LUMBER NEWS FROM ENGLAND

The Market is Slightly Weaker and Large Supplies Are Reported from Norway and Sweden Who Can Deliver Cheaper Than Canada.

The lumber news from England is not particularly encouraging. The market is slightly weaker and large supplies are reported from Norway and Sweden, these countries being able to deliver cargoes in England at about one-third of the freight cost from this country. Another had feature of the English market, so far as Canada is concerned, is the increased demand for shipping, now that German ports are open. A shipper said to us this week that there was no telling where ocean freight would go to, perhaps 450 shillings per standard or even higher. Of course this was a mere speculation on his part, as at the present time the rate of freight by sailing vessel is 350 shillings per standard from Maritime Provinces to United Kingdom ports. The lumber business at the port of London is being handicapped by the shortage of barges and of men to man them.

The result of this situation overseas has been a slight reduction in the price of lumber here. So far, however, this reduction has not amounted to much and the trade are hopeful that the market has pretty well found its level for a time. It has not then the outlook is none too good.

The American market is taking more interest in Maritime provinces lumber today than it has been taking for some time; and the feeling is that purchases from that quarter are likely to be quite large, in the near future.
There have been a lot of enquiries so far, with regard to prices, and these indicate the trade to believe that business will likely follow.

Purely local business in lumber is somewhat quieter than it has been during the past few months, and considerably quieter than it was a year ago. The price of 2" and 3" spruce deals, f.o.b. at railway points in the country, is from $27 to $30 per standard. Hemlock is quoted at about $25 at the same points.—Maritime Merchant.

COMPLAIN ABOUT FREIGHT TRAFFIC

Transportation Companies Conducting Steamer Services Between Provinces and States Complain About Meagreness of Freight Traffic.

Transportation companies conducting steamship service between Maritime Provinces points and the United States complain about the meagreness of their freight traffic at the present time. The cost of sending money to the United States is operating against Canadian imports from that country.
With exchange at 5 per cent, or thereabouts, buyers of merchandise are disposed to think twice before sending orders across the line. Of course there are some things which they must buy over there, for even with the high exchange added the United States is still their best market, but the general tendency is to buy as little as possible, and as a result steamers running between Maritime ports and American ports are finding business disappointing. To add to the difficulty created by the exchange situation, too, the recent strikes among the building trades at various points have reduced the demand for certain kinds of material usually purchased in the States.

But it is not only the inward freight business that is dull; there is dullness also in the outward trade. Southern markets for fish are very poor; there is not at present the usual quantity going forward. This, of course, may only be a temporary lull. It may be improved. But as for imports, the outlook is not promising; for it will probably be some time yet before the balance of trade between the two countries has reached a condition where Canadians will not be penalized on very dollar's worth of purchases made in the United States.—Maritime Merchant.

BUSINESS IS REPORTED GOOD

St. John Wholesale Grocer Reports His Business
Larger Than in 1918 —
This is Also True of Halifax Jobbers.

One of the greatest surprises of the year has been the volume of merchandising which has been carried on in this country. One hears the report from people in all lines of trade. A St. John wholesale grocer was telling us the other day that large as his business had been in the first half of 1918, it has been larger still in the present year, and we fancy that what is true of this man's experience is true of all other jobbers, both in St.
John and Halifax. The extraordinary thing about it is that nobody believed it was coming. Nearly everyone thought last fall that after spring trade was over there would be a great slackening in business. Perhaps we are near the end of the activity now.
Who can tell. And yet we should not be surprised if at the end of the next quarter, Sept. 30, we should find that the three months' business had been as good as last year—possibly better—

POLICE COURT CASES YESTERDAY

John O. Stinson Fined for Assaulting Caretaker at Spruce Lake — Man for Beggings Allowed to go and Secure Work—Other Cases

John O. Stinson, of Lorneville, was in the police court yesterday afternoon charged with assaulting David Mc-Dermott, the caretaker at Spruce Lake. Stinson was fined $100. It was said that Stinson with others went to Spruce Lake property and attempted to remove a small building. The caretaker came along and there were words between them with the result that the caretaker was hit in the face.
Frank McDonald had a fine struck against him for begging, but he was allowed to go to secure work.

James Ryan, chef at the Royal Hotel, charged with assaulting a boy, Harold Scott, was fined $20. W. M.
Ryan appeared for the defendant.
Joseph Carr was sentenced to three months in the Alms House on a vagrancy charge.

George Galbraith, charged with being drunk and resisting arrest, was remanded until Saturday.

WEDDINGS.

Reid-Alaby.
At Southfield on Wednesday evening, July 23rd, at the home of the bride's mother, Mr. Ivan N. Reid and Gladys R. Alaby were united in marriage by Rev. I. E. Vanwart, of Norton. The ceremony was performed on the lawn in the presence of a large number of guests.

While the wedding march was played the bridal party took their stand under an arch of ferns and roses which was draped at top with the Union Jack and large bell.
The bride looked charming in a costume of white silk with bridal veil and wreath. After the ceremony a sumptuous tea was served.

The many presents received attested to the popularity of both. The bride being a popular school teacher and the groom a returned soldier.
