SHIPLOAD OF FOOD
ARRIVES AT DANZIG

Paris, March 1.—Herbert Hoover, director-general of the American relief organization, today issued the following statement:

"The American steamer Westward, 110 reached Danzig yesterday, carrying tons of food for Poland, the gift of combined American committees of Jews and Poles. The food will be raised to Warsaw by rail for distribution by local committees under direction of representatives of the United States Relief Administration on the plan so successfully operated in Belgium and northern France."

"A total of 17,000 tons of food has reached Danzig for Poland during the past three weeks. This is the beginning of a total monthly program of 30,000 tons necessary, pending the 1919 crop. Other ships are enroute."

"Local co-operation is extensive and intelligent and each fresh arrival of food is received with honors by the public and is accepted as proof that America will see to it that the new republic has a chance to feed itself and quickly become self-supporting."

"The relief administration reports indicate that there is a shocking need for clothing of every sort. It is a fact that in the mining and industrial districts many women cannot leave their homes and many children cannot attend school because they have absolutely no shoes and no cloth with which to make the kind of foot wrappings still frequently seen in Belgium and northern France."

The Westward Ho sailed from Houlton Jan. 26 for a voyage to Danzig by way of Falmouth. The vessel carried a cargo worth $2,000,000, consisting of food and clothing for the suffering people of Poland. The Westward Ho was despatched by the joint distribution committee of the American Fund for Jewish Sufferers and the Polish National Committee for America.

CAMPOBELLO ISLAND

MAY BE NAVAL BASE

Rumors Down Coast That American Government Has Tried to Purchase Island With the Idea of Developing Such a Project.

London, Feb. 28.—Vague rumors, possibly without any foundation, have been current of an attempt of the American government to purchase the island of Campobello with the idea of developing a naval base. Other rumors have been to the effect that the Canadian Pacific Railway talked of connecting the island by a fleet of steamers, touching on the eastern side, and running a bridge across the three mile stretch of land to Labrador, the nearest point of the Maine Central, as affording a deep water winter port, and through connection with the west. These reports may indicate something in the way of development later, but not many people accept them as evidence of immediate business for Qooddy.

Campobello was ceded to Canada at the time of the Hay-Asquith treaty. It was agreed, according to the story from the American standpoint, of course, that the British and American envoys were coming down the St. Croix, whither they had been adjusting the boundary. It had been agreed that all land west of the natural channel of the St. Croix should be American and all to the east of the channel English. With this in mind, the forethought of the English representatives suggested that dinner be set, at which our Daniel dined not wisely, but so well that on being sailed through the artificial channel of the narrow strait, he did not know that the island was his.

YOUNG SOLDIER

LAID TO REST

Hundreds Gather at St.
Stephen to Pay Tribute of Respect to Memory of Departed Hero.

St. Stephen, March 2.—The remains of Lieut. Earl M. Scovill, arrived here from England, Saturday evening, and were conveyed to Trinity Church, where the funeral service was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The young soldier was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Scovill, and enlisted in the draft of the 56th Battalion that left St. Stephen for overseas in the summer of 1915. He saw much service in France, and had many narrow escapes from death before he returned to Canada to accept a commission as Lieutenant under Col. Guthrie, in the MacLean Rifles, with which unit he returned to England. When the Rifles were broken up, he entered the Royal Flying Corps. His contract in training was ended, and he was just ready to return again to France when he was killed in a flying accident in England, July 21st, 1918, at the age of 21 years.

Efforts to secure the return of his remains to Canada were unavailing until his commanding Col. Guthrie happened to be in England and interceded successfully with the authorities.

This funeral witnessed one of the greatest outpourings of people of all classes ever seen here, a fitting tribute to the memory of one of the best boys that left Canada to fight for King and Country. Rev. Percy Cotton officiated, assisted by Ven. Archdeacon Newham.

About 50 members of the G. W. V. A. were in line with about forty returned soldiers from Calais. Music was furnished by the Calais Band. The service at the grave was conducted by Rev. Mr. Cotton, and the Last Post was sounded by Bugler James Ryder, a returned member of the R.C.R., as the remains of the young soldier were laid to rest in mother earth.

VERY PLEASING MUSICALS.

A very pleasing musicale was given Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Bliss McLeod, Bandon Cottage, Duke Street, by some of the pupils of Mrs. Rayworth's piano class. Solos and duets were well rendered and excellent progress was shown by each performer. Tone and memory work were strong features of the evening's work. Among those taking part were the following students: Laurence Smith, Ronald Smith, Marion Smith, Ross Stewart, Kenneth Keirland, Stanley Neill, Marion Porteous, Isabelle McLean, Marjorie Baffie, Mary Rodrick, Eleanor Holter, Ellen Williams, Evelyn Hanson, Marion Henderson, Myrtle Peterson, Josephine McGuire, Helen McKay, Isabel Walker, Dorothy Nice, Sylvia Peterson, Katherine Robinson. At the close refreshments were served and a very pleasant social hour was enjoyed by all.

Lemons Beautify!

Strain lemon juice well before mixing and massage face, neck, arms, hands.

Here is told how to prepare an expensive lemon lotion which can be used to bring back to any skin the sweet freshness of which it has been robbed by trying atmospheric conditions. Windchafe, roughness, tan and redness are washed off and those tell-tale lines of care or age are softened away.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bowl containing three ounces of orchard white, makes a whole quart of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold cream. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoother and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and the lemon juice from your grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands, and see for yourself.

SUFFS REFUSED

TO LEAVE JAIL

Three Are Carried Out
Screaming and Kicking
After Stranger Had Paid
Fines.

Boston, March 1.—Three of the suffragists who were sent to the Charles street jail because they refused to pay fines imposed as a result of demonstration while President Wilson was here Monday, were forcibly ejected from the jail tonight after E. H. Sullivan paid the $15 for the three.

The state law provides that prisoners must be released immediately after their fines are paid.

Among the women were Miss Catherine Morley of Brookline, Miss Ruth Small and Miss Betty Connolly of Newton. Miss Connolly is employed as a maid in the home of Miss Small. All are members of the National Woman's party. Mr. Howe, who is unknown to the women, appeared at the jail early to night and paid the $15 for the three women. When Sheriff John A. Keller announced that their fines had been paid they declared they would not leave their cells. Two deputies were summoned for each suffragist and the women were carried out struggling and screaming and placed upon the sidewalk.

The three women announced they would picket the jail tomorrow and would consult an attorney to see if an injunction could be obtained to restrain the sheriff from accepting payment of their fines without their consent.

Fines were also paid today for Miss Martha Foley of Boston and Mrs. Lois Shaw of Manchester, N. H., who left the jail without protest. Miss Foley announced that a member of her family was ill and Mrs. Shaw said that she was needed by her five children. Ten suffragists remain in jail.

SIX TROOP TRAINS

Saturday six troop trains left the West Side, bearing the returned men from the Scottish, by through routes to their homes.

Each train was in charge of a conducting officer, a permanent staff appointment, and a representative from this city, appointed by the local military council.

The Calgary and Vancouver train was in charge of C. W. Brown; the Winnipeg and Regina train had F. H. Quintz; the Red River, the Last Post, the Toronto train; G. M. Ross; the "Y" representative on board the London train; W. F. McFarland; the Montreal train; G. M. Ross; the Kingston train; and A. M. McLeod conducted the Halifax train.

A sample of the equipment sent for the entertainment of the troops during their journey by the Red Triangle would show each train with about 20 checker boards, 18 sets of playing cards, 3 sets of dominoes, 4 sets of dominoes, 40 puzzles, 4 month organs, 100 song sheets, 4 packs of playing cards, 50 sets "Man-of-war" series, 100 postcards, 400 sets of dominoes, 200 envelopes, 400 "welcome home" booklets, 400 introduction cards, allowing a free six months' membership into any local Y. M. C. A., 1,000 cigarettes, 400 packs of chewing gum, 400 chocolate bars, 1 gramophone, 15 records, pack of needles, red or green, 2 dozen lead pencils, 25 cakes of soap, telegram books and time tables.

This is all in addition to the comforts that the "Y" tenders the men when they arrive at this port, and the open free canton, where they get all the hot coffee, tea, cakes, apples, magazines and writing paper they need.

After six days' trekking on foot, followed by seven days in a crawling train, a party of 40 British officers reached Constantinople from Yuzgud (Armenia), the remotest of all Turkish prisoner-of-war camps. It did one good, writes Mr. G. Ward Price, to see the sheer delight these weather-stained men took in meeting their fellow officers again at the Pera Palace Hotel. In three years they had not seen a real bed, for not even the elementary necessities of life were theirs. The desolation of Yuzgud, whose Armenian inhabitants had all been massacred in 1915. Until an attempt at escape was made by 26 of them, they were allowed to go out cursing with a local breed of greyhounds, and they ran their own camp entirely, but they had also seen something of the treatment of the British rank and file, such, for instance, as the fact that unless the British sergeants in charge of work parties of prisoners got the full tale of heavy work out of their men the Turks would bestialize them with whips.

CANADA TO HAVE

IMPORTANT PLACE
ON COMMISSION

Will Have a Word to Say on Problems Affecting the Economic Situation and Distribution of Materials for Reconstruction in Europe.

Paris, March 1.—(By John Dallos). The economic interest of all the British Dominions will be looked after by carefully chosen representatives, who will serve upon two powerful committees which are being constituted to deal with these questions. Yesterday afternoon, the Empire delegations, under the chairmanship of Lord Milner, gave detailed consideration as to the best means by which these ends could be served. Sir Robert Borden and Sir George Foster attended on behalf of Canada.

It was arranged that the five British members of the Supreme Economic Council should be drawn from a panel upon which all the British Dominions would be represented, and that, in addition, there would be brought into being a special British committee which would collaborate with the British representatives upon the council, in suggesting policies and formulating machinery to achieve the purpose for which the council has been appointed.

Sir George Foster will represent Canada on the British panel, and, when matters especially affecting the Dominion are being dealt with, he will serve on the council. The functions of the council, as already outlined in these despatches, are of first importance. It controls, for the period of the armistice, shipping, the extent and character of the blockade, distribution of food to all European countries, allocation of raw materials and rebuilding supplies, and has now been charged with determining to what degree this control should be continued during the reconstruction period to follow the signing of peace.

Canada, as a source of food, raw materials and supplies for rebuilding, is vitally interested in the policy of the council and the right to represent it, which has now been conceded, has been strongly pressed. Upon the economic commission, yet to be appointed to decide upon the economic provisions of a general peace treaty, are to be two representatives of the British overseas dominions, and it may be assumed that Canada will supply one of these representatives.

The commission will have a number of sub-committees, one of which will have to report on the future of the pre-war commercial treaties to which one of our countries were parties, and among the law officers to whom this work will be remitted will be Hon. Mr. Doherty, the Canadian Minister of Justice.

UNIONIST CLUB

HELD A SMOKER

Large Gathering Saturday Evening—Enthusiastic Addresses Delivered and Excellent Musical Programme Carried Through.

An enjoyable smoker was held by the Unionist Club members last Saturday evening in their hall, Market Building. James Sprout, president of the club, presided. Addresses, songs and instrumental selections whirled away a very pleasant evening.

Among the speakers was L. P. D. Tilley, M. L. A., who spoke on the housing problem in the city, and on road government. He was enthusiastically received. Then followed Commissioner John Thornton, who congratulated the club members on the progress it had attained, and wished it a future success. Dr. J. H. Manning gave a brilliant and humorous address in his own characteristic manner. Dr. Manning was well received, and the boys here to hear him in the near future again.

Other speakers were James Ames, George Akers, Jeremiah McCarthy, George Clark, H. Underhill, Arthur Blakefield, James Lewis, John Alexander, Thomas Cromwell, Isaac Mercer, Francis Kerr, George Stackhouse, Sr., George Stackhouse, Jr., E. Shepherd, Thomas Morrell, and the president, James Sprout.

Vocal selections were rendered by James Sprout, Thomas Cromwell, H. Low, William Seabury, W. C. Goldsworthy and others. The club members were very much interested in the housing problem, and the club members were very much interested in the housing problem.

The event took on the aspect of a reunion meeting when all the old timers got together for an evening of merriment and friendship. The features of the evening were the excellent addresses given by L. P. D. Tilley, M. L. A., and Dr. James Manning. Mr. Tilley in his remarks on good government added that in the ensuing time the question would be the "Man" and not the party which he represented. The most instructive and appreciative address. The numbers which followed were all of an interesting character, and all went to the credit of the Unionist Club.

Dr. Manning referred to the great era in which we are now entering, a period after a long and hard war, a period in which was opportunity, if one looked for it. The man at home had the idea that the soldier was the one to do the re-educating, while the soldier felt it was Canada which needed to be re-adjusted. The two must get together and find some common ground to work on if the future of the country was to be assured. There was a boundless opportunity for the man who was prepared to do in Canada what he did in France for Canada, and it was the duty of those at home to encourage him to do it.

He then discussed briefly some of the plans of the government, the land settlement and housing programmes, the work of the civil re-establishment department, the care of T. B. men, the work of the artificial limbs department, and the campaign to assist the aid of the fraternal and patriotic organization in the educative work of the government.

If the country was to come through this trying period then capital and labor must get together and work for a common end. Each man must fight against self and selfishness and do his task in the spirit of sacrifice shown by the men who fought and the women who prayed.

A vote of thanks was moved by E. A. Schofield and seconded by A. E. Frame. In accepting the vote of thanks, Capt. Thackery expressed the appreciation of the reparation committee for the work that St. John was doing in welcoming the returned soldiers. The singing of the National Anthem brought the meeting to a close.

REPATRIATION BY

CAPT. J. THACKERY

Good Sized Audience in Imperial Last Night Heard Interesting Lecture Under Auspices of G. W. V. A.

The lecture on "Repatriation" by Capt. J. Thackery, under the auspices of the G. W. V. A., in the Imperial Theatre last night, was attended by a good sized audience, and those present heard an eloquent appeal for a united effort on the part of all Canadians to live up to the heritage left by the 60,000 men who laid down their lives in France and Flanders, and face the reconstruction period at home with the same spirit of sacrifice which had led them to the battlefield and death.

The members of the G. W. V. A., headed by the Depot Battalion Band, marched from their rooms on Wellington Row to the theatre and occupied seats in the body of the house. Major C. J. Morgan acted as chairman, and seated on the platform were E. A. Schofield, R. E. Armstrong, J. G. Dryden, C. F. Bishop and W. A. Lawson.

In introducing the speaker Major Morgan said it was the intention of the organization from time to time to bring men to the city to deliver lectures dealing with the returned soldier problem.

Capt. Thackery said the word repatriation implied that there had been displacement and the task facing the nation now was to correct that displacement. The speaker then drew the word of the returned soldier's attention to conditions as they obtained previous to the war and to the answer from the Mother Country and the Dominions when the call went forth for help. He paid a tribute to the response of the women of England in 1915, when Lloyd George called for munition workers and no less than 80,000 responded and 10,000 had gone to France and took up the pick and shovel. Canada too, had done her share, and of the nearly 500,000 sent over 60,000 had laid down their lives in order that Christian civilization might be saved to the world. During the war Canada had not lost a single son or father and had taken every soldier home. She had proved herself equal to the task set before her, and if the problems of peace were faced with the same spirit of endurance and cheerfulness and self-sacrifice that those of the past four and a half years had been met she would come through all right.

At the present time there were two sets of ideas. The man at home had the idea that the soldier was the one to do the re-educating, while the soldier felt it was Canada which needed to be re-adjusted. The two must get together and find some common ground to work on if the future of the country was to be assured. There was a boundless opportunity for the man who was prepared to do in Canada what he did in France for Canada, and it was the duty of those at home to encourage him to do it.
