

FORCES OF WAR FAVOR MONTENEGRO

Strong Turkish Position is Captured
MANY PRISONERS
Bulk of Ottoman Force Fell into Enemy's Hands
Other Balkan States Still Nominally at Peace
War Still Probable

London, Oct. 10.—Montenegro claims the first victory in the Balkan war by the capture of a strong Turkish position on Detlich Mountain, whose commander surrendered today with the bulk of his forces. Montenegro also crossed the frontier near the Rana and according to the Turkish account have been repulsed. The situation meanwhile is as puzzling as before. No declaration of war has been issued by the other allied Balkan states and there is no news yet of their ministers having left Constantinople. It cannot therefore be definitely said whether Montenegro has acted independently with the motive of forcing a conflict so as to render the powers' efforts in Macedonia, however, is through while diplomacy is trying to arrange the matter peacefully guns will decide it for them.

Bulgarians Aggressive.
Fresh Bulgarian attacks on Turkish frontier towns are reported today and the opinion is growing that the opposing parties are only using diplomatic display to concentrate their forces in readiness for the inevitable outbreak.
The statement of the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, Count Von Borchkoff, in the Hungarian delegation today that Austria is prepared to guard her interests in the Balkans at all hazards has created a sensation in European capitals as an indication that the powers may be unable to confine themselves to the policy of merely holding the ropes.
Podgoritz, Montenegro, Oct. 10.—The Montenegrins have captured Detlich Mountain. The Turkish commander and officers with many soldiers have surrendered.
For the past 20 hours the battle between the Montenegrin forces under direct command of King Nicholas and Turkish troops strongly entrenched in the hills has been in progress. The fight began at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, the first shot being fired by Prince Peter against the Turkish position on Mount Planitz. Within a few hours the Turks evacuated that district.
Turks Well Fortified.
Strongly fortified positions were occupied by the Turks, however, on Detlich Mountain which commands the road to Scutari and reinforcements were brought up which resulted in a general engagement which extended along the line for several miles.
King Nicholas remained at his headquarters at Podgoritz, where Crown Prince Danilo directed operations at the front.
The Montenegrins resumed the bombardment of Detlich at dawn and a heavy cannonade was kept up until 11 o'clock in the morning, when the Turkish batteries on the mountain were silenced. In the meantime a great battle was proceeding near the Turkish town of Tuzhi, about fifteen miles to the south of Podgoritz. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon the Turkish commander on Detlich with his officers and a majority of his troops surrendered. The Montenegrins captured four guns.
The Montenegrin standard was hoisted over the captured position. There were heavy losses on both sides but the Montenegrin camp gave itself over to rejoicing on the first victory in the war. A division of Montenegrins commanded by General Vukotich crossed the frontier early this morning near Berana.
Constantinople, Oct. 10.—The collective note of the five powers, was handed to the Turkish representative today. It is understood that the note embodies an offer to discuss with the people the realization of reforms in European Turkey, on the basis of the declarations of the Roumelian commission of 1909.
Greek Reverse.
London, Oct. 10.—Heavy losses were inflicted by the Turkish troops on a band of Greeks numbering 1,000 men, who today attacked a Turkish frontier post near Delialista. They were driven back over the frontier, according to a news agency dispatch from Saloniki.
Continued on page two.

NOTIFIED TO PAY DOUBLE LIABILITY
Shareholders of Wrecked Farmer's Bank Will Receive Dreaded Instructions — Some Will Be Ruined.

MAY SECURE REPEAL OF THE BANK ACT.
Effort Will Be Made to Obtain Retroactive Legislation.

Toronto, Oct. 10.—Farmers Bank shareholders will be notified this week that they will be required under the Bank Act to pay the double liability which they have been dreading. An order has been issued by George Knappe, official referee, calling upon all shareholders of the wrecked bank to pay "the amount unpaid upon their shares, the amount of all dividends wrongfully paid to them by the Farmers Bank and one hundred per cent. of the amount due by them as shareholders under the provision of section 125, of the Bank Act."
The order will be stubbornly contested by many of the shareholders, several of whom are men of but moderate means, and who will be ruined if compelled to pay double the amount of the face value of the stock for which they subscribed.
The general defence is that the organizers of the concern never complied with the Bank Act and the certificate was not legally issued. Most of the objections are set forth by Halton Co. county shareholders which have started an agitation for the repeal of the double liability section of the Bank Act. It is stated that an effort will be made to secure the repeal at the coming session of parliament which opens next Monday and that the legislation retroactive so far as the contributors to the Farmers Bank are concerned.

STARTS WORK ON ENQUIRY

Sir George Murray Will Lose No Time in Investigating Conditions of Civil Service—Appointments.

Special to The Standard.
Ottawa, Oct. 10.—Sir George Murray has already begun his investigation of the civil service under authority of the order-in-council passed yesterday or two ago. As his agreement is for a limited period, the inquiry will be continued from now on without delay.
It is understood that the order-in-council authorizing the investigation provides for a most thorough inquiry into the whole system of the Canadian civil service. Whatever weakness the system may have and whatever abuses may have crept in, will be disclosed under the investigation as provided for. Sir George Murray will study the methods employed in the transaction of public business and will familiarize himself with the scheme of control over appropriations and expenditures, together with the administrative methods and operations of the principal spending departments.
Another branch of the investigation is expected to cover the manner in which appointments to end promotions in the public service are made, the classification of staff and the way in which duties in each department are distributed. This will reveal whatever duplication of work there may be.
The powers conferred upon Sir George Murray are wide enough to cover the whole question of the manner in which the public business is administered under the existing system.

PREDICTS VICTORY FOR HOME RULE BILL

New York, Oct. 10.—W. H. K. Redmond, member of the British parliament and a brother of John Redmond, the Irish leader, left for home today on the steamer Celtic. "Ireland will have Home Rule after the coming session of parliament," said Mr. Redmond. "The demonstrations here and in America for one thing will have a great effect on the government. I have had a most successful mission."

RECEIPT FOR STANDARD OIL'S CONTRIBUTION DESTROYED

U. S. SENATE CAMPAIGN EXPENSES INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE. From Right to Left: Senators Payne, Clark (chairman), Pomeroy and Oliver.

Washington, Oct. 10.—John D. Archbold, president of the Standard Oil Company, testified to the Clapp committee today that a receipt for the late Carroll D. Bliss gave him for the company's $100,000 contribution to the Roosevelt campaign fund of 1904 had been destroyed just before the death of H. H. Rogers. "It was not a thing of pleasure to look at," said Archbold.

GIANTS WIN THIRD GAME OF SERIES FROM RED SOX

Rube Marquard Proved a Puzzler for Boston Club in Exciting Pitchers' Battle—Joe Devore Saved Situation for New York by Sensational Catch in Ninth—Teams Now Neck and Neck in Race for World's Championship.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 10.—The New York National overcame the Boston Americans today by a score of 2 to 1, in the third game of the world's baseball championship series. Each club has now won a victory, the second game having ended in a tie. Nearly 35,000 spectators witnessed the exciting battle in which the Giants' pitcher, Rube Marquard, opposed the Red Sox' most ball mousetrapper, Buck O'Brien, and Marquard carried off the honors.
Little Joseph Devore was the hero of the day. The midget outfielder made a catch that snatched seeming victory from the Bostonians and sent them down to defeat.
The Red Sox made a desperate rally in the ninth and there were men on second and third, and Devore was off to catch a terrific drive between right and centre, and Devore was off and cheered, for the two Red Sox men were on the way home and the victory seemed won when Devore speared after the ball, speared it with his gloved hand on the dead run, ending the game.
Marquard a Puzzler.
Marquard was a puzzle to the Red Sox. His fast ball speared over the plate with the swiftness of a rawhide lash, and his curves were under good control. He gave only one base on balls, in only one inning did the Red Sox have a chance to score. Marquard in trouble and that was in the thrilling ninth when Boston made its last stand and sent one runner home to the plate.
The Giants blocked and did not allow the Red Sox to garner more than one hit in any inning until the final rally. Buck O'Brien held New York to six hits, but three of these were made when they counted for runs. O'Brien found himself in difficulty a double which resulted in a run on a sacrifice hit and a sacrifice fly. He was out another two batters and came home after Meyers advanced him to third on Fletcher's signal.
Continued on page seven.

RAILWAYS MAKE A STRONG CASE

G. T. P., C. P. R. and C. N. R. Presented Good Arguments in Defence of Their Western Freight Charges.

Ottawa, Oct. 10.—With the completion of the presentation of the case for the Grand Trunk Pacific, which followed that of the Canadian Pacific Railway and Canadian Northern Railway freight inquiry, which has been in session all week before the railway board, adjourned this afternoon to meet again on Nov. 4.
Although witnesses have been called and evidence taken by all three railways, it is understood none of them have closed their cases as yet, and may call further witnesses.
However, when the inquiry opens next month the cross examination of those already heard by the array of counsel which represents the different governments and organizations interested will probably begin.
The adjournment will give the latter time to go over the mass of figures presented by the railways, including rate reductions and comparisons, statements of variations in density of traffic east and west and higher cost of operation. The general opinion is that the railways have made out a strong case against the charge of unjustifiable discrimination made against them.
Speaker's Ankle Injured.
Speaker limped through the game with a wrenched ankle but that did not prevent him from New York's half of the ninth inning from racing over toward the temporary fence and taking Fletcher's drive, belted for three bases. Then wheeling quickly Speaker threw to Stahl and doubled the inning. Meyers, who was rounding third, believed that the ball had gone to the back fence.
Herzog's rapid fire, coaching of Marquard and the Giants' infield, was no unimportant part of New York's defence. The Giants' third base guard, who showed constant encouragement to Marquard for every ball pitched and when he was not directing his coaching toward the pitcher's box he was keeping the Giants' infield keyed up to fighting pitch. Herzog brought up the Giants' box by a sacrifice hit in the second and he started the trouble for the Red Sox in the fifth by slashing out a two bagger, scoring a few minutes later on a hit.
Continued on page seven.

TWENTY-NINE HEAD OF SHEEP SOLD IN F'TON YESTERDAY

Sale Under Supervision of Dominion Sheep Breeders Association Attracted Buyers from Large Territory.

Special to The Standard.
Fredericton, Oct. 10.—Sale of sheep under the supervision of the Dominion Sheep Breeders' Association took place this afternoon at the exhibition grounds. Thirty-nine head were sold at prices ranging up to $25. The general run of prices were fair, but the date was rather early to be entirely favorable for a successful sale. Today's buyers were representative of a large territory from Victoria to Sunbury County, with one purchaser from Northumberland County and another from Nova Scotia.

MONTREAL BLOCK IS PURCHASED AT RECORD FIGURE

Corner Properties Fronting on Notre Dame Street Acquired by Montreal Trust Company at Fancy Price.

Montreal, Oct. 10.—For the property situated at the northwest corner of St. Francois Xavier and Notre Dame streets, the Montreal Trust Company paid $164,145.38 this morning, or almost $63 per square foot for the block of 200 square feet.
The same company paid $200,000 on April 22 last for that part of the Boxer estate that is situated at the southwest corner of St. James and St. Francois Xavier streets, a price that featured out at $74 per square foot for the corner. The block purchased by the Montreal Trust Company this morning is the remainder of the Boxer property, so that now the big block with frontages on St. James, St. Francois Xavier and Notre Dame streets is owned by one company.

NOBEL PRIZE FOR MEDICINE GOES TO DR. ALEXIS CARREL

Associate Member of Rockefeller Institute and Native of France Captures Reward Worth $39,000.

Stockholm, Oct. 10.—The Nobel prize for medicine this year has been awarded to Dr. Alexis Carrel, of the Rockefeller Institute, New York. The award, it is announced, is made in recognition of his achievements in the suture of blood vessels and the transplantation of organs. The Nobel prize is valued at $50,000.
Dr. Alexis Carrel was born in Salate, France, in 1873. He received his M. D. degree in 1899. He served as an intern in the hospital of Lyons and was associated with the faculty of medicine of the University of Lyons. He came to America in 1905 and has been associate member of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research since 1909.
MILK SOARS.
Montreal, Oct. 10.—Local milkmen have advised their customers of an increase in the price of bottled milk to 10 cents per quart, while cream is up ten cents a quart, to sixty.

REFUSE BAIL TO GIOVANNITTI AND JOSEPH J. ETTORE

I. W. W. Strike Leaders Held in Connection with Woman's Death During Lawrence Troubles Must Stay in Jail.

Salem, Mass., Oct. 10.—Judge Quinn of the Superior Court today declined to order the release of bail of Joseph J. Etto, Arturo Giovanni and Joseph Caruso, whose trial on charges of being responsible for the alleged murder of a woman during the St. Lawrence mill strikes.

DRAWN TIGHTER AROUND M'NAMGAL

Hotel Clerks Call Him By Different Names VISITS TIMED

Explosions Occurred in Various Cities Shortly After His Arrival—Jas. B. McNamara Adopted Alias of Frank Sullivan

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 10.—For the first time since he confessed to dynamiting, Orrie E. McNamagal, before a jury in the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today, was identified by hotel clerks as having visited various cities at times when explosions occurred. H. E. Pearce, of Kansas City, Mo., in the pages of a hotel register, traced "J. W. McGraw" as having registered at a Kansas City hotel August 20, 1910, three days before McAlmagal blew up a portion of a $1,500,000 bridge across the Missouri river, which he says was arranged for by W. Bert Brown of Kansas City and James B. McNamara.

"Do you see McGraw in the court room?" said James W. Noel, special assistant district attorney.
"That is the man," said Pearce, pointing straight to McAlmagal.
R. J. Quigley of Duluth, Minn., identified McAlmagal as a visitor at a Duluth hotel in July, 1910, shortly before an explosion at Superior, Wis.
F. W. Gates said McAlmagal was the J. G. Brice who frequently registered at a hotel at Rochester, Pennsylvania, near which later was discovered quantities of nitro glycerine in a shed.
The activities of James P. McNamara on his return to Indianapolis, after blowing up the Los Angeles Times building, were also traced in hotel registers. At the suggestion of his brother, James B. took the name of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the representations made to the press of "Frank Sullivan," dropping all the aliases he had used on the Pacific coast. H. M. Spinning, a deputy sheriff of Los Angeles court, identified photographs of both the McNamaras. This was done in the Los Angeles Times building, where also was traced the