled state of Spain and Portugal, the movements in Italy, the civil war that threatens an immediate invasion of Switzerland, each and all are pregnant with matters that may involve this country.

Connected with this subject we may add that a more than usual interest is manifested to take advantage of every improvement in military practice. The fact of the Government having been given to understand that the Congress of Vienna, now held by government, and those invited by Mr. Hale, principally for practice on shipboard. The number and rank of the officers assembled, proved the deep interest that was taken by government in the subject, the presence of a special reporter of the Times showed that that journal had been let solely into the secret.

Mr. Hale and the scientific gentlemen assembled at the Ship Hotel, probably, we presume, to discuss the subject of the improvement of the vessel exhibit consisting of a bronze time wire, this invention is said to be a most important one, and it is to be hoped that the Government will be able to do with the choice.—London paper.

A good deal of curiosity has been excited to ascertain the present position of the House of Commons, it appears from the authorities that the House of Commons is now in a position to do anything, and it is to be hoped that the Government will be able to do with the choice.—London paper.

It is to be hoped that the Government will be able to do with the choice.—London paper.

It is to be hoped that the Government will be able to do with the choice.—London paper.

It is to be hoped that the Government will be able to do with the choice.—London paper.

It is to be hoped that the Government will be able to do with the choice.—London paper.

It is to be hoped that the Government will be able to do with the choice.—London paper.

It is to be hoped that the Government will be able to do with the choice.—London paper.

RESTORATION OF THE GREAT BRITAIN.

We printed in a former number of the European Times that the noble steamship Great Britain was likely to be restored to her original condition, and that she would be ready to receive her original crew and officers, and that she would be ready to receive her original crew and officers.

We have the highest gratification in saying that the restoration of the Great Britain is now a reality, and that she will be ready to receive her original crew and officers, and that she will be ready to receive her original crew and officers.

We have the highest gratification in saying that the restoration of the Great Britain is now a reality, and that she will be ready to receive her original crew and officers, and that she will be ready to receive her original crew and officers.

We have the highest gratification in saying that the restoration of the Great Britain is now a reality, and that she will be ready to receive her original crew and officers, and that she will be ready to receive her original crew and officers.

We have the highest gratification in saying that the restoration of the Great Britain is now a reality, and that she will be ready to receive her original crew and officers, and that she will be ready to receive her original crew and officers.

We have the highest gratification in saying that the restoration of the Great Britain is now a reality, and that she will be ready to receive her original crew and officers, and that she will be ready to receive her original crew and officers.

We have the highest gratification in saying that the restoration of the Great Britain is now a reality, and that she will be ready to receive her original crew and officers, and that she will be ready to receive her original crew and officers.

We have the highest gratification in saying that the restoration of the Great Britain is now a reality, and that she will be ready to receive her original crew and officers, and that she will be ready to receive her original crew and officers.

We have the highest gratification in saying that the restoration of the Great Britain is now a reality, and that she will be ready to receive her original crew and officers, and that she will be ready to receive her original crew and officers.

We have the highest gratification in saying that the restoration of the Great Britain is now a reality, and that she will be ready to receive her original crew and officers, and that she will be ready to receive her original crew and officers.

We have the highest gratification in saying that the restoration of the Great Britain is now a reality, and that she will be ready to receive her original crew and officers, and that she will be ready to receive her original crew and officers.

IMPORTANT FAILURES IN EUROPE.

We regret to announce the failure of the following highly respectable firms during the last month. It is estimated that the liabilities amount to five millions sterling.

- Alexander & Co. London.
- Burtholme, J. H. London.
- Castellani, Sons & Co. London.
- Croft & Marchand. Hamburg.
- Richardson (A. & C.) London.
- Douglas (Charles) & Co. London.
- Fraser & Co. London.
- Fraser, Neilson, & Co. London.
- Giles, Son, & Co. London.
- Gray & Robinson. Liverpool.
- Greig, H. & G. Liverpool.
- King & Melville. Liverpool.
- Rickpatrick, J. & C. Liverpool.
- Robertson & Co. Liverpool.
- Robinson (W. R. J.) & Co. Liverpool.
- Rowett (W. & C.) London.
- Sampson, Langdale & Co. Stockton.
- Woodley & J. London.

EUROPEAN CORN TRADE.

LONDON.—The weather during the past fortnight has been a favourable character. Harvest operations have, therefore, proceeded with which the country is all hands on the accounts of the new crops are cheering and satisfactory.

The weather during the past fortnight has been a favourable character. Harvest operations have, therefore, proceeded with which the country is all hands on the accounts of the new crops are cheering and satisfactory.

The weather during the past fortnight has been a favourable character. Harvest operations have, therefore, proceeded with which the country is all hands on the accounts of the new crops are cheering and satisfactory.

The weather during the past fortnight has been a favourable character. Harvest operations have, therefore, proceeded with which the country is all hands on the accounts of the new crops are cheering and satisfactory.

The weather during the past fortnight has been a favourable character. Harvest operations have, therefore, proceeded with which the country is all hands on the accounts of the new crops are cheering and satisfactory.

The weather during the past fortnight has been a favourable character. Harvest operations have, therefore, proceeded with which the country is all hands on the accounts of the new crops are cheering and satisfactory.

The weather during the past fortnight has been a favourable character. Harvest operations have, therefore, proceeded with which the country is all hands on the accounts of the new crops are cheering and satisfactory.

REMEDY FOR DYSENTERY.

The Editor of the Liverpool Free Press writes:—Yielding to the suggestions of many persons, I am induced to bring under public consideration the nature of a prescription which I obtained from a medical gentleman, during the period of my residence in the University of Liverpool.

The Editor of the Liverpool Free Press writes:—Yielding to the suggestions of many persons, I am induced to bring under public consideration the nature of a prescription which I obtained from a medical gentleman, during the period of my residence in the University of Liverpool.

The Editor of the Liverpool Free Press writes:—Yielding to the suggestions of many persons, I am induced to bring under public consideration the nature of a prescription which I obtained from a medical gentleman, during the period of my residence in the University of Liverpool.

The Editor of the Liverpool Free Press writes:—Yielding to the suggestions of many persons, I am induced to bring under public consideration the nature of a prescription which I obtained from a medical gentleman, during the period of my residence in the University of Liverpool.

The Editor of the Liverpool Free Press writes:—Yielding to the suggestions of many persons, I am induced to bring under public consideration the nature of a prescription which I obtained from a medical gentleman, during the period of my residence in the University of Liverpool.

The Editor of the Liverpool Free Press writes:—Yielding to the suggestions of many persons, I am induced to bring under public consideration the nature of a prescription which I obtained from a medical gentleman, during the period of my residence in the University of Liverpool.

The Editor of the Liverpool Free Press writes:—Yielding to the suggestions of many persons, I am induced to bring under public consideration the nature of a prescription which I obtained from a medical gentleman, during the period of my residence in the University of Liverpool.

The Editor of the Liverpool Free Press writes:—Yielding to the suggestions of many persons, I am induced to bring under public consideration the nature of a prescription which I obtained from a medical gentleman, during the period of my residence in the University of Liverpool.

The Editor of the Liverpool Free Press writes:—Yielding to the suggestions of many persons, I am induced to bring under public consideration the nature of a prescription which I obtained from a medical gentleman, during the period of my residence in the University of Liverpool.

The Editor of the Liverpool Free Press writes:—Yielding to the suggestions of many persons, I am induced to bring under public consideration the nature of a prescription which I obtained from a medical gentleman, during the period of my residence in the University of Liverpool.