The first resolution submitted provided that a memorial be presented to the provincial synod at the next session that a canon permitting the use of the revised version in churches be amended so that the revised version as used in the American. vised version as used in the American Episcopacy may be used by this diocese.

"Lord Strathcona's attention has been called by the editor of Commercial Intelligence to the fact that the name of Canada never figures in that journal's periodica never figures in that journals performed lists of contracts open at home and abroad. With the exception of Canada all the Brit-ish colonies are frequently inviting Brit-ish manufacturers to tender for their resh manufacturers to tender for their requirements. The only explanation Lord Strathcona suggests in his reply is that it is a question of saving time in the delivery of goods. That explanation would apply to some extent to the Australian colonies, you they are frequently in the English man. yet they are frequently in the English mar-ket with more or less valuable contracts. AND HIS ACCUSER AND ENEMY,

JOHN MCKELVEY, IS SCORED

Premier Tweedie, as Commissioner, Reports That the Evidence Against the Chief Does Not Sustain the Charges, and Refers to a Plot to Oust the Chief from Office.

So St. John's police force will not be reorganized immediately and those who

A commission having issued to me under the great seal of the province of New Brunswick bearing date of the 19th day of May A. D. 190 certain charges made by John McKelvey, of St. John, against W. Walker Clark, Chief of Police of St. John for drunkenness and improper conduct in office, I have the honor to submit the full report. * * *

Both parties were represented by counsel. The taking of evidence occupied two days and forty-three witnesses were examined—seventeen on behalf of the complainant, Mr. McKelvey, and twenty-six on behalf of Chief Clark.

While sufficient evidence was given to satisfy me that on two occasions at least, namely in April, 1902, and May 12 last, the Chief was to some extent under the influence of liquor, yet, from the whole testimony adduced, I would not be warranted in finding the charges sustained.

On both these occasions, when it was alleged the chief was intoxicated, the evidence goes to show that he was quite capable of attending to business and performed his duties satisfactorily. Colonel Sturdee, one of the witnesses, states that on May 12, he had business with Chief Clark, and while he (the chief) had the appearance of having had a drink or two, he was not at all incapacitated but attended to the matters in hand promptly and properly. Deputy Chief of Police Jenkins speaks of the same occasion and states that while for three days in the early part of May the chief appeared to be stimulated with liquor, he attended to his duties

Of the seventeen witnesses examined for the complainant, ten gave testimony in favor of the chief and the other six spoke of seeing him under the influence of

The complainant in his testimony stated frankly that he had a grudge against Chief Clark by reason of his having treated him harshly at the I. C. R. station in the fall of 1899, on the departure of the first South African contingent, and from that time up to the present he was trying (to use his own language) to get square with him, and had it not been for this dispute he would never have made any charges. Some further dispute arose btween them later, at the custom house, at which time, the complainant alleged, the chief treated him very discourteously.

It was also quite evident that the complainant had been watching the chief all this time, with a view to bringing charges against him, and while the evidence was somewhat contradictory as to what actually occurred between the complainant and Policeman Crawford, still, in my opinion, there is no doubt that there was a movement on foot to have the chief dismissed from the office if charges of a sufficiently seri ons character could be formulated against him, and this explains the reason for the frequent meetings between Mr. McKelvey and Policeman Crawford. The proceedings fell through, however, by reason of Crawford refusing to make the necessary

On the part of Chief Clark twenty-six witnesses were examined, many of them being leading citizens of St. John, and each one spoke in the highest terms of his efficiency as an officer and his constant and unremitting attention to his duties.

From the testimony adduced I have no hesitation whatever in concluding that he is a most capable official, painstaking and assiduous in the performance of all the duties that devolve upon him, and while I deem it reprehensible that an officer in his position should at any time appear in public in a state of intoxication, still I do not think, under all the circumstances (and taking the reason for the charges being made against him as given by the complainant himself and coupling them with the fact that there was no evidence before me to show that he was incapable at any time of performing his duties) that the facts proved are of a sufficiently serious character to warrant my finding the said charges sustained.

I beg also to submit the evidence taken on the hearing. I have the honor to be

It may safely be said that there was t one dissenting voice heard in the

On taking up the railway commission bill in the house this afternoon W. F. MacLean proposed an amendment fixing the maximum rate of fare for passengers on Canadian railways at two cents a mile. He contended that the per cent rate was too high. The deduction in postage show ed that a reduction could be made without loss to the company.

Mr. Heyd said that the railways could not stand the reduction. On the I. C. R. alone there would be a loss of $600,000 a year through this reduction.

Mr. Davis said that the increase would hamper the farmer by increased freight rates. The farmer, who traveled very seldom, would be called upon to pay for the men who did. The amendment was defined. An amendment was made to the railway commission bill making the railway com-panies responsible for damage done by fire Another amendment required the cars to be fitted up with the necessary safety appliances. The bill was passed and stands until it is printed.
